remain moored in local waters Do autobiographical stories that travel widely have something in common about them Or is it the other way around is it our notion of world literature that imposes uniform expectations on these diverse texts And what can we gain from studying these two fields in conjunction Life Writing as World Literature brings together experts who map regional and local autobiographical traditions from six continents These scholars explore the dynamic interplay between local and global aesthetics and sociopolitical concerns presenting case studies that include prison narratives from communist regimes Japanese diaries multilingual Caribbean memoirs Indian auto biographical comics and stories by Taiwanese domestic workers To understand how and why some personal stories enter global dissemination contributors inquire into translation market mechanisms and circulation patterns while also exploring the affordances of new media and materialities when recording contemporary lives Life Writing as World Literature brings a fresh perspective to both fields world literature and life writing opening up exciting avenues of research Publishing from the South Sarah Nuttall, Isabel Hofmeyr, 2024-11-01

In 2022 Wits University Press marked its centenary making it the oldest most established university press in sub Saharan Africa While in part modelled on scholarly publishers from the global North it has had to contend with the constraints of working under global South conditions marginalisation within the university budgetary limitations small local markets unequal access to international sales channels and the privileging of English language publishing over indigenous languages This volume explores what the Press has achieved and what its modes of reinvention might look like In widening and deepening our understanding of the Press as an example of a global South scholarly publisher this volume asks how publishing can contribute to a broader understanding of Southern knowledge production Featuring contributions from scholars publishers and authors this multi voiced volume showcases the history of the Press s publishing activities over 100 years from documenting its evolution through book covers and giving credence to some of the leading black intellectuals and writers of the early 20th century and the success of those works in spite of their authors racial marginalisation to the role of women both in publishing and in the spaces afforded to women s writing on the Press s list The collection concludes with essays by contemporary authors who detail not only their experiences of working with Southern publishers but also the politics and influences governing their decisions to choose the Press over a Northern publisher Publishing from the South shows the strategies deployed by the Press to professionalise Southern knowledge making and in the process demonstrating how university presses in the global South support the scholarly missions of their universities for both local and global audiences The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav

Effects of Globalization on Education Systems and Development Macleans A. Geo-JaJa, Suzanne Majhanovich, 2016-11-04 With its comprehensive coverage and quality this provocative book is concerned with the future of developing countries in Africa Asia and Latin America By providing in depth analysis of the economic social and educational challenges of emerging states it offers an alternative roadmap to development The authors in this collection substantiate the notion that emerging states often do not participate in policy choices related to their development when faced with universalization of curriculum and internationalization of education The authors make explicit the direct and indirect effects of globalization on educational systems social equity and the path of development In demonstrating the impact of neoliberalism or market based reforms on the developing world the authors show that education without human rights is vulnerable to negative forces of globalization and internationalization The message of the book is quite pessimistic about possibilities to widen the economic space or increase freedom unless development cooperation is made possible by Helping People Help Themselves as suggested by David Ellerman The authors note that in the past the issue of emerging states as an appendage to the world economy was a fundamental question related to colonialism but now has become a question of imperialism which needs to be examined when considering the current patterns of development

Mawere,2018-09-17 It is common knowledge that development without security is like a runaway horse Yet development in Africa has been plagued by insecurities since the extractive periods of slave trade and colonialism In spite of political independence and the euphoria of sovereignty as states Africa has failed to address insecurity which continues to loom large and to threaten aspirations towards truly inclusive and sustainable development A consequence has been Africas development naivety vis vis the monopolisation of development by the predatory elite actors of the global North and their local facilitators To salvage the continent from such predation and the insecurities engendered requires novel and innovative imagination and praxis This book draws from both the haunted landscapes and bitter memories of past exploitations and from the feeding of the insatiable North with African resources and humanity It brings together essays by a concerned generation of scholars driven by the urgent need for radical decolonisation of African development and its legacies of insecurities It is handy to students and practitioners in economics policy studies political science development studies global and African studies The Guide to COIL Virtual Exchange Jon Rubin,Sarah Guth,2023-07-03 This is the authoritative guide to

The Road to Soweto Julian Brown, 2016 Conclusion Consequences Bibliography Index An Ambulance on Safari Melissa Diane Armstrong, 2020-10-22 During the apartheid era thousands of South African political activists militants and refugees fled arrest by crossing into neighbouring southern African countries Although they had escaped political oppression many required medical attention during their period of exile An Ambulance on Safari describes the efforts of the African National Congress ANC to deliver emergency healthcare to South African exiles and in the same stroke to establish political legitimacy and foster anti apartheid sentiment on an international stage Banned in South Africa from 1960 to 1990 the ANC continued its operations underground in anticipation of eventual political victory styling itself as a government in waiting In 1977 it created its own Health Department which it presented as an alternative medical service and the nucleus of a post apartheid healthcare system By publicizing its own democratic policies as well as the racist practices of healthcare delivery in South Africa the Health Department won international attention for its cause and provoked widespread condemnation of the apartheid state While the global campaign was unfolding successfully the department s provision of healthcare on the ground was intermittent as patients confronted a fledgling medical system experiencing various growing pains Still the legacy of the department would be long as many medical professionals who joined the post apartheid Department of Health in South Africa had been trained in exile during the liberation struggle With careful attention to both the international publicity campaign and on the ground medical efforts An Ambulance on Safari reveals the intricate and significant political role of the ANC s Health Department and its influence on the anti apartheid movement
