University Intake 2015 2016:

South Korean Migrants in China Xiao Ma, 2025-10-01 This book is an ethnographic account of education and migration from the perspective of three groups of South Koreans in contemporary China migrant parents children students and educational agents The book reveals how these temporary migrants make choices plan their trajectories and engage with the authorities both in China and South Korea Migrant subjectivities among these groups are driven by and respond to the education migration regimes of both the sending and receiving countries As people in between they occupy flexible and multiple positionalities that are transnationally distributed However paradoxically they experience a juxtaposition of privilege integration and separation which is indicative of the Chinese style of internationalisation The book adds weight to the argument that China is a temporary destination for foreigners and not one for long term settlement English Medium Instruction in Higher Education in Asia-Pacific Ben Fenton-Smith, Pamela Humphreys, Ian Walkinshaw, 2017-03-19 This volume draws together the viewpoints and research findings of leading scholars and informed local practitioner researchers throughout Asia Pacific about the issues and challenges of English as a medium of instruction EMI at higher education institutions in that region Specifically it addresses four key themes Macro level EMI policy and practice institutional implications for pedagogy stakeholder perceptions of EMI and challenges of interpersonal interaction in EMI contexts The book is among the first to critically examine the emerging global phenomenon of English as a medium of instruction and the first title to exclusively explore Asia Pacific tertiary contexts It will be of particular interest to policy makers in international education and tertiary educators seeking blueprints for practice as well as scholars and postgraduate students of English as a lingua franca English for academic purposes academic language and learning and language education in Asia Pacific

Thus Until Emilia Ilieva, Reuben Matheka, 2025-08-04 Thus Until A History of Egerton University is a thorough historical chronological and well researched account of Egerton University from a whites only college when it started in 1939 through to the expansion it has experienced over the years culminating in being a full university More than any other university in Kenya Egerton has a long and colourful history but like all the other universities it has suffered from the political economic and financial challenges of the time especially since the double intake of the 1990s Chapter One provides the required background to the study highlighting agricultural and educational policies and steering away from the Happy Valley hype so characteristic of the period The reader will learn about the Egerton family in Chapter Two and particularly about Lord Egerton himself and the colonial circumstances within which he lived The chapter dispels some of the popularly held myths about him Chapter Three deals with the beginnings of the college and the various structural and curriculum experiments tried out and the kind of enrolment and students it experimented with as an all white establishment The chapter ends with Africans beginning to agitate for change With great attention to detail the later chapters put the university in a broader local and international context thereby increasing its relevance to society A History of Egerton University though heavily footnoted and with a detailed bibliography is written in a simple easy flowing and accessible style

Universities as Political Institutions Leasa Weimer, Terhi Nokkala, 2020-04-06 Universities can be viewed and studied as political institutions especially considering that they sit at the crossroads of social cultural and economic pressures The internal and external environment of higher education brings with it multiple and complex relationships as well as power struggles Within these contested political spaces there are phenomena to be studied

While the field of higher education draws from a multitude of disciplines some scholars argue that only recently has scholarship focused on the political perspectives of higher education To better understand the politics and policies of higher education Universities as Political Institutions illuminates a variety of ways that researchers view and study universities as a political institution from considering the national and international political pressures shaping higher education to the analysis of responses and political action from within the ivory tower The 2017 annual CHER conference in Jyvaskylä Finland brought together 213 scholars from 30 countries This book includes a selection of papers and keynote presentations from this conference The thematic approach of the book reflects the 2017 conference theme Universities as Political Institutions Higher Education Institutions in the Middle of Academic Economic and Social Pressures The theme focused on multiple and often complex relations and relationships internal and external to higher education institutions In this context political refers not only to definitions uses and users of power but more broadly to a variety of relationships among different actors and agencies responsible for making executing or resisting decisions concerning higher education institutions
