University Engagement With Socially Excluded Communities:

University Engagement With Socially Excluded Communities Paul Benneworth, 2012-11-13 This volume provides insightful analysis of the way higher education engages with socially excluded communities. Leading researchers and commentators examine the validity of the claim that universities can be active facilitators of social mobility, opening access to the knowledge economy for formerly excluded groups. The authors assess the extent to which the Academy can deliver on its promise to build bridges with communities whose young people often assume that higher education lies beyond their ambitions. The chapters map the core dynamics of the relationship between higher education and communities which have bucked the more general trend of rapidly rising student numbers. Contributors also take the opportunity to reflect on the potential impact of these dynamics on the evolution of the university's role as a social institution. The volume was inspired by a symposium attended by a wide spectrum of participants including government senior university managers, academic researchers and community groups based in areas suffering from social exclusion. It makes a substantive contribution to an under-researched field with authors seeking to both shape solutions as well as better diagnose the problem. Some chapters include valuable contextual analysis using empirical data from North America, Europe and Australia to add substance to the debates on policy and theory. The volume seeks to offer a defining intellectual statement on the interaction between the concept of a university and those communities historically missing from higher education participation; the volume deepens our understanding of what might characterise an engaged university and strengthens the theoretical foundations of the topic.

Knowledge Mobilisation and Social Sciences Jon Bannister, Irene Hardill, 2016-03-17 The essays presented in this volume examine knowledge mobilisation and its relation to research impact and engagement. The social sciences matter because they can help us to understand and address the complex challenges confronting society. This is particularly true in an era of significant downward pressure on public expenditure, a consequence of the global fiscal crisis when there is a striking need to ensure that policies are demonstrably effective and efficient. The impact agenda in the UK reflected in parallel global debates actively encourages the social sciences to make and demonstrate a difference to justify and protect social science funding. This volume shows how knowledge mobilisation can be thought of systematically as a process encompassing engagement leading to the co-production and channelling of knowledge to make a difference in the economy and society. This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Social Science: Universities and Regional Development Rómulo Pinheiro, Paul Benneworth, Glen Alan Jones, 2012. In a systematic, critical and comparative manner, Universities and Regional Development shows internal and external audiences why, how and when higher education's regional development efforts should take place.

The Palgrave Handbook of Minority Entrepreneurship Thomas M. Cooney, 2021-04-17 Bringing much-needed clarity and definition to the term minority entrepreneur, this authoritative and timely handbook explores the distinctive challenges that minority communities face when founding and managing new ventures. The handbook is inclusive of any community who might be considered disadvantaged or under represented in terms of entrepreneurial activity and included are women youths seniors disabled immigrants Indigenous peoples LBGTQ ex offenders Roma refugees and many others Chapters highlight the idiosyncratic nature of the many communities examined before offering frameworks and models that draw together the various findings With a cast of international contributors this scholarly handbook discusses the surrounding literature of minority entrepreneurship and takes an all encompassing approach to its interpretation It also addresses the sorely under researched area of entrepreneurial behaviour among minorities and disadvantaged groups This is particularly important for policymakers tasked with designing and delivering initiatives that are appropriate for the needs of these communities Ultimately this handbook contributes to existing knowledge by providing a current understanding of the literature for each of the communities investigating the uniqueness of the entrepreneurial behaviour within the communities offering new frameworks models from which future researchers can build new knowledge The handbook provides a comprehensive account of an important and fast emerging field of entrepreneurship and is an invaluable resource for students researchers and policymakers

The Impact of Covid-19 on the Institutional Fabric of Higher Education Rómulo Pinheiro, Elizabeth Balbachevsky, Pundy Pillay, Akiyoshi Yonezawa, 2023-07-19 This open access book assesses how the Covid 19 pandemic caught higher education systems throughout the world by surprise It maps out the responses of higher education institutions to the challenges and strategic opportunities brought about by the pandemic and examines the effects such responses may have Bringing together scholars and case studies from Europe Asia Africa and the Americas the book is both comparative and global in nature It also brings together researchers from a variety of disciplinary fields including political scientists historians economists sociologist and anthropologists In doing so the book fosters an inter disciplinary dialogue and inclusive methodological approach for unpacking the complexities associated with modern higher education systems and institutions

The Responsible University Mads P. Sørensen, Lars Geschwind, Jouni Kekäle, Rómulo Pinheiro, 2019-12-03 This book explores how the notion of the responsible university manifests itself at various levels within Nordic higher education As the impetus of the knowledge society has catapulted the higher education sector to the forefront of policy agendas universities and other types of higher education institutions face increasing scrutiny assessment and accountability This book examines this phenomenon using the Nordic countries as cases in point given the strong public commitment towards widening participation and public research investments The editors and contributors analyse the history and current transformations of the idea of the responsible university investigate new innovations in the educational landscape and look into how universities have begun to organise themselves to become more responsible Drawing together scholars from the humanities and the social sciences this interdisciplinary collection will be of interest and value to students and scholars of the role and nature of the modern university in addition to practitioners and policy makers tasked with finding solutions to address the competing and often contradictory demands posed by a responsibility agenda

Developmental Universities in Inclusive Innovation Systems Rodrigo Arocena,Bo Göransson,Judith Sutz,2017-10-17 This book analyzes the current trends in the production dissemination and use of knowledge which contribute to social inequalities especially in the Global South The aim of the text is to explore the possibilities of active involvement by universities in the democratization of knowledge a process by which people will be able to more easily acquire and utilize knowledge as well as the results and benefits of research and development Combining higher education research and knowledge utilization is what universities should be doing When they efficiently contribute to overcoming inequality and underdevelopment they may be considered developmental universities They should not function in solitude with privileged elites alone but in the context of inclusive innovation systems

Gifts, Virtues and Obligations of University Volunteering Joanna Puckering,2021-11-29 This book takes a critical grounded and ethnographic approach to elicit a deeper understanding of university volunteering Anthropological theories of reciprocal gift exchange are used to re visit some of the value laden and at times conflicting ways of understanding volunteering as freely undertaken or coerced altruistic or self interested It also explores how some of the changing uses and expectations of volunteering are related to the exercise of power and to the effect of social norms or structural constraints on agency The book contains a detailed case study of a UK university focusing on its relationships with local communities and voluntary organisations to illustrate the complex and culturally situated nature of volunteering and the gift Joanna Puckering also draws on examples from countries such as the United States and Australia to address wider questions of why people do what they do and why volunteering motives and outcomes attract differing interpretations This volume will be relevant to scholars from anthropology sociology and geography as well as those involved in the higher education and voluntary corporate and social enterprise sectors
