Education as the Driving Force of Equity for the Marginalized Boivin, Jacquelynne

Anne, Pacheco-Guffrey, Heather, 2022-01-14 In the USA racism is the most widespread root of oppression. Black people in America specifically have suffered from centuries of discrimination and still struggle to receive the same privileges as their white peers. In other countries however there are other groups that face similar struggles. Discrimination and oppression based on religion, ethnicity, socio-economic status, political affiliation and caste are just a few categories. However education is a root for widespread societal change making it essential that educators and systems of education enact the changes that need to occur to achieve equity for the groups being oppressed. Education as the Driving Force of Equity for the Marginalized highlights international research from the past decade about the role education is playing in the disruption and dismantling of perpetuated systems of oppression. This research presents the context, ideas and mechanics behind impactful efforts to dismantle systems of oppression. Covering topics such as teacher preparation, gender inequality and social justice, this work is essential for teachers, policymakers, college students, education faculty, researchers, administrators, professors and academicians.

Optimality-theoretic Syntax, Semantics, and Pragmatics Géraldine Legendre, Michael T.

Putnam, Henriëtte de Swart, Erin Zaroukian, 2016 This book investigates the morphosyntactic semantic and pragmatic properties of language and the interactions between them from the perspective of Optimality Theory. It integrates optimization processes into the formal and functional study of grammar, interpreting optimization as the result of conflicting violable ranked constraints. Unlike previous work on the topic, this book also takes into account the question of directionality of grammar. A model of grammar in which optimization processes interact bidirectionally allows both language generation (the process of selecting the optimal form of a given meaning) and language interpretation (the process of optimal interpretation of a given form) to be taken into account. Chapters in this volume explore the consequences of both symmetric unidirectional and asymmetric bidirectional versions of Optimality Theory, investigating the syntax-semantics interface, first language acquisition and sequential bilingual grammars. The volume presents cutting edge research in Optimality Theoretic syntax and semantics as well as demonstrating how optimization processes as modelled in this formalism serve as a viable

approach for linguists and scholars in related fields

Dominant Language Constellations Joseph Lo Bianco, Larissa

Aronin, 2020-09-07 This volume is dedicated to the concept and several applications of Dominant Language Constellations (DLC) by which it advances understanding of current multilingualism through addition of a novel perspective from which to view contemporary language use and acquisition. The term Dominant Language Constellation denotes the set of a person's or group's most expedient languages functioning as an entire unit and enabling an individual or group to meet their needs in a multilingual environment. The volume presents pioneering contributions that employ DLC as the lens for analysing a wide array of issues. These include multilingual syntactic development, cross-linguistic interaction and multilingual production in formal and informal educational contexts as well as linguistic profiles of multilingual groups used in elementary school and higher education. Other DLC issues include discussions of how identity, emotions and attitudes operate in various minority and majority contexts. Because the DLC concept does not assume any inherent hierarchy of languages, it can serve as a framework for public policy in multilingual countries, communities faced with challenging policy determinations regarding choice of languages for use in education settings and more widely in social institutions and the economy. Some chapters develop and extend the DLC concept; others adapt and apply it to a variety of contexts, both global and local. Many chapters feature educational and social settings across large parts of the world: Africa, Australia, Europe, North America, Canada and the USA, and Southeast Asia. The volume can serve as supplementary reading for courses on multilingualism, sociolinguistics, language policy and planning, educational linguistics, Second and Third Language Acquisition.

Large Meteorite Impacts and

Planetary Evolution VI Wolf Uwe Reimold, Christian Koeberl, 2021-09-23 This volume contains a sizable suite of contributions dealing with regional impact records: Australia, Sweden, impact craters and impactites, early Archean impacts and geophysical characteristics of impact structures, shock metamorphic investigations, post-impact hydrothermalism and structural geology and morphometry of impact structures on Earth and Mars.

Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela, 2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education, identity formation and language in post-apartheid South Africa, with specific attention to higher education. It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping, reproducing and perpetuating sectoral, class, sub-national and national identities, which in turn, in the peculiar South African setting, are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity. The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies, overt and/or covert, largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions. Together, the chapters examine the roles played by higher education language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded. The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education

The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav Visser,Ronnie Donaldson,Cecil Seethal,2016-09-20      Advances in Best-Worst Method Jafar Rezaei,Matteo Brunelli,Majid Mohammadi,2021-11-10 This book presents recent advances in the theory and application of the Best Worst Method BWM It includes selected papers from the Second International Workshop on Best Worst Method BWM2021 held in Delft The Netherlands from 10 11 June 2021 and provides valuable insights on why and how to use BWM in a diverse range of applications including health energy supply chain management and engineering The book highlights the use of BWM in different settings including single decision making vs group decision making and complete information vs incomplete and uncertain situations The papers gathered here will benefit academics and practitioners who are involved in multi criteria decision making and decision analysis

