Business Process Modeling Notation Jan Mendling, Matthias Weidlich, Mathias Weske, 2010-10-11
The BPMN 2010 workshop series provides a forum for academics and practitioners that share an interest in business process modeling using Business Process Modeling Notation (BPMN), which has seen a huge uptake in both academia and industry. It is seen by many as the de facto standard for business process modeling. It has become very popular with business analysts, tool vendors, practitioners and end users. BPMN promises to bridge business and IT and brings process design and implementation closer together. BPMN 2010 was the second workshop of the series. It took place October 13-14, 2010 at the Hasso Plattner Institute at the University of Potsdam, Germany. This volume contains six contributed research papers that were selected from 16 submissions. There was a thorough reviewing process with each paper being reviewed by on average four Program Committee members. In addition to the contributed papers, these proceedings contain three short papers and three extended abstracts of the invited keynote talks. In conjunction with the scientific workshop, a practitioners' event took place the day after the workshop. We want to express our gratitude to all those who made BPMN 2010 possible by generously and voluntarily sharing their knowledge, skills and time. In particular, we thank the Program Committee members as well as the additional reviewers for devoting their expertise and time to ensure the high quality of the workshop's scientific program through an extensive review process. Finally, we are grateful to all the authors who showed their appreciation and support for the workshop by submitting their valuable work to it.

Advanced Information Systems Engineering Zohra Bellahs  ne, Michel L  onard, 2008-06-08 CAiSE 2008 was the 20th in the series of International Conferences on Advanced Information System Engineering. This edition continued the success of previous conferences, a success largely due to the fact that since its first edition, this series has evolved in parallel with the evolution of the importance of information systems in economic development. CAiSE has been able to follow and often to anticipate important changes that have occurred since 1978 when the first CAiSE conference was organized by Arne S  lvberg and Janis Bubenko. In all these years, modern businesses and IT systems have been facing an ever more complex environment characterized by openness, variety and change. Furthermore, enterprises are experiencing ever more variety in their business in many dimensions. In the same way, the explosion of information technologies is overwhelming with a multitude of languages, platforms, devices, standards and products. Thus, enterprises need to manage an environment to monitor the interplay of changes in the business processes in information technologies and at the ontological level in order to achieve a sustainable development of their information systems. Enterprises must enter the era of sustainable information systems to face the important developmental challenges.

During all these years CAiSE researchers have been challenged by all these changes and the CAiSE conferences provide a forum for presenting and debating important scientific results. In fact CAiSE is positioned at the core of these tumultuous processes: hosting new emerging ideas, fostering innovative processes of design and evaluation, developing new information technologies adapted to information systems, creating new kinds of models but always being subject to rigorous scientific selection.

CONCUR 2008 - Concurrency Theory Franck van Breugel, Marsha Chechik, 2008-08-19 This volume contains the proceedings of the 19th International Conference on Concurrency Theory (CONCUR 2008) which took place at the University of Toronto in Toronto, Canada, August 19-22, 2008. CONCUR 2008 was co-located with the 27th Annual ACM SIGACT SIGOPS Symposium on the Principles of Distributed Computing (PODC 2008) and the two conferences shared two invited speakers, some social events and a symposium celebrating the lifelong research contributions of Nancy Lynch. The purpose of the CONCUR conferences is to bring together researchers, developers and students in order to advance the theory of concurrency and promote its applications. Interest in this topic is continuously growing as a consequence of the importance and ubiquity of concurrent systems and their applications and of the scientific relevance of their foundations. Topics include basic models of concurrency such as abstract machines, domain theoretic models, game theoretic models, process algebras and Petri nets; logics for concurrency such as modal logics, temporal logics and resource logics; models of specialized systems such as biology inspired systems, circuits, hybrid systems, mobile systems, multi-core processors, probabilistic systems, real-time systems, synchronous systems and Web services; verification and analysis techniques for concurrent systems such as abstract interpretation, atomicity checking, model checking, race detection, run-time verification, state space exploration, static analysis, synthesis, testing, theorem proving and type systems and related programming models such as distributed or object-oriented. Of the 120 regular and 5 tool papers submitted this year, 33 regular and 2 tool papers were accepted for presentation and are included in the present volume.

Research and Practical Issues of Enterprise Information Systems A. Min Tjoa, Li Xu, Sohail Chaudhry, 2007-11-14 The idea for this conference came from a meeting of the IFIP International Federation for Information Processing Technical Committee for
