X-kit Undergraduate Achmat Fish, 2006 Mergers and Alliances in Higher Education Adrian Curaj, Luke Georghiou, Jennifer Cassingena Harper, Eva Egron-Polak, 2015-03-31 This volume casts light on mergers and alliances in higher education by examining developments of this type in different countries. It combines the direct experiences of those at the heart of such transformations university leaders and senior officials responsible for higher education policy with expert analysts of the systems concerned. Higher education in Europe faces a series of major challenges. The economic crisis has accelerated expectations of an increased role in addressing economic and societal challenges while at the same time putting pressure on available finances. Broader trends such as shifting student demographics and expectations, globalisation and mobility and new ways of working with business have contributed to these increased pressures. In the light of these trends there have been moves both from national or regional agencies and from individual institutions to respond by combining resources either through collaborative arrangements or more fundamentally through mergers between two or more universities. After an introductory chapter by the editors which establishes the context for mergers and alliances the book falls into two main parts. Part 1 takes a national or regional perspective to give some sense of the historical context, the wider drivers and the importance of these developments in these cases. Included are both systemic accounts for countries as France, Sweden, Romania, Russia, Wales and England and specific cross-cutting initiatives including a major facility at Magurele in Romania and a Spanish programme for promoting international campuses of excellence. Part 2 is built from specific cases of universities either in mergers or alliances with examples from different countries such as France, UK, Romania, Spain, Germany, Denmark, Finland, Switzerland. A concluding chapter by the editors assesses these experiences and indicates the implications and future needs for understanding in this domain. SAMT, 1992-07 Siviele Ingenieur in Suid-Afrika, 1985

The contributors engage the reader painstakingly in the dynamics of professional learning and effective teaching. This volume facilitates the examination of the need for reflection that leads to professional maturity. All educational institutions seek teachers who continuously search for effective strategies in improving student success. The contributors uncover a variety of approaches as they evince proven suggestions. The chapters are refreshing and edifying. This book is essential for all teachers, lecturers and trainers who want to improve their teaching practice immensely.
