The Blood Oranges A Novel:

The Blood Oranges John Hawkes, 1971 Need I insist that the only enemy of the mature marriage is monogamy That anything less than sexual multiplicity is naive That our sexual selves are merely idylers in a vast wood Thus the central theme of John Hawkes's widely acclaimed novel The Blood Oranges is boldly asserted by its narrator Cyril the archetypal multisexualist Likening himself to a white bull on Love's tapestry he pursues his romantic vision in a primitive Mediterranean landscape There two couples Cyril and Fiona Hugh and Catherine mingle their loves in an Illyria that brings to mind the equally timeless countryside of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night

Innocence, Power, and the Novels of John Hawkes Rita Ferrari, 1996-08-29 For over forty years John Hawkes has created fictions remarkable for their stylistic beauty and narrative experimentation Rita Ferrari's Innocence Power and the Novels of John Hawkes is an unprecedented exploration of Hawkes's sixteen novels and novellas

Patell, 1994 Volume VII of the Cambridge History of American Literature examines a broad range of American literature of the past half century revealing complex relations to changes in society Christopher Bigsby discusses American dramatists from Tennessee Williams to August Wilson showing how innovations in theatre anticipated a world of emerging countercultures and provided America with an alternative view of contemporary life Morris Dickstein describes the condition of rebellion in fiction from 1940 to 1970 linking writers as diverse as James Baldwin and John Updike John Burt examines writers of the American South describing the tensions between modernization and continued entanglements with the past Wendy Steiner examines the postmodern fictions since 1970 and shows how the questioning of artistic assumptions has broadened the canon of American literature Finally Cyrus Patell highlights the voices of Native American Asian American Chicano gay and lesbian writers often marginalized but here discussed within and against a broad set of national traditions

The Pleasures and Horrors of Eating Marion Gymnich, Norbert Lennartz, 2010 Browsing through books and TV channels we find people pre occupied with eating cooking and competing with chefs Eating and food in today's media have become a form of entertainment and art A survey of literary history and culture shows to what extent eating used to be closely related to all areas of human life to religion eroticism and even to death In this volume early modern ideas of feasting banqueting and culinary pleasures are juxtaposed with post 18th and 19th century concepts in which the intake of food is increasingly subjected to moral theological and economic reservations In a wide range of essays various images rhetorics and poetics of plenty are not only contrasted with the horrors of gluttony they are also seen in the context of modern phenomena such as the anorexic body or the gourmandizing bête humaine It is this vexing binary approach to eating and food which this volume traces within a wide chronological framework and which is at the core not only of literature art and film but also of a flourishing popular culture

of fetishism as a strategy for expressing social and political discontent in American literature and for negotiating traumatic experiences particular to the second half of the twentieth century Review of Contemporary Fiction, 1983 Novel

Arguments Richard Walsh, 1995-09-29 Novel arguments argues that innovative fiction by which is meant writing that has been variously labeled postmodern metafictional experimental extends our ways of thinking about the world and rejects the critical consensus that under the rubrics of postmodernism and metafiction homogenizes this fiction as autonomous and self absorbed Play self consciousness and immanence supposed symptoms of innovative fiction s autonomy are here reconsidered as integral to its means of engagement The book advances a concept of the argument of fiction as a construct wedding structure and content into a highly evolved and expressive experimental form Close readings of five important innovative novels by Donald Barthelme Ishmael Reed Robert Coover Walter Abish and Kathy Acker show how they articulate matters of substance social engagement and ideological currency by virtue of the act of innovation Walsh deftly argues for a new understanding of fictional cognition at the theoretical level and in an act of great critical creativity discards altogether the flattening totalities of received postmodern formulations Tropical and Subtropical Fruit Crops Debashis

Mandal, Ursula Wermund, Lop Phavaphutanon, Regina Cronje, 2023-06-30 This new volume is a rich and comprehensive resource of the basic information and latest developments and research efforts on tropical and subtropical fruits It presents an extensive overview of crop production techniques processing marketing breeding efforts harvesting postharvest handling pest and disease management and more of banana citrus durian grapes guava jackfruit litchi mango and papaya
