¹ Also called nonconformity, voluntary standards, and extra-regulatory and noncertificated patterns. These governments are designated "noncertificated" and nonvoluntary. The noncertificated label is put on the list of "open" countries in those cases where the government itself or agencies involved in policies or standards (which it controls or issues) are perceived negatively by observers. Significant responses in different national governments, indicated by frequency and significance of standards, are also distinguished. If the specifications appear more numerous (five or more) than in the noncertificated case, they are:

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

Just as the state of Georgia is a party to the litigation, the state of Georgia is a party to the litigation.
