Setting a New Agenda for Student Engagement and Retention in Historically Black Colleges and Universities Prince, Charles B. W., Ford, Rochelle L., 2016-06-27 As more Americans are attending college historically black colleges and universities HBCUs are now in a position where they must directly compete with other institutions While other colleges and universities might have more resources and stronger infrastructures HBCUs provide better opportunities to meet the needs of students of color Setting a New Agenda for Student Engagement and Retention in Historically Black Colleges and Universities explores the innovations that HBCUs can enact to better serve and prepare the next generation of African American leaders and to be more competitive in the higher education landscape As students need different forms of support throughout their academic career it becomes necessary to engage them through mentorship programming and classroom management This book is a valuable resource for educators and administration at HBCUs sociologists policy makers and students studying education science and administration

The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-29 In an era when corporate and political leaders are using their power to control every aspect of the schooling process in North America there has been surprisingly little research on the impact of textbook content on students The contributors of this volume and its partner The New Politics of the Textbook Problematizing the Portrayal of Marginalized Groups in Textbooks guide educators school administrators academics and other concerned citizens to unpack the political social and cultural influences inherent in the textbooks of core content areas such as math science English and social science They urge readers to reconsider the role textbooks play in the creation of students political social and moral development and in perpetuating asymmetrical social and economic relationships where social actors are bestowed unearned privileges and entitlements based upon their race gender sexuality class religion and linguistic background Finally they suggest ways to resist the hegemony of those texts through critical analyses critical questioning and critical pedagogies Getting to Excellence James A Johnson, Jr PhD,2013-03 This book is about a journey with the Center for Strategic Alliances in Education for School and District Improvement with stakeholders in a school targeted for school improvement The first chapter puts into context the notion of school its purpose and the incumbent variables of values attitudes organizational and leadership behaviors and instructional practices Throughout the book the authors look at three contextual boundaries 1 historical 2 the lens of former students and their perceptions of the presence or absence of those variables and 3 a comparison of labeled schools and the views and perceptions of stakeholders with regard to quality equity and adequacy This is a compelling journey which utilizes quantitative and qualitative data to take a critical look at the processes involved and the strategies used in America s journey in the quest for excellence The authors story is one of the pursuits of innovation reinvention equity excellence and culturally relevant education experiences that inspire and reframe the discussion about getting to excellence The book is replete with illustrations of weaknesses hidden in abstract policies institutional persistence and culturally void programs methodologies and practices It advocates a methodology for arriving at well conceived processes for achieving acceptance and academic excellence through collaboration among those to whom education is important the children and the communities where they live Teaching English Language Arts to English Language Learners Luciana de Oliveira,Melanie Shoffner,2016-09-13 This book focuses on the ways in which English language arts ELA pre service and in service teachers have developed or may develop instructional effectiveness for working with English language learners ELL in the secondary English classroom Chapter topics are grounded in both research and practice addressing a range of timely topics including the current state of ELL education in the ELA classroom and approaches to leveraging the talents and strengths of bilingual students in heterogeneous classrooms Chapters also offer advice on best practices in teaching ELA to multilingual students and ways to infuse the secondary English teacher preparation curriculum with ELL pedagogy Comprehensive in scope and content and examining topics relevant to all teachers of ELLs teacher educators and researchers this book appeals to an audience beyond ELA teachers and teacher educators Conceptions of Giftedness and Talent Robert J. Sternberg,Don Ambrose,2020-12-18 This book brings together eminent and emerging scholars to present cutting edge research on diverse conceptions of giftedness and talent from a range of international perspectives It covers classical views emphasizing IQ but also seeks to move the academic debate on from the common exclusive emphasis on IQ based skills In each chapter the contributors address both theoretical advances and practical applications for administrators teachers and parents The editors conclude by integrating the different points of view and showing ways in which major ideas even when given different names can be integrated to provide a holistic and integral viewpoint on giftedness and talent This book will appeal to students and scholars of creativity giftedness and gifted education as well as to practitioners teachers and education policymakers Classroom Literacy Assessment Jeanne R.
