The Bell Tower, the Original Classic Short Story Herman Melville, 2015-03-21 In the south of Europe nigh a once frescoed capital now with dank mould cankering its bloom central in a plain stands what at distance seems the black mossed stump of some immeasurable pine fallen in forgotten days with Anak and the Titan As all along where the pine tree falls its dissolution leaves a mossy mound last flung shadow of the perished trunk never lengthening never lessening unsubject to the fleet falsities of the sun shade immutable and true gauge which cometh by prostration so westward from what seems the stump one steadfast spear of lichen'd ruin veins the plain From that tree top what birded chimes of silver throats had rung A stone pine a metallic aviary in its crown the Bell Tower built by the great mechanician the unblest foundling Bannadonna Like Babel's its base was laid in a high hour of renovated earth following the second deluge when the waters of the Dark Ages had dried up and once more the green appeared No wonder that after so long and deep submersion the jubilant expectation of the race should as with Noah's sons soar into Shinar aspiration In firm resolve no man in Europe at that period went beyond Bannadonna Enriched through commerce with the Levant the state in which he lived voted to have the noblest Bell Tower in Italy His repute assigned him to be architect Stone by stone month by month the tower rose Higher higher snail like in pace but torch or rocket in its pride

Melville's Short Fiction, 1853-1856 William B. Dillingham, 2008 This study treats comprehensively the sixteen short works of fiction that Herman Melville wrote between 1853 and 1856 most of which were published in Harper's and Putnam's magazines Concentrating on the writer's two basic motivations for writing as he did in these stories Dillingham argues that Melville created a surface of almost inane congeniality in many of the works an illusion of vapidty that camouflages a profundity often missed by his readers He sought to to hide disturbing themes because the magazines for which he was writing would almost certainly have rejected his attempts to be more direct Dillingham s method is not however confined to a reading of the texts Melville s stories contain so many allusions to the contemporary scene that they constitute in themselves a cultural study An important contribution of Melville s Short Fiction is its discussion of these allusions Finally Dillingham examines the relationship between the short fiction and Melville s own life Much of the writer s frustration and struggle is concealed in these early works Melville s friendship with Hawthorne for example an intense and yet in some ways disappointing relationship for both men is explored as an important influence on several of the stories

Motherless Creations Wendy C. Nielsen,2022-05-30 This book explains the elimination of maternal characters in American British French and German literature before 1890 by examining motherless creations Pygmalion s statue Frankenstein s creature homunculi automata androids golems and steam men These beings typify what is now called artificial life living systems made through manufactured means Fantasies about creating life ex utero were built upon misconceptions about how life began sustaining pseudoscientific beliefs about the birthing body Physicians inventors and authors of literature imagined generating life without women to control the process of reproduction and generate perfect progeny Thus some speculative fiction before 1890 belongs to the literary genealogy of transhumanism the belief that technology will someday transform some humans into superior immortal beings Female motherless creations tend to operate as sexual companions Male ones often emerge as subaltern figures analogous to enslaved beings illustrating that reproductive rights inform readers sense of who counts as human in fictions of artificial life The Sound of Culture Louis Chude-Sokei,2015-12-29 The Sound of Culture explores the histories of race and technology in a world made by slavery colonialism and industrialization Beginning in the late nineteenth century and moving through to the twenty first the book argues for the dependent nature of those histories Looking at American British and Caribbean literature it distills a diverse range of subject matter minstrelsy Victorian science fiction cybertheory and artificial intelligence All of these facets according to Louis Chude Sokei are part of a history in which music has been central to the equation that links blacks and machines As Chude Sokei shows science fiction itself has roots in racial anxieties and he traces those anxieties across two centuries and a range of writers and thinkers from Samuel Butler Herman Melville and Edgar Rice Burroughs to Sigmund Freud William Gibson and Donna Haraway to Norbert Weiner Sylvia Wynter and Samuel R Delany Novel Ideas-Fantasy Brian M. Thomsen,Martin H. Greenberg,2006-03-07 How do novels get their start The answers to that question often prove as varied as the authors who create them In Novel Ideas Fantasy seven of the genre s most talented tellers of tale are represented by eight masterful short works many of them award winners which laid the groundwork for some of the most acclaimed fantasy novels and series in the field Novel Ideas-Science Fiction Brian M. Thomsen,2006-04-04 For the first time in one volume seven classic award winning stories which were the genesis for some of the most memorable novels and series in the field of science fiction Studies in Short Fiction ,1970
