The Catholic And The War:

The Catholic and the War Hilaire Belloc, 1940 The Origins of War Matthew A. Shadle, 2011-03-10 Debate rages within the Catholic Church about the ethics of war and peace but the simple question of why wars begin is too often neglected Catholics assumptions about the causes of conflict are almost always drawn uncritically from international relations theory a field dominated by liberalism realism and Marxism which is not always consistent with Catholic theology In The Origins of War Matthew A Shadle examines several sources to better understand why war happens His retrieval of biblical literature and the teachings of figures from church tradition sets the course for the book Shadle then explores the growing awareness of historical consciousness within the Catholic tradition the way beliefs and actions are shaped by time place and culture He examines the work of contemporary Catholic thinkers like Pope John Paul II Jacques Maritain John Courtney Murray Dorothy Day Brian Hehir and George Weigel In the constructive part of the book Shadle analyzes the movement within international relations theory known as constructivism which proposes that war is largely governed by a set of socially constructed and cultural influences Constructivism Shadle claims presents a way of interpreting international politics that is highly amenable to a Catholic worldview and can provide a new direction for the Christian vocation of peacemaking

Confronting the Nazi War on Christianity Richard Bonney,2009 Contemporaries and historians have found it difficult to interpret the ambiguous relationship between National Socialism and Christianity Both the Catholic and Protestant Churches tended to agree with National Socialists in their authoritarianism their attacks on socialism and communism and their campaign against the Versailles Treaty but the doctrinal position of the Churches could not be reconciled with the principle of racism a foreign policy of unlimited aggressive warfare or a domestic agenda involving the complete subservience of Church to State Important sections of the Nazi Party sought the complete extirpation of Christianity and its substitution by a purely racial religion but considerations of expediency made it impossible for the National Socialist leadership to adopt this radical anti Christian stance as official policy The Kulturkampf Newsletters which have not appeared in English since the 1930s were produced by German Catholic exiles in France They scrupulously document the tensions between various strands of Nazi policy and the nature of the policy eventually adopted this was to reduce the Churches influence in all areas of public life through the use of every available means yet without provoking the difficulties diplomatic as well as domestic which an openly declared war of extermination might have caused
