happiness and dissent Drawing on Arendt's understanding of politics as a participatory experience but also discussing texts by mile Zola Elias Canetti Boris Pasternak and Roland Barthes along with engaging Judith Butler Cavarero proposes a new view of democracy based not on violence but rather on the spontaneous experience of a plurality of bodies coming together in public Expanding on the themes explored in previous works Cavarero offers a timely intervention into current thinking about the nature of democracy suggesting that its emergence thrives on the nonviolent creativity of a widespread participatory and relational power that is shared horizontally rather than vertically From digital democracy to selfies to contemporary protest movements Cavarero argues that we need to rethink our focus on individual happiness and turn toward rediscovering the joyful emotions of birth through plural interaction Yes let us be happy she urges but let us do so publicly politically together
