Domestic Legal Pluralism and the International Criminal Court Justin Su-Wan Yang, 2021-09-20 This book explores how the unique historical development of Islamic Shari'a criminal law alongside English common law in northern Nigeria has created a hybridised criminal legal system through a pluralist dynamic of mutual accommodation It studies how this system may potentially be accommodated by the International Criminal Court The work examines how this could be accommodated through the current understanding and operation of complementarity and that it could ultimately prove to be preferable in encouraging the Shari'a courts to exercise criminal justice over the radical insurgents in northern Nigeria These courts would have the unprecedented ability to combine binding adjudicative judgments together with religious interpretation and guidance which can directly combat the predominantly unchallenged domain of ideology by extremist actors It is submitted that these pluralist perspectives are timely and welcome given the undeniably Western European foundations of modern International Criminal Law In exploring such potential avenues our shared understanding of modern international criminal justice is widened to necessarily include other stakeholders beyond its Western founders It is the aim and hope that such interactions and engagements with non Western traditions and cultures will lead to a greater shared ownership of the international criminal justice project which will only strengthen the global fight against impunity The book will be essential reading for academics researchers and policy makers working in the areas of International Criminal Law Legal Pluralism Islamic Shari'a Law Nigeria and religiously inspired violence

How We Preach

Eben Kanukayi Nhiwatiwa, 2016-09-01 This book is the second of two volumes on Preaching in African Context For both seasoned preachers and beginners including students in seminaries Bible colleges and universities this second volume explores how we preach and the practice of contextual preaching in Africa The two volumes go hand in hand and Nhiwatiwa demonstrates that the principles need good practice to become contextual preaching and our practice needs principles to ensure integrity Read these volumes to see why preaching is an urgent aspect of ministry that can open new horizons and give fresh outlook for the future Displacement, Elimination and Replacement of Indigenous People Jairos Kangira, Artwell Nhemachena, 2019-02-19 Colonial scholars have taken immense pleasure in portraying Africans as possessed by spirits but as lacking possession and ownership of their resources including land Erroneously deemed to be thoroughly spiritually possessed but lacking senses of material possession and ownership of resources Africans have been consistently dispossessed and displaced from the era of enslavement through colonialism to the neocolonial era Delving into the historiography of dispossession and displacement on the continent of Africa and in particular in Zimbabwe this book also tackles contemporary forms of dispossession and displacement manifesting in the ongoing transnational corporations land grabs in Africa wherein African peasants continue to be dispossessed and displaced Focusing on the topical issues around dispossession and repossession of land and the attendant displacements in contemporary Zimbabwe the book theorises displacements from a decolonial Pan Africanist perspective and it also unpacks various forms of displacements corporeal noncorporeal cognitive spiritual genealogical and linguistic displacements among others The book is an excellent read for scholars from a variety of disciplines such as Geography Sociology Social Anthropology History Linguistics Development Studies Science and technology Studies Jurisprudence and Social Theory Law and Philosophy The book also offers intellectual grit for policy makers and implementers civil society organisations including activists as well as thinkers interested in decolonisation and transformation Integral Community Ronnie Lessem, Paul Chidara Muchineripi, 2016-05-23 Integral Community moves the transformation journey for enterprises and society on from the stages covered in earlier books in Gower's Transformation and Innovation Series which describe a new macro economic framework and which have examined alternative development with different local communities bringing wide cultural perspectives to practical implementation of authentic or integral development Here the authors argue that there are two major fields of force prevailing in today's world The one reflects our common heritage whereby East and West North and South are coming ever closer together the global commons The other reflects local and national singularity where the notion of feeding off ancient local heritage and talent is key They also identify four different culturally laden worldviews as Southern humanistic Eastern holistic Northern rational and Western pragmatic The enterprise and social innovation in Africa with which Lessem's co authors are involved provides an object lesson in the sort of differentiation and integration needed in order to operate socio economically with local identity and global integrity It provides in this case a Southern worldview background against which to examine communally based self sufficiency culturally based developmental economy knowledge based social economy and finally the move towards what the authors describe as a living economy All illustrated through a rural case Chinyika with which they have been intimately involved whereby 100 000 have become self sufficient over the past five years Integral Community should be read by academics and students of business economics development studies and agriculture and by policy makers particularly those concerned with the developing world in general and Africa in particular Imperialism in the Modern World William Bowman, Frank Chiteji, J. Megan Greene, 2016-11-03 Imperialism in the Modern World combines narrative primary and secondary sources and visual documents to examine global relations in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The three co editors Professors Bowman Chiteji and Greene have taught for many years global history classes in a variety of institutions They wrote Imperialism in the Modern World to solve the problem of allowing teachers to combine primary and secondary texts easily and systematically to follow major themes in global history some readers use primary materials exclusively Some focus on secondary arguments This book is more focused than other readers on the markets for those teachers who are offering more specialized world history courses one important trend in global history is away from simply trying to cover everything to teaching real connections in more chronologically and thematically focused courses The reader also provides a genuine diversity of global perspectives and invites students to study seriously world history from a critical framework Too many readers offer a smorgasbord approach to world history that leaves students dazed and confused This reader avoids that approach and will therefore solve many problems that teachers have in constructing and teaching world history courses at the introductory or upper division levels The reader will allow show students how to read historical documents through a hands on demonstration in the introduction The book also incorporates images as visual documents Finally the book conceives of global history in the widest possible terms it contains pieces on political diplomatic economic and military history to be sure but it also has selections on technology medicine women the environment social changes and cultural patterns Other readers can not match this text s breadth because they are chronologically and thematically so extended

