The Carhullan Army English Edition:

Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 James Acheson, 2017-01-17 Focuses on the novels published since 2000 by twenty major British novelists. The Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 is divided into five parts with the first part examining the work of four particularly well known and highly regarded twenty first century writers Ian McEwan David Mitchell Hilary Mantel and Zadie Smith. It is with reference to each of these novelists in turn that the terms arealist apostmodernist ahistorical and apostcolonialist fiction are introduced while in the remaining four parts other novelists are discussed and the meaning of the terms amplified. From the start it is emphasised that these terms and others often mean different things to different novelists and that the complexity of their novels often obliges us to discuss their work with reference to more than one of the terms. Also discusses the works of Maggie O'Farrell Sarah Hall A L Kennedy Alan Warner Ali Smith Kazuo Ishiguro Kate Atkinson Salman Rushdie Adam Foulds Sarah Waters James Robertson Mohsin Hamid Andrea Levy and Aminatta Forna.

Rewriting the North Chloe Ashbridge, 2023-05-15 This book shows how twenty first century writing about Northern England imagines alternative democratic futures for the region and the English nation signalling the growing awareness of England as a distinct and variegated political formation. In 2016 the Brexit vote intensified ongoing constitutional tensions throughout the UK which have been developing since the devolution of Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland in 1997. At the same time British devolution developed a distinctively cultural registration as a surrogate for parliamentary representation and an attempt to disrupt the status of London as Britain's cultural epicentre. Rewriting the North shifts this debate in a new direction examining Northern literary preoccupation with devolution's constitutional implications. Through close readings of six contemporary authors Sunjeev Sahota Sarah Hall Anthony Cartwright Adam Thorpe Fiona Mozley and Sarah Moss this book argues that literary engagement with the North emphasises regional devolution's limited constitutional charge calling instead for an urgent abandonment of the British centralised state form.

Climate Crisis and the 21st-Century British Novel Astrid Bracke, 2017-11-02 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com. The challenge of rapid climate change is forcing us to rethink traditional attitudes to nature. This book is the first study to chart these changing attitudes in 21st century British fiction. Climate Crisis and the 21st Century British Novel examines twelve works that reflect growing cultural awareness of climate crisis and participate in the reshaping of the stories that surround it. Central to this renegotiation are four narratives: environmental collapse, pastoral, urban and polar. Bringing ecocriticism into dialogue with narratology and a new body of contemporary writing, Astrid Bracke explores a wide range of texts from Zadie Smith's NW through Sarah Hall's The Carhullan Army and David Mitchell's Cloud Atlas to the work of a new generation of novelists such as Melissa Harrison and Ross Raisin. As the book shows, post-millennial fictions provide the imaginative space in which to rethink the stories we tell about ourselves and the natural world in a time of crisis.

Rethinking Contemporary British

Women's Writing Emilie Walezak, 2021-08-26 Providing close readings of well known British realist writers including Pat Barker A S Byatt Rose Tremain Sarah Hall Bernadine Evaristo and Zadie Smith this book uses new directions in material and posthuman feminism to examine how contemporary women writers explore the challenges we collectively face today Walezak redresses negative assumptions about realism's alleged conservatism and demonstrates the vitality and relevance of the realist genre in experimenting with the connections between individual and collective voices human and non human meditations local and global scales and author and reader Considering how contemporary realist writing is attuned to pressing issues including globalization climate change and interconnectivity this book provides innovative new ways of reading realism examines how these writers are looking to reinvent the genre and shows how realism helps reimagine our place in the world

The Posthuman Condition in 21st Century Literature and Culture María Ferrández-Sanmiguel, Esther Muñoz-González, Carmen Laguarda-Bueno, 2025-06-18 More than a decade after its first definitions critical posthumanism has become consolidated as a key discourse for the understanding of our contemporary state of being within what has been called the paradigm of posthumanity but also crucially as an ideology and a praxis that guides our engagements with the world around us This double dimension characterizes the contributions to this volume They resort to critical posthumanism in its most recent developments as a set of tools for critical and cultural analysis of our posthuman times as posthumanist concerns manifest in our cultural products This volume studies the most recent evolutions in the field of critical posthumanism as represented in key novels and other screened popular cultural products produced in the first and second decades of the twenty first century Resorting to the analytical tools provided by critical posthumanist theory in cross disciplinary dialogue with other fields such as transhumanism feminist gender and queer theory vulnerability studies new materialism critical animal studies and environmental theory the scholars whose work this volume showcases bear witness to how literature and popular culture have been influenced and impressed by posthumanism Chapters 1 5 7 8 and 12 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via Springerlink

