South African Defence Force Application Forms 2015:

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming, the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged, HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence, security and civil military relations of countries around the world.

The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces Evert Kleyhans, Marco Wyss, 2025-03-01 The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces provides the first in-depth and multifaceted analysis of the evolution and current state of national defence policies, strategies, doctrines, capabilities, security challenges and strategic responses of African states and their armed forces. Geographically, these aspects are investigated at the national, sub-regional and regional levels. Chronologically, they are analysed against the backdrop of the superpower withdrawal from the continent in the 1990s and the so-called New Scramble for Africa, which has seen a crescendo of renewed great power interest in the continent's resources as well as its strategic role, location and relevance since the 2000s. The book takes a bottom-up and African-centric approach and is organized around five key themes: i) the differing security outlooks and defence policies of African powers within the region and the different sub-regions; ii) the strategies, doctrines, transformation and employment of African armed forces; iii) the relationship between African armed forces with sub-regional, regional and international organizations; iv) the challenges that African states and their armed forces have been facing and their strategic responses; and v) the position of African perspectives and agency in the context of continental and international security and defence. Understanding African security and defence, especially in terms of each individual nation's ability to contribute to peacekeeping operations, counterterrorism, border security and internal security, requires a focus on the national level of armed forces and defence policies. This in turn sheds light on sub-regional and regional divergences, challenges and cooperation. Based on this framework, the chapters in this volume offer comprehensive African perspectives on African and international security and defence and in doing so show the agency of the continent's countries and armed forces in International Security and

Relations Private Military and Security Contractors Gary Schaub, Jr., Ryan Keltz, 2016-06-16 In Private Military and Security Contractors PMSCs a multinational team of scholars and experts address a developing phenomenon controlling the use of privatized force by states in international politics Robust analyses of the evolving multi layered tapestry of formal and informal mechanisms of control address the microfoundations of the market such as the social and role identities of contract employees their acceptance by military personnel and potential tensions between them The extent and willingness of key states South Africa the United States Canada the United Kingdom and Israel to monitor and enforce discipline to structure their contractual relations with PMSCs on land and at sea is examined as is the ability of the industry to regulate itself Also discussed is the nascent international legal regime to reinforce state and industry efforts to encourage effective practices punish inappropriate behavior and shape the market to minimize the hazards of loosening states oligopolistic control over the means of legitimate organized violence The volume presents a theoretically informed synthesis of micro and macro levels of analysis offering new insights into the challenges of controlling the agents of organized violence used by states for scholars and practitioners alike Understanding the Age of Transitional Justice Nanci Adler, 2018-06-22 No detailed description available for Understanding the Age of Transitional Justice Replicating & Reproducing Policing Research Khadija Monk, Jacek Koziarski, 2024-04-30 This book addresses the need for policing scholarship to strengthen its empirical cumulative knowledge base by replicating and reproducing earlier studies The chapters in this volume advance policing research by replicating and reproducing earlier studies investigating the generalizability of research findings and making data and research methods available to other researchers to encourage scientific exploration of previous research findings Each chapter addresses important scientific goals of validity reliability and generalizability which build our cumulative knowledge of what is known in policing research ultimately informing policymaking The book offers insights into why replicating and reproducing policing scholarship is critical from emphasizing the importance of making data and study material publicly available to facilitate replications and reproductions to reproducing studies in new contexts and cautioning against making policy making decisions based on studies that have not been replicated This volume highlights the immense value in shifting researchers priorities even slightly to focus less so on originality and innovation to make room for replications and reproductions thereby shedding light on how true empirical knowledge on policing and police practice is dependent on it This book was originally published as a special issue of Police Practice and Research Geopolitics and Development Marcus Power, 2019-01-25 Geopolitics and Development examines the historical emergence of development as a form of governmentality from the end of empire to the Cold War and the War on Terror It illustrates the various ways in which the meanings and relations of development as a discourse an apparatus and an aspiration have been geopolitically imagined and enframed The book traces some of the multiple historical associations between development and diplomacy and seeks to underline the centrality of questions of territory security statehood and sovereignty to the pursuit of development along with its enrolment in various bordering practices In making a case for greater attention to the evolving nexus between geopolitics and development and with particular reference to Africa the book explores the historical and contemporary geopolitics of foreign aid the interconnections between development and counterinsurgency the role of the state and social movements in reimagining development the rise of reemerging donors like China India and Brazil and the growing significance of South South flows of investment trade and development cooperation Drawing on post colonial and postdevelopment approaches and on some of the author's own original empirical research this is an essential critical and interdisciplinary analysis of the complex and dynamic political geographies of global development Primarily intended for scholars and post graduate students in development studies human geography African studies and international relations this book provides an engaging invaluable and up to date resource for making sense of the complex entanglement between geopolitics and development past and present Military Assistance on Request and the Use of Force Erika De

