Innovations in Computerized Assessment Fritz Drasgow, Julie B. Olson-Buchanan, 1999-03-01 Computerized assessment offers many opportunities for innovations in measurement In contrast to static paper and pencil instruments computerized assessment can capitalize on the dynamic capabilities of the computer For example the difficulty of administered items can be adopted to the ability of the examinee thus eliminating items that are too hard or too easy Multimedia computers provide the opportunity to revolutionize assessment Stereo sound animation and full motion video can be incorporated into assessment tools and aid in the measurement of individual differences ranging from musical skills to interpersonal abilities Innovations in Computerized Assessment presents the experiences of leading researchers in computerized assessment The book places particular emphasis on the dilemmas that were faced by the researchers Questions addressed include What problems did they confront What were the pros and cons of various options How were dilemmas resolved Were the solutions good ones

Tests and Measurements in the Improvement of Learning Ernest Walter Tieg, 1939 A new textbook reflecting the contemporary trend away from the statistical and test description methods of presenting courses in measurement prevailing at the time of the appearance of the author's original text on measurement almost a decade ago and marking a shift to approaches based upon the activities and problems of the educational program There is little test description in the present volume The emphasis is rather upon the diagnosis of teaching difficulties and the direction of learning at the different school levels and the employment of measurement procedures in the solution of supervisory and administrative problems Part I embodies a brief introductory survey of the history of measurement the limitations of traditional procedures and the outlook for the use of modern techniques in the improvement of learning Part II comprising chapters 2-13 is an extended treatment of the problems of diagnosis and appraisal of learning in all its aspects at the primary elementary secondary and higher levels Part III presenting an appraisal of the educational program is concerned with the statistical concepts involved in measurement and the implications of the measurement program in the general management and direction of educational activities Each of the 18 chapters includes a set of questions and exercises and a selected bibliography and the final chapter is made up of frequently asked questions together with brief answers about tests and measurements The text is illustrated and indexed
