

A map of the northeastern United States showing the route of the North Country National Scenic Trail. The trail is depicted as a dark green line with small black triangles indicating points of interest or trailheads. It starts in the Adirondacks region of New York, passes through Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, and into Canada. The trail then follows the coast of Maine and New Brunswick, Canada, before heading south through New Brunswick and into the United States again, passing through New York, Pennsylvania, and Maryland. The map uses a light blue color for water bodies and a light tan color for land. The trail route is highlighted in a darker green. The text "THE LONGEST HIKING TRAIL IN THE U.S." is overlaid on the map in a large, bold, black serif font. Below this text is a horizontal line, and then the text "The North Country National Scenic Trail" is written in a smaller, black serif font.
