Ramirez, Robert S. Cohen, 2012-12-06 For a North American seeking to know the Mexican mind and especially the sciences today and in their recent development a great light of genius is to be found in Mexico City in the late 17th century The genius is that of one who surely may be counted as the first Mexican philosopher of nature a nun of the Order of Saint Jerome Sor Juana Ines de la Cruz Sor Juana must speak for herself from her penetrating exercise of an independent mind within a political and religious formation which denigrated women and circumscribed reason itself To understand this world of ours to join in an enlightenment which would be both natural and inspired Sor Juana clearly understood the requirements of learning observing logic and reasoning In darkness foundering Words fail the troubled mind For who I ask can light me When Reason is blind

Even now after the great steps toward liberation of women and the substantial scientific contributions toward sheer empirical awareness of both the multiple orders of Nature and the subtle aesthetics of individual art and social harmony we too in the earthly world of the 20th century must affirm what she affirmed     The British Architect ,1890     Chemical News and Journal of Industrial Science ,1863     The Publishers Weekly ,2005     The British Magazine and Monthly Register of Religious and Ecclesiastical Information, Parochial History, and Documents Respecting the State of the Poor, Progress of Education, Etc ,1839     The British Magazine and Monthly Register of Religious and Ecclesiastical Information, Parochial History, and Documents Respecting the State of the Poor, Progress of Education, &c ,1839
