honoured idols have to be discarded in the process After all it is not the duty of science to defend the theory of evolution and stick by it to the bitter end no matter what illogical and unsupported conclusions it offers If in the process of impartial scientific logic they find that creation by outside intelligence is the solution to our quandary then Let s cut the umbilical cord that ties us down to Darwin for such a long time It is choking us and holding us back Every single concept advanced by the theory of evolution and amended thereafter is imaginary as it is not supported by the scientifically established probability concepts Darwin was wrong The theory of evolution may be the worst mistake made in science I L Cohen Darwin Was Wrong A Study in Probabilities PO Box 231 Greenvale New York 11548 New Research Publications Inc pp 6 8 209 210 214 215 I L Cohen Member of the New York Academy of Sciences and Officer of the Archaeological Institute of America Gender and Our Brains Gina Rippon,2020-07-07 A breakthrough work in neuroscience and an incisive corrective to a long history of damaging pseudoscience that finally debunks the myth that there is a hardwired distinction between male and female brains We live in a gendered world where we are ceaselessly bombarded by messages about sex and gender On a daily basis we face deeply ingrained beliefs that sex determines our skills and preferences from toys and colors to career choice and salaries But what does this constant gendering mean for our thoughts decisions and behavior And what does it mean for our brains Drawing on her work as a professor of cognitive neuroimaging Gina Rippon unpacks the stereotypes that surround us from our earliest moments and shows how these messages mold our ideas of ourselves and even shape our brains By exploring new cutting edge neuroscience Rippon urges us to move beyond a binary view of the brain and to see instead this complex organ as highly individualized profoundly adaptable and full of unbounded potential Rigorous timely and liberating Gender and Our Brains has huge implications for women and men for parents and children and for how we identify ourselves

The Scientification of Religion Kocku von Stuckrad,2014-05-08 The enigmatic relation between religion and science still presents a challenge to European societies and to ideas about what it means to be modern This book argues that European secularism rather than pushing back religious truth claims in fact has been religiously productive itself The institutional establishment of new disciplines in the nineteenth century such as religious studies anthropology psychology classical studies and the study of various religious traditions led to a professionalization of knowledge about religion that in turn attributed new meanings to religion This attribution of meaning resulted in the emergence of new religious identities and practices In a dynamic that is closely linked to this discursive change the natural sciences adopted religious and metaphysical claims and integrated them in their framework of meaning resulting in a special form of scientific religiosity that has gained much influence in the twentieth century Applying methods that come from historical discourse analysis the book demonstrates that religious semantics have been reconfigured in the secular sciences Ultimately the scientification of religion perpetuated religious truth claims under conditions of secularism
