Unctad Trade And Development Report 2007:

trade and development report, 2008 United Nations, World Investment Report 2007 Transnational Corporations, Extractive Industries and Development United Nations, 2008 Trade and Development Report, 2010, 2010 The 2010 Report focuses on the need to make employment creation a priority in economic policy Unemployment is the most pressing social and economic problem of our time not least because especially in developing countries it is closely related to poverty The fallout from the global crisis has exacerbated what were already sluggish labour markets in most countries even before the crisis erupted It also warns that a premature withdrawal of macroeconomic stimulus measures to expand demand in developed countries may trigger a deflationary spiral in the global economy with attendant slumps in growth and employment The publication draws attention to the importance of strengthening the macroeconomic policy framework to promote sustainable growth and employment creation in both developed and developing countries and makes recommendations for a reorientation of macroeconomic policies and institution building aimed at strengthening domestic demand

Trade and Industrial Development in Africa Moyo, Theresa, 2015-03-02 This book revisits the perennial challenge that scholars economists and politicians have been grappling with since the 1960s Development in this book has been defined in a context that projects it as a multidimensional and complex process which seeks to enhance the human social economic and cultural welfare of the people This book calls for a rethinking of trade and industry for Africa s development It uses data drawn from national development plans and strategies and trade and industry issues have been prioritized at the continental level in key policy documents On the whole Africa s industry and trade performance have been poor in spite of national regional and continental plans The contributors to this volume propose some alternative strategies and policies which are necessary for trade and industry to grow and to contribute to the well being of Africa s people It calls for a developmental trade and industry policy which fundamentally must be people centred African states should invest time energy and resources to develop policies which will take into consideration African realities The different contributors are aware that Africa has experienced strong economic growth in the recent past but this growth has largely been due to a strong demand for Africa s primary commodity exports It has also been a result of increases in productivity and domestic investment and remittances from Africans living in the Diaspora It is important to note that despite this unprecedented growth performance the impact of trade and industry on development has been limited The book argues that a structural transformation of Africa s economies is inevitable if Africa is to achieve the shift from the dominant paradigm of production and export of primary goods The various contributors to this book agree that there is need to rethink policy and strategy in order to achieve industrial development in Africa There is no unique solution or answer that can fit all situations as African countries are not the same While Africa can draw lessons from other regions which have successfully industrialized this book argues that policies and strategies will have to be adapted to country specific situations and circumstances Competition

Law, Technology Transfer and the TRIPS Agreement Tu Thanh Nguyen, 2010-01-01 The book deals with a difficult subject with an assured touch and will be a valuable text for postgraduate students policy makers and practitioners European Intellectual Property Review This is the first ever book that addresses the important issue of the competition law intellectual property and trade interface in a developing world context The book s unique contribution is a set of comparative case studies on this complex interface D Daniel Sokol University of Florida Levin College of Law US The book investigates competition law and international technology transfer in the light of the TRIPS Agreement and the experience of both developed and developing countries On that basis it draws relevant implications for developing countries Tu Thanh Nguyen argues that technology transfer related competition law should be glocalized appropriately for the needs of local contexts while intellectual property rights IPR are globalized The book reveals that developing countries according to the TRIPS Agreement have the right to use domestic competition law to promote access to technology in order to protect national interests and consumer welfare However competition law is antitrust It is neither anti IPR nor anti trade The author finds that developing countries with limited competition law resources should set realistic priorities for the control of technology transfer related anti competitive practices They can reasonably apply and adapt relevant regulations decisions and judgments from developed country jurisdictions to their own circumstances Competition Law Technology Transfer and the TRIPs Agreement is a timely resource for postgraduate students practitioners and scholars in international competition law IPR and technology transfer Policymakers in the field of technology transfer related competition law policy especially in developing countries will also find this book invaluable

