evaluating MLIR systems The book concludes with some examples of recent applications that utilise MLIR technologies Some of the techniques described have recently started to appear in commercial search systems while others have the potential to be part of future incarnations The book is intended for graduate students scholars and practitioners with a basic understanding of classical text retrieval methods It offers guidelines and information on all aspects that need to be taken into consideration when building MLIR systems while avoiding too many hands on details that could rapidly become obsolete Thus it bridges the gap between the material covered by most of the classical IR textbooks and the novel requirements related to the acquisition and dissemination of information in whatever language it is stored Next Generation Search
