FCC Record United States. Federal Communications Commission, 2015. Mobile Multimedia Processing Xiaoyi Jiang, Matthew Y. Ma, Chang Wen Chen, 2010-03-25. The portable device and mobile phone market has witnessed rapid growth in the last few years with the emergence of several revolutionary products such as mobile TV, converging iPhone and digital cameras that combine music, phone, and video functionalities into one device. The proliferation of this market has further benefited from the competition in software and applications for smart phones such as Google's Android operating system and Apple's iPhone App Store, stimulating tens of thousands of mobile applications that are made available by individual and enterprise developers. Whereas the mobile device has become ubiquitous in people's daily life, not only as a cellular phone but also as a media player, a mobile computing device, and a personal assistant, it is particularly important to address challenges timely in applying advanced pattern recognition, signal information, and multimedia processing techniques and new emerging networking technologies to such mobile systems. The primary objective of this book is to foster interdisciplinary discussions and research in mobile multimedia processing techniques, applications, and systems as well as to provide stimulus to researchers on pushing the frontier of emerging new technologies and applications. One attempt on such discussions was the organization of the First International Workshop of Mobile Multimedia Processing (WMMP 2008) held in Tampa, Florida, USA, on December 7, 2008. About 30 papers were submitted from 10 countries across the USA, Asia, and Europe.
