Disclosure Within HIV-Affected Families Grace Gachanja, Gary J. Burkholder, Aimee Ferraro, 2018-08-29 While HIV/AIDS is a global public health challenge its impact is arguably greatest in the Sub Saharan Africa SSA where new infections account for approximately 66% of the total number of HIV positive persons globally In SSA medical social and economic resources are limited thus necessitating innovative approaches to disease prevention One of the mechanisms of prevention that is most promising occurs through HIV disclosure to family members e.g. adult sexual partners generally and to children in particular Our emphasis in this eBook is on HIV disclosure to children because it has multiple benefits including improved adherence to antiretroviral medication treatment and understanding at an early age of the impact of sexual activity on the spread of HIV While there is a noticeable gap in research on HIV disclosure to younger children some of the general reasons for non disclosure include concerns about fear of adult partners leaving relationships and that children are too young to comprehend the severity of the situation and may tell others outside the family Thus it is critical to better understand how the HIV disclosure process happens or does not happen within HIV affected families as well as the best practices on how to disclose In this eBook we present a combination of empirical research studies and critical literature reviews that investigate the reasons for and for not disclosing HIV status within HIV affected families and provide evidence based practices that could be adopted by healthcare professionals to help HIV positive parents facilitate disclosure activities within these families This information can also be used by researchers practitioners and stakeholders who are in a position to influence policies on effective HIV disclosure practices guidelines and programs

Challenging the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS) Movement Ronnie Fraser, Lola Fraser, 2023-02-13 Challenging the Boycott Divestment and Sanctions BDS Movement focuses on the efforts to oppose antisemitism the academic boycott and the BDS movement The State of Israel has faced many threats most of them military since it was established in 1948 but the threat posed by the NGO forum at the United Nations World Conference against Racism in Durban South Africa in August 2001 was different The forum unleashed the new antisemitism which targeted the State of Israel as well as a non violent civil society based campaign based on the South

African anti apartheid campaign of the 1980s which was to form the basis of the international Boycott Divestment and Sanctions BDS movement directed at the State of Israel Featuring case studies from the United States Great Britain Israel and South Africa each chapter of this wide ranging volume discusses examples of opposition to the divisive BDS campaign and the proposed academic boycott of Israel over the last two decades including the fight for formal recognition of the new antisemitism by governments and international bodies and the use of a variety of legal measures The rise of antisemitism within academia and wider society is also examined This book will be vital reading for students scholars and activists with an interest in social movements Israel and Middle East politics and history      Knowledge and Civil Society Johannes

Taking Comedy Seriously Jennalee Donian, 2018-12-31 This book explores stand up comedy as a relevant sociological phenomenon from a contemporary perspective as both a symptom of neoliberal capitalism and the locus specificus of socio political critique in the era of Empire It draws a feasible connection between the conspicuous rise in the art form's popularity over the past number of years and the dehumanizing and fracturing processes of the current dispensation that are increasingly becoming the defining experience of life in the contemporary era and to which understood in terms of the traditional humor theory of relief of which Sigmund Freud is key comedy serves as an obvious palliative More than this

Taking Comedy Seriously Stand Up's Dissident Potential in Mass Culture in the Context of the Neoliberal Domain of Empire questions the possibility of a contemporary aesthetics of humor given that much of the art form is disseminated and controlled by the mass media and as such complicit in its work. In particular it argues that the ideological situation of global capitalism poses an obvious predicament for the possibility of a socio-politically efficacious stand up comedy in that ironic and skeptical distance is already characteristic of postmodern cynicism incorporated into the social fabric itself effectively rendering the comedic technique of satire synonymous with so-called political comedy altogether appropriated or at least compromised and subsequently impotent. From where then does a site of resistance emerge? Through an analysis of a range of contemporary televisual, digital and literary examples from the comedic routines of American comedian and talk show host Ellen DeGeneres, South African satirist Pieter Dirk Uys and South African born and now American comedic talk show sensation Trevor Noah, this book argues that a contemporary political comedy is reliant on a structuring aesthetic logic built around dissent, disruption and difference.

At Our Wits' End Edward Dutton, Michael A. Woodley of Menie, 2018-12-20 We are becoming less intelligent. This is the shocking yet fascinating message of At Our Wits' End. The authors take us on a journey through the growing body of evidence that we are significantly less intelligent now than we were a hundred years ago. The research proving this is at once profoundly thought-provoking, highly controversial and it's currently only read by academics. But the authors are passionate that it cannot remain ensconced in the ivory tower any longer. With At Our Wits' End they present the first ever popular scientific book on this crucially important issue. They prove that intelligence, which is strongly genetic, was increasing up until the breakthrough of the Industrial Revolution because we were subject to the rigors of Darwinian Selection, meaning that lots of surviving children was the preserve of the cleverest. But since then they show intelligence has gone into rapid decline because large families are increasingly the preserve of the least intelligent. The book explores how this change has occurred and crucially what its consequences will be for the future. Can we find a way of reversing the decline of our IQ? Or will we witness the collapse of civilization and the rise of a new Dark Age?

Street Rebellion Benjamin S. Case, 2022-12-06 The complex relationship between violence and nonviolence in social movements. We are living in a time of uprisings that routinely involve physical confrontation, burning vehicles, barricades, vandalism and scuffles between protesters and authorities. Yet the Left has struggled to incorporate rioting into theories of change, remaining stuck in recurring debates over violence and nonviolence. Civil resistance studies have popularized the term strategic nonviolence, spreading the notion that violence is wholly counter-productive. Street Rebellion scrutinizes recent research and develops a broad and grounded portrait of the relationship between strategic nonviolence and rioting in the struggle for liberation.

The Great Protector of Wits Laura Nicolì, 2022-06-20 The Great Protector of Wits provides a new assessment of Baron d'Holbach (1723-1789) and his circle.