Latin America in the Vortex of Social Change Henry Veltmeyer, James Petras, 2019-04-10 This book explores the dynamics of the recent progressive cycle in Latin American politics associated with a red and pink tide of regime change With this cycle of centre left regimes oriented towards an alternative post neoliberal form of development now coming to an end coinciding with the end of a primary commodities boom the demand for natural resources exported in primary form on the world market the authors seek to explore the dynamics of the transition from a progressive cycle of regimes oriented towards the search for a more inclusive form of development towards what appears to be another swing in the pendulum of electoral politics towards the far right and a return to neoliberal orthodoxy Within the vortex of forces of change pushing towards both the Left and the Right Latin America lies at the centre of ongoing heated theoretical and political debates as to how to bring about a more inclusive and sustainable form of post neoliberal and post capitalist development Latin America in the Vortex of Social Change crucially aims to cut through these debates and explore the dynamics of the forces of change at work in the current conjuncture of capitalist development With reference to a theoretical framework based on the interaction of three different forms of capitalism capitalism as usual extractive capitalism narco capitalism the authors proceed to an analysis of the development and resistance dynamics of the development process that is unfolding on the Latin American political landscape The book will appeal to scholars of political sociology and political theory with an interest in the political economy of development and Latin American affairs Handbook of Research on Information Management and the Global Landscape Hunter, M. Gordon, Tan, Felix B., 2008-12-31 Explores the many issues surrounding living and working in a global environment Relates how necessary it is for companies to conduct business while taking a global perspective to their operations Making Global Trade Governance Work for Development Carolyn Deere Birkbeck, 2011-08-18 Discussion of the governance of global trade and the multilateral trading system is too often dominated by developed country scholars and opinion makers with inadequate attention given to developing country perspectives Making Global Trade Governance Work for Development gathers a diversity of developing country views on how to improve the governance of global trade and the WTO to better advance sustainable development and respond to the needs of developing countries With contributions by senior scholars commentators and practitioners the essays combine new empirically grounded research with practical insights about the trade policy making process They consider the specific governance issues of interest to developing countries and acknowledge the changing dynamics in the global economy and in trade decision making SouthSouth Trade and Finance in the Twenty-First Century Omar Dahi, Firat Demir, 2016-10-10 This book is a contribution to the international trade and economic development literature and is based on a decade of joint research and collaboration on South South economic relations Given the increasing focus on the economic power of some developing countries for example the 2013 Human Development Report s Rise of the South it is particularly appropriate and timely NP The book s findings are based on rigorous empirical examination of South South trade and finance and it provides an even handed assessment from the perspective of long term development goals rather than mainstream welfare approaches or ideological theoretical worldview NP This work directly engages with the new developmentalism literature that has challenged the neoliberal orthodoxy and its policy approach which focuses on liberalization privatization and deregulation It also engages with literature by examining whether the increase in South South trade facilitates or inhibits the possibilities for developmentalist economic policy in developing countries The book shows concrete and positive results from South South trade particularly related to industrial development and also documents how South South trade is dominated by large developing countries and that South South trade liberalization may be counterproductive Cities in a World Economy Saskia Sassen, 2018-05-30 Cities in a World Economy examines the emergence of global cities as a new social formation As sites of rapid and widespread developments in the areas of finance information and people global cities lie at the core of the major processes of globalization The book features a cross disciplinary approach to urban sociology using global examples and discusses the impact of global processes on the social structure of cities The Fifth Edition reflects the most current data available and explores recent debates such as the role of cities in mitigating environmental problems the global refugee crisis Brexit and the rise of Donald Trump in the United States Global Shift, Sixth Edition Peter Dicken, 2011-02-25 Widely adopted throughout the world this definitive text comprehensively examines how the global economy works and its effects on people and places Peter Dicken provides a balanced yet critical analysis of globalization processes and debates The text synthesizes a wealth of data on production distribution consumption and innovation including detailed case studies of key global industries Students learn how the global economic map is being shaped and reshaped by dynamic interactions among transnational corporations states consumers labor and civil society organizations Useful features include nearly 250 quick reference figures and tables The companion website offers PowerPoint slides of the figures and tables additional case studies and questions annotated Web links and more New to This Edition Revised throughout to incorporate the latest ideas in the field gives increased attention to global production networks as a major organizing principle Addresses the current global financial crisis Chapter on environmental impacts of global production networks Case study chapter on the extractive industries Fully updated empirical data additional maps and charts

Mining for Change John Page, Finn Tarp, 2020 For a growing number of countries in Africa the discovery and exploitation of natural resources is a great opportunity but one accompanied by considerable risks This book presents research on how to better manage the revenues and opportunities associated with natural resources

Regional Economic Integration and the Global Financial System Sorhun, Engin, Hac?o?lu, Ümit, Dinçer, Hasan, 2014-11-30 In theory regionalism and globalization are intended to be viewed as two separate concepts However as long as the approaches complement each other considering these paradigms in tandem can have significantly positive effects on the overall status of the world economy Regional Economy Integration and the Global Financial System addresses recent trends in regional integration projects and the strides that such projects are making on the road toward globalization Focusing on a range of economic projects emerging supranational units and possible implications for future trends this book is an essential reference source for professionals scholars and institutions interested in the dynamic effects of regionalism and globalization
