The Big Sleep:

The Big Sleep David Thomson, 2020-10-15 The Big Sleep Marlowe and Vivian practising kissing General Sternwood shivering in a hothouse full of orchids a screenplay co written by Faulkner famously mysterious and difficult to solve Released in 1946 Howard Hawks adaptation of Raymond Chandler reunited Bogart and Bacall and gave them two of their most famous roles The mercurial but ever manipulative Hawks dredged humour and happiness out of film noir Give him a story about more murders than anyone can keep up with or explain David Thomson writes in his compelling study of the film and somehow he made a paradise When it was first shown to a military audience The Big Sleep was coldly received So as Thomson reveals Hawks shot extra scenes fun scenes to replace one in which the film's murders had been explained and in so doing left the plot unresolved Thomson argues that if this was accidental it also signalled a change in the nature of Hollywood cinema The Big Sleep inaugurates a post modern camp satirical view of movies being about other movies that extends to the New Wave and Pulp Fiction

The narrative weaves a complex tapestry of intrigue rich with atmospheric descriptions and sharp incisive dialogue that illuminates the moral ambiguity of its characters. Chandler masterfully employs a first person perspective that immerses the reader in the protagonist's wry observations reflecting both the era's disillusionment and the labyrinthine nature of crime and corruption that defines the narrative's essence. Set in the late 1930s this work encapsulates a pivotal moment in American literature where the detective genre transcended mere entertainment to explore deeper societal issues reinforced by Chandler's innovative use of style and structure. Raymond Chandler, a British born American author, was heavily influenced by his own experiences in the world of corporate America and the turmoil of the Great Depression. His keen understanding of both the seedy and sophisticated elements of Los Angeles society provided a fertile ground for crafting layered characters and intricate plots. This background coupled with a tumultuous personal life drove Chandler to create a poignant exploration of justice in a morally gray world establishing his place as a foundational figure in crime literature. The Big Sleep is essential reading for anyone interested in the evolution of the detective novel offering not only an engaging mystery but also profound insights into human nature and societal flaws. Chandler's vivid prose and Marlowe's unforgettable character render this work a timeless classic inviting readers to ponder the ambiguities of morality while being entertained by an intricately plotted narrative.

Solomon,2017-08 During more than two decades 1932 1954 William Faulkner worked on approximately fifty screenplays for studios including MGM 20th Century Fox and Warner Bros and was credited on such classic films as The Big Sleep and To Have and Have Not The scripts that Faulkner wrote for film and later on television constitute an extensive and until now thoroughly underexplored archival source Stefan Solomon not only analyzes the majority of these scripts but compares them to the novels and short stories Faulkner was writing at the same time Solomon's aim is to reconcile two aspects of a career that were not as distinct as they first might seem Faulkner as a screenwriter and Faulkner as a high modernist Nobel Prize winning author Faulkner's Hollywood sojourns took place during a period roughly bounded by the publication of Light in August 1932 and A Fable 1954 and that also saw the publication of Absalom Absalom Go Down Moses and Intruder in the Dust As Solomon shows Faulkner attuning himself to the idiosyncrasies of the screenwriting process a craft he never favored or admired he offers insights into Faulkner's compositional practice thematic preoccupations and understanding of both classic cinema and the emerging medium of television In the midst of this complex exchange of media and genres much of Faulkner's fiction of the 1930s and 1940s was directly influenced by his protracted engagement with the film industry Solomon helps us to see a corpus integrating two vastly different modes of writing and a restless author sensitive to the different demands of each Faulkner was never simply the southern novelist or the West Coast hack writer but always both at once Solomon's study shows that Faulkner's screenplays are crucial in any consideration of his far more esteemed fiction and that the two forms of writing are more porous and intertwined than the author himself would have us believe Here is a major American writer seen in a remarkably new way

The Essence of Film Noir Diana Royer,2022-06-07 American classic films noir beginning with 1941's The Maltese Falcon and ending with 1950's Sunset Boulevard and the neo noir films made from the 1970s onward share certain thematic aspects stylistic qualities and cultural contexts Their concern with politics their depiction of con artists and the way their characters are shaped by America's puritanical religious roots show that these films are examples of a unique American genre even when the films directors are German emigres with artistic roots in European Expressionism The films psychological depth is revealed stylistically through complex narratives with select directors generating visual poetry as they deal with sex violence and betrayal Some films are based on popular novels inspired by true crime cases A unique approach to film noir scholarship this book discusses the genre's thematic aspects cultural contexts and stylistic qualities For those films based upon novels in depth analysis of the fiction is provided alongside the film version resulting in a fuller more thorough understanding of the genre
