University Of Pretoria Prospectus:

From #RhodesMustFall Movements to #HumansMustFall Movements Artwell Nhemachena, Jairo Kangira, 2021-05-14 Might it be possible that the world is being migrated into an era where the imperial periphery will be increasingly governed through Artificial Intelligence AI and robotics designed to replace human beings Celebrated as efficient strong unfailing tireless precise and beyond corruption AI and robots are set to replace African leaders who are imperially deemed to be and consistently condemned as corrupt failed weak and inefficient But if these AI and robots are neo imperial tools and machinations the million dollar question is whether empire is not returning to recolonise the supposedly inefficient Africans via the new technologies and machinism Where Africans once celebrated their liberation war movements empire has emplaced what it calls liberation technologies designed to supposedly liberate African youths from their own states and governments led by liberation movements Where Africans once celebrated their liberation war movements empire has placed its own NGOs CSOs spewing liberal ideologies designed to ostensibly liberate African youths from their own supposedly failed and corrupt states and government leaders With African youths citizens allying not with their liberation movements but with the liberation technologies and liberal NGOs CSOs it is not surprising why African citizens oppose their states led Fast Track Land Redistribution Programmes while ironically they happily celebrate Fast Tracked COVID 19 Vaccines Positing the notion of HumansMustFall movements this book underscores ways in which empire is in a process of eternal return to 21st century Africa The book is crucial for scholars and activists in political science government studies sociology anthropology cultural studies history languages and communication studies security studies military studies and development studies

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

The Strategic Repositioning of Arts, Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century George Mugovhani, Owen Seda, 2018-06-11 The post millennium world has been experiencing several recognisable historical milestones with regard to arts culture and heritage One of these has been the resuscitation and revival of creative elements of the arts culture and heritage of previously marginalised or disadvantaged communities around the world Until recently there had been scant regard and skewed allocation of resources for these but lately attempts have been made to promote and sustain them in order to enable the socio economic aspirations of a multicultural society The contributions brought together here are the product of papers that were presented during a conference on Strategic Repositioning of Arts Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century They cover a broad spectrum of subjects such as indigeneity music song and identity politics national reconciliation education product development and national development From Student to Urban Planner Tuna Taşan-Kok, Mark Oranje, 2017-12-06 For many young planners the noble intentions with going to planning school seem starkly out of place in the neoliberal worlds they have come to inhabit For some the huge gap between the power they thought they would have and what they actually do is not only worrying but also deeply discouraging But for some others practice means finding practical and creative solutions to overcome challenges and complexities How do young planners in different settings respond to seemingly similar situations like these What do they do give up adjust or fight back What role did their planning education play and could it have helped in preparing and assisting them to respond to the world they are encountering In this edited volume stories of young planners from sixteen countries that engage these questions are presented The sixteen cases range from settings with older established planning systems e g USA the Netherlands and the UK to settings where the system is less set e g Brazil being remodeled e g South Africa and Bosnia Herzegovina and under stress e g Turkey and Poland Each chapter explores what might be done differently to prepare young planners for the complexities and challenges of their real worlds This book not only points out what is absent but also offers planning educators an alternative vision The editors and esteemed contributors provide reflections and suggestions as to how this new generation of young planners can be supported to survive in embrace and change the world they are encountering and in the spirit of planning endeavor to change it for the better University of Pretoria University of Pretoria, 1972*

Business Information, Directory of Sources M. E. De Vries, 1989 General catalogue of printed books British museum. Dept. of printed books, 1931 Method, Substance, and the Future of African Philosophy Edwin E. Etieyibo, 2018-02-24 This book takes stock of the strides made to date in African philosophy Authors focus on four important aspects of African philosophy the history methodological debates substantive issues in the field and direction for the future By collating this anthology Edwin E Etieyibo excavates both current and primordial knowledge in African philosophy enhancing the development of this growing field The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975 British Library, 1984 Foreign Affairs Edmund Dene Morel, Helena Maria Swanwick, 1929 Planning By Law and Property Rights Reconsidered Barrie Needham, Thomas Hartmann, 2016-04-22 Countries which take spatial planning seriously should take planning law and property rights also seriously There is an unavoidable logical relationship between planning law and property rights However planning by law and property rights is so familiar and taken for granted that we do not think about the theory behind it As a result we do not think abstractly about its strengths and weaknesses about what can be achieved with it and what not how it can be improved how it could be complemented Such reflections are essential to cope with current and future challenges to spatial planning This book makes the often implicit theory behind planning by law and property rights explicit and relates it to those challenges It starts by setting out what is understood by planning by law and property rights and investigates theoretically and by game simulation the relationships between planning law and property rights It then places planning law and property rights within their institutional setting at three different scales when a country undergoes enormous social and political change when there is fundamental political debate about the power of the state within a country and when a country changes its legislation in response to European policy Not only changing institutions but also global environmental change pose huge challenges for spatial planning The book discusses how planning by law and property rights can respond to those challenges by adaptive planning by adaptable property rights and by public policies at the appropriate geographical level Planning by law and property rights can fix a local regime of property rights which turns out to be inappropriate but difficult to change It questions whether such regimes can be changed and whether planning agencies can make such undesirable lock ins less likely by reducing market uncertainty and if so by what means