African-Centred Management Education David N. Abdulai, 2016-04-01 In African Centred Management Education Professor Abdulai looks critically at the failings of management education in Africa and how that has impacted growth and development efforts especially at this critical stage in the continent s positive growth and development trajectory He concludes that Africa s current positive economic growth cannot be sustained without a significant contribution from its human capital He adds that the outstanding economic record of Asian economies in recent decades dramatically illustrates how important human capital is to growth These countries lacking natural resources and importing practically all their energy requirements have grown rapidly by relying on a well trained educated and conscientious workforce Professor Abdulai believes that Africa too can sustain its current growth and development by effectively combining its abundant natural resources with its human capital to attain its economic development but this will require an African cadre of well trained managers at the helm of both private and public sector institutions For this to become a reality management education in Africa will have to play a significant role but the author argues that it cannot be effective by continually mimicking the West in the programmes it delivers It must come up with innovative and relevant pedagogy that will address the special challenges that the continent faces and deliver an African centred management education As well as pointing to the failures of management education in Africa Abdulai offers suggestions as to how to make management education really contribute to the education of Africans in order to sustain current and future development

Development Perspectives from the South Munyaradzi Mawere, 2016-12-14 Not so long ago the Economist Newspaper described Africa as a hopeless continent This damning description specifically referred to the development status of Africa While the debate on the political and socio economic under development of Africa had been raging on prior to the Economists daring but controversial pronouncements it intensified from thereon Many concerned people from within the continent and elsewhere have reproofed the proclamation but mainly in newspapers and the broadcast media Not enough has been done by development scholars to critically reflect on the description and status of Africas development condition in a nuanced and systematic fashion Yet it is through incisive reflections and systematic engagements with Africas situations and circumstances that directions and solutions to the African development predicament could be forged The present volume is an attempt to open up a constructive dialogue between the Global North and the Global South on the African under development conundrum The book is an eye opener to African governments social scientists policy makers and development scholars concerned with the urgent need to rethink reimagine and retheorise Africas development gridlock

Monasticism in Modern Times Isabelle Jonveaux, Stefania Palmisano, 2016-10-14 This book presents a broad sociological perspective on the contemporary issues facing Christian monasticism Since the founding work of Max Weber the sociology of monasticism has received little attention However the field is now being revitalized by some new research Focusing on Christian monks and nuns the contributors explore continuity and discontinuity with the past in what superficially might appear a monolithic tradition Contributors speak not only about monasticism in Europe and the United States but also in Africa and Latin America a different landscape where the question of recruitment does not figure among issues considered as problematic
