Patuleia,2024 Oceanic Strategy Vidhan Pathak,Raghvendra Kumar,2024-12-03 This book introduces the concept of oceanic strategy expanding beyond traditional maritime and naval perspectives to include political economic socio cultural and ecological dimensions It highlights the Indian Ocean Region as a critical arena for global power competition where the abundance of resources strategic significance and emerging interests have made it a new frontier for opportunity growth and conflict By incorporating aspects like oceanic security resource exploration the blue economy and hydrography the book presents a broader view of strategic thought and the role of oceanic spaces in national and global geopolitics Focusing on key players such as India China the US and other traditional and emerging powers the book analyses the reorientation of national interests and the intensifying struggle for dominance in the Indian Ocean It argues that control over this region is crucial for attaining influence in 21st century geopolitics The work also addresses non traditional security threats like piracy and transnational crime situating the Indian Ocean at the heart of modern geopolitical discourse This book is an essential resource for students and scholars of international relations strategic studies and political science offering critical insights into the evolving power dynamics shaping the future of the Indian Ocean Region Smart, Sustainable Manufacturing in an Ever-Changing World Konrad von Leipzig,Natasha Sacks,Michelle Mc Clelland,2023-03-03 This book presents recent developments research results and industrial experience to increase the knowledge base of academics and industry In a small world where trade is the new global driving force conquering countries and continents alike international competitiveness is becoming the ultimate challenge It requires high quality products manufactured with state of the art technologies at low cost under the assumption of highly efficient operations management as well as clear corporate goals and strategy This in turn is based on improved engineering training and education relevant applied research and an active interaction between academia and industry Capacity Building for Maritime Security Christian Bueger,Timothy

Edmunds,Robert McCabe,2020-10-09 This book studies recent attempts to restructure maritime security sectors through capacity building It innovates both theoretically and empirically It proposes a new framework for understanding maritime capacity building drawing on work in peacebuilding and security sector reform The framework is then applied across empirical case studies from the Western Indian Ocean WIO region written by scholars from the Global South The WIO region is a paradigmatic case to study maritime security and capacity building in action Countries in the region face the full gamut of maritime security challenges while their indigenous capacities to deal with these are often weak In consequence the region functions as an engine of innovation for maritime capacity building more widely The lessons and best practices from the region have importance consequences for addressing maritime security across the globe The Blue Economy in Sub-Saharan Africa DONALD L. SPARKS,2021-06-16 The blue economy comprising coastal and marine resources offers vast benefits for sub Saharan Africa of the 53 countries and territories in the region 32 are coastal states there are 13 million sq km of maritime zones more than 90% of the region s exports and imports come by sea and the African Union hails the blue economy as the new frontier of African renaissance Despite their importance the region s coastal and marine resources have been neither fully appreciated nor fully utilized They are only now being recognized as being key to Africa s potential prosperity As the region grows it has in general not taken adequate safeguards to protect these valuable resources That is partly because some of the problems pollution for example are regional and know no borders All too often short term gains are made at the expense of the long term overfishing for example This book provides for the first time a study of the constraints and opportunities the blue economy offers for sub Saharan Africa It includes an introduction and overview sectoral analyses including tourism fisheries mineral resources culture shipping and maritime safety country case studies and analyses of regional and international efforts towards better coastal zone and marine management Global Challenges in Maritime Security Lisa Otto, 2020-04-21 From pirates to smugglers migrants to hackers from stolen fish to smuggled drugs the sea is becoming a place of increasing importance on the global agenda as criminals use it as a theatre to conduct their crimes unfettered This volume sets out to provide an introduction to the key issues of pertinence in Maritime Security today It demonstrates why the sea is a space of great strategic importance and how threats to security at sea have a real impact for people around the world It examines an array of challenges and threats to security playing out at sea including illegal unreported and unregulated fishing irregular migration piracy smuggling of illicit goods and cyber security while also looking at some of the mechanism and role players involved in addressing these perils Each chapter provides an overview of the issue it discusses and provides a brief case study to illustrate how this issue is playing out in real life This book thus allows readers an insight into this evolving multidisciplinary field of study As such it makes for an informative read for academics and practitioners alike as well as policymakers and students offering a well rounded introduction of the main issues in current Maritime Security The Economics of Defense Industry Thomas-Durell Young, 2023-10-17 This book on the economics of defence industry assesses a series of historical and contemporary case studies that consistently demonstrate the need for governments to recognise and thereafter factor the financial needs of a narrow industrial sector that is capital intensive technologically advanced and that requires a highly skilled labour force Since the end of the cold war Western governments have systematically reduced financial support to their domestic defence industry and have seemingly ignored planning and funding industrial mobilisation In all cases government policy has been to encourage industries to consolidate capacity to become financially viable in a sector that has seen diminished demand The 2022 Russian invasion of Ukraine has caused Western governments to reassess their previous assumptions Efforts to increase industrial capacity have been met with the iron laws of economics whereby businesses need to show return on investments The chapters in this volume posit that efforts to rationalise industrial capacity and innovation to meet short term financial efficiencies inevitably results in limited expensive and long delays in increased production in times of international crisis This book serves as an essential guide for academics researchers and students interested in defence economics industrial economics international relations and industrial policy The chapters in this book were originally published in various issues of Defense Security Analysis

Small Navies Michael Mulqueen, Deborah Sanders, Ian Speller, 2016-04-01 Whilst maritime studies tend to reflect the dominance of large navies history shows how relatively small naval forces can have a disproportionately large impact on global events From Confederate commerce raiders in the nineteenth century to Somali pirates today even the most minor of maritime forces can become a key player on a global stage Examining a broad range of examples this volume addresses the roles and activities of small navies in the past and the present at the national regional and international level In particular it focusses on the different ways in which such forces have identified and addressed national and international security challenges and the way in which they interact with other navies and security agencies In addition the collection also investigates the relationship of such navies with non governmental organisations institutions and bodies in pursuit of broader maritime goals be they political financial or environmental Adopting an interdisciplinary approach drawing on the best new research from the fields of international relations security studies strategic studies and maritime history the book examines the diversity of experience amongst different smaller navies and also establishes areas of similarity Divided into two sections part one begins with a number of chapters that are theoretical in nature whilst part two provides case studies that offer a more regional focus including analysis of the challenges facing contemporary navies and historical case studies designed to reveal the experience of small navies over time By adopting an approach that combines historical considerations with analysis of current events the collection offers a unique perspective on the role that small navies have played in wider nautical affairs and their continued impact upon global maritime strategies
