Roggenkamp, Kars J. de Graaf, Ruven C. Fleming, 2021-05-21 This comprehensive volume of the Elgar Encyclopedia of Environmental Law provides an overview of the major elements of energy law from a global perspective Based on an in depth analysis of the energy chain it offers insight into the impacts of climate change and environmental issues on energy law and the energy sector This timely reference work highlights the need for modern energy law to consider environmental impacts and promote the use of clean energy sources whilst also safeguarding a reliable and affordable energy supply Energy Users Report Bureau of National Affairs (Arlington, Va.), 1975 Adaptive Neuro-Fuzzy Inference System as a Universal Estimator Constantin Voloşencu, 2024-05-02 This book presents some recent specialized works of a theoretical study in the domain of adaptive neuro fuzzy inference systems ANFIS for specialists engineers professors and students It includes five chapters that present new fuzzy systems concepts and promotes them for practical applications including control of tillage depth solar radiation prediction control of power systems and dynamics of macroeconomic systems The studies published in the book through scientific achievements of high level analysis and design develop new applications that demonstrate the capabilities of ANFIS The authors present examples and case studies from their research providing new solutions and answers to questions related to the emerging concepts and applications of ANFIS

Renewable Energy Law in Sub-Saharan Africa Nana Asare Obeng-Darko, 2024-06-03 This book contributes to the broader discussion on the development of renewable energy sources for a clean and sustainable energy to drive sustainable growth energy security and sustainable development Focusing on sub Sahara African perspectives with Ghana as the central case study this book focuses on how regulatory regimes can be designed to achieve renewable energy targets for electricity production Exploring the regulatory rationales behind the government's intervention in the Ghanaian renewable energy sector it examines whether the regulatory measures adopted by the Ghanaian government are sufficient to attract adequate investment to meet renewable energy integration targets Assessing the regulatory frameworks of the renewable energy sectors of The Gambia and Nigeria the book compares these countries to the regulatory approaches to renewable energy development in Ghana Arguing that there are significant regulatory issues impeding renewable energy development in Ghana with wider consequences across sub Saharan Africa the book suggests solutions which can establish a robust and an effective regulatory framework to achieve renewable energy developmental targets A comprehensive read this volume will appeal to scholars and researchers of sustainable development law and legal studies environmental laws development economics applied industrial economics energy security African economy public policy and regulatory policy It will also be of interest to professionals and practitioners in policy circles and research think tanks

The Political Economy of Energy in Sub-Saharan Africa Lucky E. Asuelime, Andrew Emmanuel Okem, 2017-09-29 A deepening ecological crisis is rearing its head in sub Saharan Africa as it faces a myriad of challenges in regards to the development of its energy sector The dirty now and clean up later approach to the environment has a strong appeal particularly because it is often thought of as the last place to try to edge in another priority especially if that priority is perceived by many to be an economic luxury Asuelime and Okem bring together a team of specialist contributors who investigate to what extent sub Saharan Africa has displayed foresight or politico economic integrity The book shows the state s ability to meet the demands of provision of energy in sub Saharan Africa has led to heavy investments in infrastructure transmission and distribution of energy to the citizens However the inefficiencies corruption and unhealthy bureaucratic challenges that accompany this have led urgent problems which will be thoroughly explored in this book The Political Economy of Energy in Sub Saharan Africa will be of interest to students and scholars of African Studies Development Studies political science and environment