Shattering the Denial Karen B. Donaldson, 2001-05-30 This book has gone to great lengths to reveal through research and practice the possibilities of addressing and reducing racist practices in our schools It features an Antiracist Education Teacher Study that assisted in providing baseline figures of teacher perceptions of racism and demonstrated how teachers can successfully implement antiracist concepts in their classrooms Findings further indicate that such teacher involvement makes a difference in student acceptance and attitude As teachers display enthusiasm for teaching their subject areas multiculturally and having an intolerance for racist behavior many students have shown greater respect and appreciation for their teachers who are willing to expose life's realities Educators in the Teacher Study became role models for their students This role modeling empowered students in positive ways to address issues of racism from the student perspective Dr Donaldson also focuses on shattering the denial of teachers who doubt the existence of racism in schools and who question how student learning is adversely affected by racism She uncovers the difficulty teachers have with coming to grips with the realities of racism In light of these difficulties those who endured became empowered to become better teachers Shut Down the Business School Martin Parker, 2018-05-20 Business schools are institutions which a decade after the financial crash continue to act as loudspeakers for neoliberal capitalism with all its injustices and planetary consequences In this lively and incendiary call to action Martin Parker offers a simple message shut down the business school Parker argues that business schools are cash cows for the contemporary university that have produced a generation of unreflective managers primarily interested in their own personal rewards If we see universities as institutions with responsibilities to the societies they inhabit then we must challenge the common notion that the market should be the primary determinant of the education they provide Shut Down the Business School makes a compelling case for a radical alternative in the form of a School for

Organising This institution would develop and teach on different forms of organising instead of reproducing the dominant corporate model enabling individuals to discover alternative responses to the pressing issues of inequality and sustainability faced by all of us today

Ordinary Whites in Apartheid Society Neil Roos, 2024-02-06 How were whites implicated in and shaped by apartheid culture and society and how did they contribute to it In Ordinary Whites in Apartheid Society historian Neil Roos traces the lives of ordinary white people in South Africa during the apartheid years beginning in 1948 when the National Party swept into power on the back of its catchall apartheid slogan Drawing on his own family's story and others Roos explores how working class whites frequently defied particular aspects of the apartheid state but seldom opposed or even acknowledged the idea of racial supremacy which lay at the heart of the apartheid society This cognitive dissonance afforded them a way to simultaneously accommodate and oppose apartheid and allowed them to later claim they never supported the apartheid system Ordinary Whites in Apartheid Society offers a telling reminder that the politics and practice of race in this case apartheid era whiteness derive not only from the top but also from the bottom

The Remnants of Race Science Sebastián Gil-Riaño, 2023-08-29 After World War II UNESCO launched an ambitious international campaign against race prejudice Casting racism as a problem of ignorance it sought to reduce prejudice by spreading the latest scientific knowledge about human diversity to instill mutual understanding between groups of people This campaign has often been understood as a response led by British and U S scientists to the extreme ideas that informed Nazi Germany Yet many of its key figures were social scientists either raised in or closely involved with South America and the South Pacific The Remnants of Race Science traces the influence of ideas from the Global South on UNESCO's race campaign illuminating its relationship to notions of modernization and economic development Sebastián Gil-Riaño examines the campaign participants involvement in some of the most ambitious development projects of the postwar period In challenging race prejudice these experts drew on ideas about race that emphasized plasticity and mutability in contrast to the fixed categories of scientific racism Gil-Riaño argues that these same ideas legitimated projects of economic development and social integration aimed at bringing ostensibly backward indigenous and non European peoples into the modern world He also shows how these experts promotion of studies of race relations inadvertently spurred a deeper reckoning with the structural and imperial sources of racism as well as the aftermath of the transatlantic slave trade Shedding new light on the postwar refashioning of ideas about race this book reveals how internationalist efforts to dismantle racism paved the way for postcolonial modernization projects
