Ways with

Words Shirley Brice Heath,1983-07-07 Ways with Words first published in 1983 is a classic study of children learning to use language at home and at school in two communities only a few miles apart in the south eastern United States Roadville is a white working class community of families steeped for generations in the life of textile mills Trackton is an African American working class community whose older generations grew up farming the land but whose existent members work in the mills In tracing the children s language development the author shows the deep cultural differences between the two communities whose ways with words differ as strikingly from each other as either does from the pattern of the townspeople the mainstream blacks and whites who hold power in the schools and workplaces of the region Employing the combined skills of ethnographer social historian and teacher the author raises fundamental questions about the nature of language development the effects of literacy on oral language habits and the sources of communication problems in schools and workplaces Understanding Children's Language and Literacy Penny Mukherji, Teresa O'Dea, 2000 This text aims to assist in the understanding of the way in which children's language and literacy develops. It outlines all the key issues in the area and explains the nature of language, the theories and sequences of language development and the development of reading, writing, listening and speaking skills. The book also includes chapters on bilingualism, communication problems and working with the child who is deaf.

Language Arts Grade 9 Academic Edge Ltd, Academic Edge, Limited, 1999-01-01

Making Sense of Whole Language John W. Myers, 1993 Based on the premise that whole language is a philosophy or perspective rather than a set of practices, this fastback develops a definition of whole language, presents an information processing model of language processes and discusses theory/practice relationship and assessment as they relate to whole language. Sections of the fastback are: Making Sense of Whole Language, A Holistic View of Language, What Research Says, Theory into Practice, Whole Language Arts and Whole Language and Assessment. The pamphlet concludes that 1. theory determines practice, 2. integrated language activities are more powerful than separated ones, 3. whole language arts cut across the curriculum and 4. instructional goals should drive the assessment of language arts skills. Six figures are included and a 47-item bibliography is attached. RS
