Handbook of Medieval Culture. Volume 2 Albrecht Classen, 2015-08-31

A follow up publication to the Handbook of Medieval Studies this new reference work turns to a different focus: medieval culture. Medieval research has grown tremendously in depth and breadth over the last decades. Particularly our understanding of medieval culture of the basic living conditions and the specific value system prevalent at that time has considerably expanded to a point where we are in danger of no longer seeing the proverbial forest for the trees. The present innovative handbook offers compact articles on essential topics: ideals, specific knowledge and concepts defining the medieval world as comprehensively as possible. The topics covered in this new handbook pertain to issues such as love and marriage, belief in God, hell and the devil, education, lordship and servitude, Christianity versus Judaism and Islam, health, medicine, the rural world, the rise of the urban class, travel, roads and bridges, entertainment, games and sport activities, numbers, measuring the education system, the papacy, saints, the senses, death and money.

Ecclesiastical Lordship, Seigneurial Power and the Commercialization of Milling in Medieval England Adam Lucas, 2016-04-29

This is the first detailed study of the role of the Church in the commercialization of milling in medieval England. Focusing on the period from the late eleventh to the mid sixteenth centuries, it examines the estate management practices of more than thirty English religious houses founded by the Benedictines, Cistercians, Augustinians and other minor orders, with an emphasis on the role played by mills and milling in the establishment and development of a range of different sized episcopal and conventual foundations. Contrary to the views espoused by a number of prominent historians of technology since the 1930s, the book demonstrates that patterns of mill acquisition, innovation and exploitation were shaped not only by the size, wealth and distribution of a house's estates, but also by environmental and demographic factors, changing cultural attitudes and legal conventions prevailing and emergent technical traditions, the personal relations of a house with its patrons, tenants, servants and neighbours, and the entrepreneurial and administrative flair of bishops, abbots, priors and other ecclesiastical officials.

Religious Men and Masculine Identity in the Middle Ages P. H. Cullum, Katherine J. Lewis, 2013

Essays offering new approaches to the changing forms of medieval religious masculinity. The complex relationship between masculinity and religion as experienced in both the secular and ecclesiastical worlds forms the focus for this volume, whose range encompasses the rabbis of the Babylonian and Palestinian Talmud and moves via Carolingian and Norman France, Siena, Antioch and high and late medieval England to the eve of the Reformation. Chapters investigate the creation and reconstitution of different expressions of masculine identity.

from the clerical enthusiasts for marriage to the lay practitioners of chastity from crusading bishops to holy kings They also consider the extent to which lay and clerical understandings of masculinity existed in an unstable dialectical relationship at times sharing similar features at others pointedly different co-opting and rejecting features of the other the articles show this interplay to be more far more complicated than a simple linear narrative of either increasing divergence or of clerical colonization of lay masculinity They also challenge conventional historiographies of the adoption of clerical celibacy of the decline of monasticism and the gendered nature of piety Patricia Cullum is Head of History at the University of Huddersfield Katherine J Lewis is Senior Lecturer in History at the University of Huddersfield Contributors James G Clark P H Cullum Kirsten A Fenton Joanna Huntington Katherine J Lewis Matthew Mesley Catherine Sanok Michael L Satlow Rachel Stone Jennifer D Thibodeaux Marita von Weissenberg