Wet, 2020-03-26 In countries such as Syria Iraq South Sudan and Yemen internationally recognized governments embroiled in protracted armed conflicts and with very little control over their territory have requested direct military assistance from other states These requests are often accepted by the other states despite the circumvention of the United Nations Security Council and extensive violation of international humanitarian law and human rights In this book Erika De Wet examines the authority entitled to extend a request for or consent to direct military assistance as well as the type of situations during which such assistance may be requested notably whether it may be requested during a civil war Ultimately De Wet addresses the question of if and to what extent the proliferation of military assistance on the request of a recognized government is changing the rules in international law applying to the use of force Intra-Africa Migrations Innocent Moyo, Jussi P.

Laine, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, 2021-02-21 This book discusses regional and continental integration in Africa by examining the management of migration across the continent It examines borders and securitisation of migration and the challenges and opportunities that arise out of reconfigured continental demographics The book offers insights on intra Africa migrations and highlights how intra continental migration creates socio economic and cultural borders It explores how these borders beyond the physical boundaries of states including the Berlin Conference constructed borders create cultural divides challenges for economic integration and cross border security and irregular migration patterns While the movement of economic goods is valued for regional economic integration the mobility of people is seen as a threat This approach to migration contradicts the intentions of true integration and development and triggers negative responses such as xenophobia that cannot be addressed by simply managing the physical border and allowing free movement This book engages in a pivotal discussion of these issues which are hitherto missing in African border studies by demonstrating the ubiquity and overreaching influence of various kinds of borders on the African continent With multidisciplinary contributions that provide an in depth understanding of intra Africa migrations and strategies for enhanced migration management this book will be a useful resource for scholars and students studying geography politics security studies development studies African studies and sociology ICCWS 2019 14th International Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security Noëlle van der

Counter-Insurgency in Nigeria Akali Omeni, 2017-09-08 This book offers a detailed examination of the counter insurgency operations undertaken by the Nigerian military against Boko Haram between 2011 and 2017 Based on extensive fieldwork conducted with military units in Nigeria Counter Insurgency in Nigeria has two main aims First it seeks to provide an understanding of the Nigerian military's internal role a role that today as a result of internal threats pivots towards counter insurgency The book illustrates how organizational culture historical experience institutions and doctrine are critical to understanding the Nigerian military and its attitudes and actions against the threat of civil disobedience today and in the past The second aim of the book is to examine the Nigerian military campaign against Boko Haram insurgents specifically plans and operations between June 2011 and April 2017 Within this second theme emphasis is placed on the idea of battlefield innovation and the reorganization within the Nigerian military since 2013 as the Nigerian Army and Air Force recalibrated themselves for COIN warfare A certain mystique has surrounded the technicalities of COIN operations by the Army against Boko Haram and this book aims to disperse that veil of secrecy Furthermore the work s analysis of the air force s role in counter insurgency is unprecedented within the literature on military warfare in Nigeria This book will be of great interest to students of military studies counter insurgency counter terrorism African politics and security studies in general

