The Limits Of Civilization Focus On Civilizations And Cultures:

The Limits of Culture Brenda Shaffer, 2006 Experts analyze the effect of cultural interests on the foreign policy of states in the Caspian region including Iran Azerbaijan Armenia Georgia Afghanistan Kazakhstan and Pakistan The Possibility and Limit of Liberal Middle Power Policies Kohei Imai, 2017-12-13 This book is a comprehensive analysis of Turkish foreign policy through the concept of middle power The author explores why and how Turkey has constructed middle power identity based on liberal foreign policies in order to illuminate the change in post Cold War Turkish state identity in relation to foreign policy behaviors The author further explores state identity and how changes of circumstances norms state self perception and the perceptions of others effects that identity This is done first through a policy analysis of Turgut zal Necmettin Erbakan and Ismail Cem and second through an examination of AKP s foreign policy experiences and ideas especially in relation to Ahmet Davutoglu The Limits of Civilization Andrew Targowski, 2015 This book has been inspired by Dennis Meadows s et al The Limits to Growth published 41 years ago It forewarned the general public about the exhaustion of strategic resources of the planet as known at that time unless economic and population expansions were halted This resulted in the world becoming aware of the crisis of civilisation Measures were taken to reduce the consumption of the strategic resources including the promotion of recycling resources used Efforts were made internationally to introduce the practice of climate and environmental protection to little avail The present book has a wider scope of analysis and synthesis and even gloomier conclusions than those found in the two pioneering books This author has arrived at the following conclusions The plight of civilisation is doomed by the sun expiring within 4 5 billion years It is also determined by the exhaustion of the known and the potential resources of the small planet Earth around the year 5 000 The future of civilisation considered in the time frame imaginable to man is swayed by its current crisis which results from the Triangle of Civilization Death the combination of the bombs of population ecology and depletion of strategic resources which will be felt around 2050 The future of civilisation is dependent on its capability of entering the phase of Wise and Universal Civilisation in the years to come This is conditioned upon the abandonment of the known socio political and economic systems capitalism socialism communism and their hybrids These systems are based on the constant growth of population and the economy which is unsustainable any longer Democratic Ecologism ought to be the new system securing a wise and sustainable functioning of civilisation it would prioritise the ecosystem in the choices made by man and societies What must be observed too is tolerance based on Spirituality 2 0 It is based on the Decalogue of Complementary Values derived from the main religions 1 0 which the world is now practicing Is it possible to introduce these solutions to practical life This is up to people becoming wiser Alas so far people do not even know what wisdom is since wisdom is not taught at school or college And without wisdom no civilisation stands any chance of success in the universe of systemic chaos The Shifting Global Balance of Power: Perils of a World War and Preventive Measures Dr. Yana Korobko, Mahmoud Musa, 2014-06-09 Many believed that the world would remain everlastingly unchangeable in the aftermath of victory of the Allies the United States the Soviet Union China United Kingdom and France in World War II They remodeled the world map amongst themselves and affirmed that they will be guarantors of the international status quo However those who pledged to conserve peace are now breaking it leading the planet to the edge of clash This book differs from all others that dealt with possible World War III scenarios since it combines knowledge in the fields of history international relations economics sociology and psychology and philosophy Thus giving the reader a broader outlook on such matters as Potentially risky world war scenarios Dialogue between the West and Islam New emerging superpowers Psychological and Cyber Ware fare Preventive mechanisms such as early warning and preparedness operations The Political Economy of a Plural World Robert W. Cox, Michael G.

