Interpreting Sacred Ground J. Christian Spielvogel, 2013-01-30 Interpreting Sacred Ground is a rhetorical analysis of Civil War battlefields and parks and the ways various commemorative traditions and their ideologies of race reconciliation emancipation and masculinity compete for dominance The National Park Service NPS is known for its role in the preservation of public sites deemed to have historic cultural and natural significance In Interpreting Sacred Ground J Christian Spielvogel studies the NPS s secondary role as an interpreter or creator of meaning at such sites specifically Gettysburg National Military Park Harpers Ferry National Historical Park and Cold Harbor Visitor Center Spielvogel studies in detail the museums films publications tours signage and other media at these sites and he studies and analyzes how they shape the meanings that visitors are invited to construct Though the NPS began developing interpretive exhibits in the 1990s that highlighted slavery and emancipation as central facets to understanding the war Spielvogel argues that the NPS in some instances preserves outmoded narratives of white reconciliation and heroic masculinity obscuring the race related causes and consequences of the war as well as the war's savagery. The challenges the NPS faces in addressing these issues are many from avoiding unbalanced criticism of either the Union or the Confederacy to foregrounding race and violence as central issues preserving clear and accurate renderings of battlefield movements and strategies and contending with the various public constituencies with their own interpretive stakes in the battle for public memory. Spielvogel concludes by arguing for the National Park Service's crucial role as a critical voice in shaping twentieth-first century Civil War public memory and highlights the issues the agency faces as it strives to maintain historical integrity while contending with antiquated renderings of the past.

The History of Israel's Traditions Steven L. McKenzie, M. Patrick Graham, 1994-11-01 In 1943 the famous Old Testament scholar Martin Noth published his monograph Überlieferungsgeschichtliche Studien in which he established the hypothesis of a Deuteronomistic History and gave his treatment of the Chronicler's History. It quickly became one of the classics in the field and is probably Noth's most enduring legacy. This book brings together essays from an international symposium of scholars celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of Noth's important volume and reviewing his other contributions to Old Testament study. Part I discusses Noth's life and work. Christopher Begg his view of the Deuteronomistic History. Antony Campbell and the Chronicler's History. Roddy Braun his contributions to the history of Israel. Thomas Thompson tradition criticism. Rolf Rendtorff and Old Testament theology. Timo Veijola as well as reflections on Noth's impact on current and future study. David Noel Freedman. Walter Dietrich. Part II analyses the scholarship over the past fifty years on each book in the Deuteronomistic History. Deuteronomy Thomas Romer. Joshua Brian Peckham. Judges Mark O'Brien. 1-2 Samuel P. Kyle. Negotiating Ethnic Diversity and National Identity in History Education Helen Mu Hung Ting, Luigi Cajani, 2023-05-26 This edited book explores the problems and challenges of negotiating the representation of ethnic minorities within history education. It investigates how states balance the non-acknowledgement of the reality of cultural or religious diversity and the promotion of a point of convergence in history education to foster national identity. Shifting our attention away from the intractable challenges posed by post-conflict countries for reconciliation, the contributors draw attention to the need to explore ways to prevent or preempt conflicts and exclusion through history education which could contribute to developing a more sustainable culture of peace. Drawing on a wide range of contexts and sources, this book asks how history education could contribute to forming critical, historically informed and committed young citizens. The book will be of interest to students and academics working on themes such as nationalism, citizenship, ethnicity, history education, multicultural education, peace studies and area studies as well as practitioners in the fields of history, social studies, civic or citizenship.