The United Nations Security Council and the Authorisation of Force Marko Svicevic, 2025-08-07 This book examines the United Nations Security Council's authorisation of the use of force considering the extensive body of UN Security Council resolutions across its now eighty years of existence As one of the established exceptions to the Article 2 4 UN Charter prohibition on the use of force UN Security Council authorisation of force remains a key focus for both States and scholars alike Despite the apparent consequences of authorisation authorising resolutions lack prescribed formats or mandatory content The UN Security Council has over time however developed a consistent practice of prior explicit authorisation The development of this practice is reflected in a number of essential characteristics within authorising resolutions of the UN Security Council These include explicit determinations of a threat to international peace and security the invocation of Chapter VII or VIII of the UN Charter the use of specific authorising language the inclusion of time or functional limits on authorisation and the imposition of reporting obligations on those authorised to use force The book ultimately argues that prior explicit authorisation constitutes a well established practice rejecting the legality and admissibility of implicit and retroactive authorisation

Peacekeeping in Africa Marco Jowell, 2018-02-21 In recent decades African states have developed an impressive infrastructure for training their peacekeepers In addition peacekeeping peacebuilding and associated areas of conflict resolution have become significant areas of employment Marco Jowell has spent a decade working in peacekeeping training in East Africa initially as one of the foreign Technical Advisers at the Peace Support Operations PSO training centre in Kenya the International Peace Support Training Centre IPSTC and subsequently as a strategic adviser to the Rwanda Peace Academy Using first hand experience he considers how military forces from a variety of African states with great differences in history language and political systems and with militaries with different cultures and capabilities can conduct complicated multinational peacekeeping operations He shows how regional peacekeeping training centres provide an environment for African elites predominately military to interact with each other through shared training and experiences This process of interaction or socialisation improves skills but also encourages cohesion so that future African led missions will be managed by well trained officers who are comfortable and willing to work within a regional or Pan African framework Jowell shows that part of the aim of peacekeeping training centres is to foster a Pan African outward looking ideology or disposition as well as improving technical ability This book will be essential reading for all involved with African military and security studies and analysts of peacekeeping training and operations Military Review ,2016 Civil Society and Transitional Justice in Asia and the Pacific Claire Cronin,Lia Kent,JoAnne

Wallis,2019-01-01 Over the last two decades civil society has helped catalyse responses to the legacies of violent conflicts and oppressive political regimes in Asia and the Pacific Civil society has advocated for the establishment of criminal trials and truth commissions monitored their operations and pushed for take up of their recommendations It has also initiated community based transitional justice responses Yet there has been little in depth examination of the breadth and diversity of these roles This book addresses this gap by analysing the heterogeneity of civil society transitional justice activity in Asia and the Pacific Based upon empirically grounded case studies of Timor Leste Indonesia Cambodia Myanmar Bougainville Solomon Islands and Fiji this book illustrates that civil society actors can have different and sometimes competing priorities resources and approaches to transitional justice Their work is also underpinned by diverse understandings of justice By reflecting on the richness of this activity this book advances contemporary debates about transitional justice and civil society It will also be a valuable resource for scholars and practitioners working on Asia and the Pacific For an Anti-capitalist Psychology of Community Nick Malherbe,2022-04-22 Anti capitalist political struggle is a site of struggling psychologies Conscious political action is never far from unconscious desire and the fight for material justice is always also the fight for dignity and psychological well being Yet how might community psychologists conceive of their discipline in a way that opposes the very capitalist political economy that historically most of the psy disciplines have bolstered in return for disciplinary legitimacy In its consideration of an anti capitalist psychology of community this book does not ignore or try to resolve the contradictory position of such a psychology Instead it draws on these contradictions to enliven psychology to the shifting demands both creative and destructive of a community centred anti capitalism Using practical examples the book deals with the psychological components of building community centred social movements that challenge neoliberal capitalism as a political system an ideology and a mode of governing rationality The book also offers several theoretical contributions that grapple with how an anti capitalist psychology of community can remain attentive to the psychological elements of anti capitalist struggle what the psychological can tell us about anti capitalist politics and how these politics can shape the psychological
