leading eighteenth century scholar will be of interest to social and literary historians The Mother / Daughter Plot Marianne Hirsch, 1989-10-22 Mothers and daughters the female figures neglected by classic psychoanalysis and submerged in traditional narrative are at the center of this book The novels of nineteenth and twentieth century women writers from the Western European and North American traditions reveal that the story of motherhood remains the unspeakable plot of Western culture Focusing on the feminine and more controversially on the maternal this book alters our perception of both the familial structures basic to traditional narrative the Oedipus story and the narrative structures basic to traditional representations of the family Freud's family romance Confronting psychoanalytic theories of subject formation with narrative theories Marianne Hirsch traces the emergence and transformation of female family romance patterns from Jane Austen to Marguerite Duras

New Visions of Community in Contemporary American Fiction Magali Cornier Michael, 2008-04 In this engaging optimistic close reading of five late twentieth century novels by American women Magali Cornier Michael illuminates the ways in which their authors engage with ideas of communal activism common commitment and social transformation The fictions she examines imagine coalition building as a means of moving toward new forms of nonhierarchical justice for ethnic cultures that as a result of racist attitudes have not been assimilated power with each other rather than power over each other is a collective goal Michael argues that much contemporary American fiction by women offers models of care and nurturing that move away from the private sphere toward the public and political Specifically texts by women from such racially marked ethnic groups as African American Asian American Native American and Mexican American draw from the rich systems of thought histories and experiences of these hybrid cultures and thus offer feminist and ethical revisions of traditional concepts of community coalition subjectivity and agency Focusing on Amy Tan's The Joy Luck Club Barbara Kingsolver's The Bean Trees and Pigs in Heaven Ana Castillo's So Far from God and Toni Morrison's Paradise Michael shows that each writer emphasizes the positive liberating effects of kinship and community These hybrid versions of community which draw from other than dominant culturally specific ideas and histories have something to offer Americans as the United States moves into an increasingly diverse twenty first century Michael provides a rich lens through which to view both contemporary fiction and contemporary life

Novel Affinities Sarah Vandegrift Eldridge, 2016 Challenges traditional novel scholarship that emphasizes the individual and the Bildungsroman broadening the focus to the family and both canonical and non canonical novels reading them together with biological legal and pedagogical texts

The Novels of Madame de Souza in Social and Political Perspective Kirsty Carpenter, 2007 Madame de Souza's seven major novels written in the period from 1794 to 1822 show the emergence of the female authored French novel and the novel's role as a vehicle for political ideas during the revolutionary period The novels Adèle de Sange Emilie et Alphonse Charles et Marie Eugénie et Mathilde Eugénie de Rothelin Mademoiselle de Tournon and La comtesse de Fargy make an important contribution to early nineteenth century French literature Madame de Souza was an acute observer of the intimate workings of Paris society and of social and political change in the years 1789-1830. Unedited extracts from her novels Etre et Paraître and other less complete manuscripts appear here in print for the first time. The author was born in 1761 and lived through the political regimes of a Revolution, Empire and Restoration, dying in Paris in 1836. She had a long life filled with friends, correspondents and travels in Britain and Europe and she was admired by literary critics like Sismondi and Marie Joseph Chénier. Until now a small amount of research has been focused on her first novel Adèle de Sangle but this book shows that this is only one of seven works that should be better known than they are at present. Select Novels, 1860

The Reign of God is Such as These Sharon Betsworth, 2010-12-02      The Cambridge Introduction to the Eighteenth-Century Novel April London, 2012-04-05. In the eighteenth century the novel became established as a popular literary form all over Europe. Britain proved an especially fertile ground with Defoe, Fielding, Richardson and Burney as early exponents of the novel form. The Cambridge Introduction to the Eighteenth-Century Novel considers the development of the genre in its formative period in Britain. Rather than present its history as a linear progression, April London gives an original new structure to the field, organizing it through three broad thematic clusters: identity, community and history. Within each of these themes she explores the central tensions of eighteenth-century fiction: between secrecy and communicativeness, independence and compliance, solitude and family, cosmopolitanism and nation building. The reader will gain a thorough understanding of both prominent and lesser-known novels and novelists, key social and literary contexts, the tremendous formal variety of the early novel and its growth from a marginal to a culturally central genre. A Multitude of Women Stefania Lucamante, 2008-01-01. A Multitude of Women looks at the ways in which both Italian literary tradition and external influences have assisted Italian women writers in rethinking the theoretical and aesthetic ties between author, text and readership in the construction of the novel. Stefania Lucamante discusses the valuable contributions that Italian women writers have made to the contemporary novel and illustrates the relevance of the novelistic examples set by their predecessors. She addresses various discursive communities, reading works by Di Lascia, Ferrante, Vinci and others with reference to intertextuality and the theories of Elsa Morante and Simone de Beauvoir. This study identifies a positive deviation from literary and ideological orthodoxy, a deviation that helps give meaning to the Italian novel and to transform the traditional notion of the canon in Italian literature. Lucamante argues that this is partly due to the merits of women writers and their ability to eschew obsolete patterns in narrative while favouring forms that are more attuned to the ever-changing needs of society. She shows that contemporary novels by women authors mirror a shift from previous trends in which the need for female emancipation interfered with the actual literary and aesthetic significance of the novel. A Multitude of Women offers a new epistemology of the novel and will appeal to those interested in women's writing, readership, Italian studies and literary studies in general. The Lives of the Novel Thomas G. Pavel, 2015-06-30. Reprint. Originally published Princeton, New Jersey: Princeton University Press, 2013. Dickens and the Daughter of the House Hilary M.