Experiencing Gender Rocío Carrasco-Carrasco, 2015-10-13 This book provides comprehensive insights into the concept of gender in an international context By focusing on diverse and varied critical approaches it explores how gender identities are shaped by socio cultural factors and provides a map of how gender experiences are understood and represented in the arts and society Through an analysis of both focal and local experiences of gender within a global context the contributions to this volume create a continuum in which gender and experience stand at a crossroads within the arts Moreover this crossroads intersects with the cultural determinations that some of the contributors explore in a critical way Consequently this volume represents a necessary contribution to the new maps of gender that are currently being set for the future The book will appeal to academic scholars interested in the articulation of gender in traditional discourses as well as the many deconstructions that have been undertaken in the recent past and the present In addition the volume is suitable for use in programmes and modules for undergraduate students of feminist and gender studies cultural studies sociology literature and popular culture among other disciplines

Extraterritorial Matthew Hart, 2020-08-25 The future of fiction is neither global nor national Instead Matthew Hart argues it is trending extraterritorial Extraterritorial spaces fall outside of national borders but enhance state power They cut across geography and history but do not point the way to a borderless new world They range from the United Nations headquarters and international waters to CIA black sites and the departure zones at international airports The political geography of the present Hart shows has come to resemble a patchwork of such spaces Hart reveals extraterritoriality's centrality to twenty first century art and fiction He shows how extraterritorial fictions expose the way states construct global space in their own interests Extraterritorial novels teach us not to mistake cracks or gradations in political geography for a crisis of the state Hart demonstrates how the unstable character of many twenty first century aesthetic forms can be traced to the increasingly extraterritorial nature of contemporary political geography Discussing writers such as Margaret Atwood J G Ballard Amitav Ghosh Chang rae Lee Hilary Mantel and China Mi ville as well as artists like Hito Steyerl and Mark Wallinger Hart combines lively critical readings of contemporary novels with historical and theoretical discussions about sovereignty globalization cosmopolitanism and postcolonialism Extraterritorial presents a new theory of literature that explains what happens when dreams of an open connected world confront the reality of mobile elastic and tenacious borders

Resistant Reproductions Fran Bigman, 2024-03-29 Resistant Reproductions asks why narratives of pregnancy and abortion emerged in the early twentieth century and what kinds of stories these narratives conveyed Is it only once pregnancy becomes plannable that it becomes a story worth telling Abortion is often considered resistant and feminist while pregnancy is considered domestic and conventional How can readings of literary narratives challenge this reductive binary Resistant Reproductions the first book length study of both pregnancy and abortion in British culture addresses these questions by examining pregnancy narratives including abortion narratives in British fiction and film from 1907 to 1967 Fiction became a way for writers to explore what new possibilities of reproductive control would mean for the individual yet there was also much anxiety about who would have control individuals or the state While exploring intimate personal experiences of pregnancy and abortion Resistant Reproductions also asks how literary narratives used reproductive plots to address political issues of gender class and eugenics

The Cambridge Companion to British Fiction: 1980-2018 Peter Boxall, 2019-06-27 From 1980 to the present huge transformations have occurred in every area of British cultural life The election of Margaret Thatcher in 1979 ushered in a new neoliberal era in politics and economics that dramatically reshaped the British landscape Alongside this political shift we have seen transformations to the public sphere caused by the arrival of the internet and of social media and changes in the global balance of power brought about by the emergence of China and India as superpowers and latterly the British vote to leave the European Union British fiction of the period is intimately interwoven with these historical shifts This collection brings together some of the most penetrating critics of the contemporary to explore the role that the British novel has had in shaping the cultural landscape of our time at a moment in the wake of the EU referendum of 2016 when the question of what it means to be British has become newly urgent Feminism's Queer Temporalities Sam McBean, 2015-07-16 Despite feminism's uneven movements it has been predominantly understood through metaphors of generations or waves Feminism's Queer Temporalities builds on critiques of the limitations of this linear model to explore alternative ways of imagining feminism's timing It finds in feminism's literary and cultural archive narratives of temporality that might now be diagnosed as queer where queer designates modes of being historical that exceed the linear and the generational Few theorists have looked to popular feminist figures literature and culture to theorize feminism's timing Through methodologically creative readings McBean explores non generational anti linear and asynchronous time in the figure of Antigone Marge Piercy's Woman on the Edge of Time the film Ladies and Gentlemen The Fabulous Stains Valerie Solanas and SCUM Manifesto and Alison Bechdel's Fun Home The first to substantially bring together the ways in which time has come to matter in both feminist and queer disciplines this book will appeal to students and scholars of feminist queer and gender studies cultural studies and literary studies