Schechter, 2003-08-29 Building on his seminal contributions to the field Robert W Cox engages with the major themes that have characterized his work over the past three decades and the main topics which affect the globalized world at the start of the twentieth century This new volume by one of the world's leading critical thinkers in international political economy addresses such core issues as global civil society power and knowledge the covert world multilateralism and civilizations and world order With an introductory essay by Michael Schechter which addresses current critiques of Coxian theory the author enters into a stimulating dialogue with critics of his work Timely provocative and original this book is a major contribution to international political economy and is essential reading for all students and academics in the field The Variation Theory of Comparative Literature Shunqing Cao, 2014-03-21 Seeing the restrictions of former studies in Comparative Literature and aiming to amend these deficiencies the author of this book mainly discusses the major theoretical significance and academic value of the Variation Theory in the whole process of the development of Comparative Literature in the world In China the seminal comparative study of literature among different cultures can be dated back to ancient China while the founding of comparative literature as a distinct academic discipline has to be largely owing to the influence of the West The modern Chinese study of comparative literature formed its uniqueness under Western influence The direct influence of the translation of western theories into China is remarkable However in the course of translation and reception of Western theories Chinese comparatists and intellectuals have been encountering various problems and solving them with an alternative method accordingly different from the traditional methods proposed by the French School and the American School Therefore in this book modern Chinese study of comparative literature is put in a historical context with regard to the theoretical issue of the discipline in China through the entire 20th century At present many scholars in China and in other countries agree that with the influence study proposed by the French School and the study of analogy advocated by the American School the entire theoretical system of Comparative Literature is well built However when the comparative study of literature between East and West is concerned the theory of Comparative Literature is far from perfect It is not only because many problems still exist but there are significant defects in their theoretical bases respectively Many researches have proven that even with the influence study and the study of analogy we still can not solve many problems in the practice of studies in comparative literature. This does not mean that we have no respect for the contributions of the French School and the American School; we just want to attach importance to literary variations which is a phenomenon that has long been neglected. The purpose of putting forward the Variation Theory in Comparative Literature is to provide new perspectives, new methods and new theory to the study of comparative literature which may be a major breakthrough in the international arena of Comparative Literature. The neglect of literary variation is mainly because all the previous theories about comparative literature start off in search of similarities but not differences. Accordingly in 1990s heterogeneity as a premise of comparability was put forward. And later the variation theory was further advanced. It is not only the important phenomenon in literary communication but also the most valuable research object in Comparative Literature. Still it will be an important path to cultural innovation. The Variation Theory may make up the major flaws of theories by both French school and the American School since it focus on heterogeneity and variability in cross cultural literary events especially the ones of inter civilization which will be a new course for comparative literature. Throughout the history of literature and the history of literary communication collisions between different civilizations have always been producing new literary events which make the heterogeneity of different civilizations and variability traceable. The higher stage of literary communication may mean dialogue and blend between different cultures. The overarching concerns of this book include different levels of variation in literary communication and the studies of different objects. The introduction begins with a literature review of major achievements made by the French School and the American School with pointing out what they have neglected. The body of the book is divided into three parts. In the first part Chapter 1 deals with the major contributions of influence study and its weaknesses. The origination of comparative literature in most of European countries is reviewed first and then the major contributions of the French School are listed to point out its merits and weaknesses. The author discusses the relation between Influence Study and the Variation Theory and the importance of the French school in theoretical development of comparative literature is stressed too. Chapter 2 offers a critical introduction and reflection on the study of analogy. Both its major contributions and weaknesses are made clear to further illustrate the relationship between interpretation and the Variation Theory. And the discursive variation is discussed. Part II is a transitional part with only one chapter that gives a clear account of phenomenon of variation from international perspective. Part III consists of four chapters. Chapter 4 offers a detailed description of The Variation Theory in cross languages context. Chapter 5 deals with cross cultural variation in homogeneous circle of civilization. Chapter 6 discusses the variation among heterogeneous civilization. For a long period of time the theoretical study of comparative literature in China has largely been confined to the Chinese academic arena thus has long been neglected. On one hand western comparatists have gradually realized the importance of a non western perspective in the study of the discipline on the other hand few books are available to introduce the recent development of comparative literature study in China Compared with the enthusiastic reception of the theories of the French School and the American School the theories of Chinese comparatists receives relatively little attention in western countries In this sense the proposed book attempts to challenge the myth of monolithic theories of comparative literature trying to construct an alternative theory of the discipline

Nationalism Liah Greenfeld,2019-06-18 We need a nation declared a certain Phillippe Grouvelle in the revolutionary year of 1789 and the Nation will be born from Nationalism Nationalism often the scourge always the basis of modern world politics is spreading In a way all nations are willed into being But a simple declaration such as Grouvelle s is not enough As historian Liah Greenfeld shows in her new book a sense of nation nationalism is the product of the complex distillation of ideas and beliefs and the struggles over them Greenfeld takes the reader on an intellectual journey through the origins of the concept nation and how national consciousness has changed over the centuries From its emergence in sixteenth century England nationalism has been behind nearly every significant development in world affairs over succeeding centuries including the American and French revolutions of the late eighteenth centuries and the authoritarian communism and fascism of the twentieth century Now it has arrived as a mass phenomenon in China as well as gaining new life in the United States and much of Europe in the guise of populism Written by an authority on the subject Nationalism stresses the contradictory ways of how nationalism has been institutionalized in various places On the one hand nationalism has made possible the realities of liberal democracy human rights and individual self determination On the other hand nationalism also has brought about authoritarian and racist regimes that negate the individual as an autonomous agent That tension is all too apparent today
