Reconceiving Reproductive Health: Theological and Christian Ethical Reflections Manitza Kotzé, Nadia Marais, Nina Müller van Velden, Nadine Bowers du Toit, Mwawi N. Chilongozi, Hanzline R. Davids, Gideon

R. Kotzé, Tayla Minnaar, Peter Nagel, Selina Palm, Jeremy Punt, Riaan Rheeder, Tanya van Wyk, Fralene van Zyl, 2019-12-12 While reproduction is fairly often touched upon in theological and Christian ethical discussions reproductive health is not. However reproductive health is a matter of theological and ethical concern. Discussion pertaining to reproductive health includes a number of debates about for instance abortion and the termination of pregnancy reproductive loss childlessness infertility stillbirth miscarriage and adoption. Additionally new reproductive possibilities made available by the development of reproductive technology have necessitated theological and ethical reflection on for example surrogacy post menopausal pregnancies litter births single mothers or fathers by choice in vitro fertilisation and the so called saviour siblings. These new developments compel us to reconceive our notions of what reproductive health is or should be. Many of these topics are receiving increasing attention in a variety of theological publications. The focus of this volume is unique however and to the best of our knowledge this is the first volume dealing not only with reproductive issues but also reflecting theologically and ethically on reproductive health. It makes a contribution by providing a variety of perspectives from different theological fields on this theme and in many chapters focussing especially on the South African context. These discussions are also part of urgent debates within churches which require developing life giving theological language and imaginative theological alternatives that may speak to experiences of matters relating to reproductive health. The popular books TV series and films that touch upon these discussions including The Handmaid's Tale and Mother strengthen the perception that a more in depth theological and ethical discussion on the theme may be necessary particularly towards exploring stories and confessions from our faith tradition that may provide us with a timely opportunity to do the important work of theological reconceiving.

Faith, Race and Inequality amongst Young Adults in South Africa Nadine Bowers Du Toit, 2022-07-04 For many young South African adults often called born frees who were born just before or just after the demise of political apartheid the ongoing realities of poverty and inequality bring to light the question of whether they truly are free in contemporary South Africa. Their lived experiences of poverty and inequality seem to be in conflict with theologically laden concepts that remain prominent in social and political life such as reconciliation forgiveness justice and restitution. This leads to a bi directional process of contesting and being contested by such notions and discourses. Furthermore in light of the double legacy of both the church and youth as resisting injustice this publication seeks to explore the many perspectives from which the Christian faith race and inequality amongst youth can be brought to light. At the Dawn of Belt and Road Andrew Scobell, Bonny Lin, Howard J.
