psychologists medical professionals hospital administrators researchers academicians and students in fields that include public health nursing community based healthcare health psychology HIV AIDS education human movement education and sport psychology Managing and Adapting Library Information Services for Future Users Osuigwe, Nkem Ekene, 2019-11-22 Information in today's modernized world has become much more attainable with the use of technology. A resource that has fallen victim to this are library services. What was once a staple of knowledge and communication has failed to keep pace with recent advancements in information service providers. Library practitioners need to learn how to manage change, build influence, and adapt their services to remain relevant within local communities. Libraries can continue to play a key role in future aspects of information provision, but proper research is a necessity. Managing and Adapting Library Information Services for Future Users is a collection of innovative research that encapsulates practices, concepts, ideas, and proposals that would chart pathways for libraries of all types to envision and understand how to thrive and remain relevant in the competitive information provision environment. It is expected to motivate librarians and information scientists to probe further into how libraries would better serve user communities of the 21st century who have options of accessing information from sources other than from libraries. While highlighting topics including artificial intelligence, human design, thinking, and alternative finance, this book is ideally designed for librarians, information specialists, architects, data scientists, researchers, community development practitioners, policymakers, faculty members, and students seeking current research on emerging advancements in library optimization.

The Palgrave Handbook of Leisure Theory Karl Spracklen, Brett Lashua, Erin Sharpe, Spencer Swain, 2017-04-18 This is the first handbook devoted entirely to leisure theory, charting the history and philosophy of leisure theories in religion and culture and rational theories of leisure in the Western philosophical tradition as well as a range of socio-cultural theories from thinkers such as Adorno, Bauman, Weber, and Marx. Drawing on contributions from experts in leisure studies from around the world, the four sections cover traditional theories of leisure, rational theories of leisure, structural theories of leisure, and post-structural theories of leisure. The Palgrave Handbook of Leisure Theory is essential reading for students and scholars working in leisure studies, social theory, as well as those working on the problem of leisure in the wider humanities and social sciences.

Decoloniality in Gender Discourse and Praxis Mtisunge Isabel Kamlongera, 2025-05-05 This book showcases Global South theorizations and understandings of gender. By taking voices from the margins and putting them center stage, this book provides an important example of decoloniality in action, challenging a field that continues to be rooted in Western Feminist epistemology. This book first analyzes the history and development of gender discourse before going on to investigate non-Western philosophy and frameworks around gender. Each chapter presents instances of decoloniality in action with possible retheorizations and rationalizations of how to be decolonial within gender discourse and praxis. This book concludes by considering what the future implications of a truly decolonial gender discourse and praxis would be. Offering detailed empirical accounts of decoloniality in action, this book will be a useful guide.

for researchers of gender and post colonial studies Contemporary South Africa and the Political Economy of Regional Development Methembe Mdlalose, Isaac Khambule, Nene Ernest Khalema, 2025-02-21 South Africa's struggle in balancing its domestic needs while playing a dynamic developmental role in the African region and global context exposes a complex web of relations shaped by its geostrategic location on the continent and the world and the staggering legacies of colonialism and apartheid. As such understanding the complexities of the global economy and of South Africa's place in it is of great importance. This book builds upon an existing body of literature which has demonstrated that while the post apartheid South African state has recast its nation building goals with advances having been made notably in the area of a stellar post apartheid constitution policy directives and democratic political integration economic integration and policy implementation presents a projection of captured interests where big business concerns are entrenched in the post apartheid state's apparent neo liberal turn. The main focus of the book is to contextualise issues relating to three main trends in global discourses on development which are significant for South Africa and indeed for the study of the political economy of regional development in the country from the prism of South Africa as a global capitalist state. These trends include the impact of globalisation regionalisation and the marginalisation of South Africa and indeed the African continent in the global economy thus unpacking the possible role that South Africa might play in regional development. This volume will be a valuable resource to academics researchers and students in the fields of regional studies economics and political theory as well as policymakers planners and local economic development practitioners Violence Against Women and Criminal Justice in Africa: Volume II Ashwanee Budoo-Scholtz, Emma Charlene Lubaale, 2021-11-02 This book examines violence against women in Africa and criminal justice from the perspective of African scholars practitioners and experts. As a global and long standing issue violence against women is gaining public visibility across the African continent with some states announcing a national crisis warranting immediate redress. At the global level the elimination of all forms of violence against all women and girls forms a key part of United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 5 Gender Equality. Split across two volumes these books present a comprehensive analysis of the latest research and theories principles and practices of criminal justice systems criminal justice accountability mechanisms and the key challenges women face in their quest for justice on the African continent. This volume II focusses on sexual violence and vulnerable women's access to justice in Africa. Volume I focusses on legislation and its impact the limitations of criminal justice responses and the cultural and social norms regarding access to justice. Together they adopt a comparative approach that highlights gaps and good practices to provide a rich source of authoritative information for promoting an intra African dialogue and cross fertilization of ideas across the different criminal justice traditions in Africa. Both volumes seek to advance discussions on eliminating violence against women in Africa and speak to those interested in criminal justice violence gender studies and African legal studies Global Development of the Community College Model Carmen L.