Routledge Handbook of Food as a Commons Jose Luis Vivero-Pol,Tomaso Ferrando,Olivier De Schutter,Ugo Mattei,2018-12-17 From the scientific and industrial revolution to the present day food an essential element of life has been progressively transformed into a private transnational mono dimensional commodity of mass consumption for a global market But over the last decade there has been an increased recognition that this can be challenged and reconceptualized if food is regarded and enacted as a commons This Handbook provides the first comprehensive review and synthesis of knowledge and new thinking on how food and food systems can be thought interpreted and practiced around the old new paradigms of commons and commoning The overall aim is to investigate the multiple constraints that occur within and sustain the dominant food and nutrition regime and to explore how it can change when different elements of the current food systems are explored and re imagined from a commons perspective Chapters do not define the notion of commons but engage with different schools of thought the economic approach based on rivalry and excludability the political approach recognizing the plurality of social constructions and incorporating epistemologies from the South the legal approach that describes three types of proprietary regimes private public and collective and different layers of entitlement bundles of rights and the radical activist approach that considers the commons as the most subversive coherent and history rooted alternative to the dominant neoliberal narrative These schools have different and rather diverging epistemologies vocabularies ideological stances and policy proposals to deal with the construction of food systems their governance the distributive implications and the socio ecological impact on Nature and Society The book sparks the debate on food as a commons between and within disciplines with particular attention to spaces of resistance food sovereignty de growth open knowledge transition town occupations bottom up social innovations and organizational scales local food national policies South South collaborations international governance and multi national agreements Overall it shows the consequences of a shift to the alternative paradigm of food as

Democracy's Infrastructure

Antina von Schnitzler, 2016-11-08 In the past decade South Africa's miracle transition has been interrupted by waves of protests in relation to basic services such as water and electricity Less visibly the post apartheid period has witnessed widespread illicit acts involving infrastructure including the nonpayment of service charges the bypassing of metering devices and illegal connections to services Democracy's Infrastructure shows how such administrative links to the state became a central political terrain during the antiapartheid struggle and how this terrain persists in the post apartheid present Focusing on conflicts surrounding prepaid water meters Antina von Schnitzler examines the techno political forms through which democracy takes shape Von Schnitzler explores a controversial project to install prepaid water meters in Soweto one of many efforts to curb the nonpayment of service charges that began during the antiapartheid struggle and she traces how infrastructure payment and technical procedures become sites where citizenship is mediated and contested She follows engineers utility officials and local bureaucrats as they consider ways to prompt Sowetans to pay for water and she shows how local residents and activists wrestle with the constraints imposed by meters This investigation of democracy from the perspective of infrastructure reframes the conventional story of South Africa's transition foregrounding the less visible remainders of apartheid and challenging readers to think in more material terms about citizenship and activism in the postcolonial world Democracy's Infrastructure examines how seemingly mundane technological domains become charged territory for struggles over South Africa's political transformation

Lesser Flamingos

Lothar Krienitz, 2018-12-31 This book provides insights into the fascinating life of the Lesser Flamingo Phoeniconaias minor and describes how this enigmatic bird has adapted to the extreme conditions of tropical soda lakes and can even withstand the caustic effects of brine However humans are increasingly disrupting the natural cycles of these wetlands and for these pink birds characteristic of these salt lakes it is becoming more and more difficult to find suitable habitats food and breeding grounds Their fate is considered a cautionary example of man's dealings with nature Will the Lesser Flamingo survive in a man-made world Flamingos are considered to be an embodiment of the Phoenix and the author interweaves his personal experiences with and observations of the flamingos unusual habitats with the Phoenix motif in order to stimulate reflection on the circle of life Written in an accessible style that combines science biological information and the author's own travels and fieldwork the book also includes a wealth of captivating images As such it offers a unique resource for biologists and nature-loving Africa and Asia enthusiasts alike

Forms of Empire Nathan K. Hensley, 2016-11-08 In Forms of Empire Nathan K Hensley shows how the modern state's anguished relationship to violence pushed writers to expand the capacities of literary form The Victorian era is often imagined as an age of equipoise but the period between 1837 and 1901 included more than two hundred separate wars What is the difference though between peace and war Forms of Empire unpacks the seeming paradoxes of the Pax Britannica's endless conflict showing that the much vaunted equipoise of the nineteenth-century state depended on physical force to guarantee it But the violence hidden in the shadows of all law the violence of sovereign power itself shuddered most visibly into being at the edges of law's reach in the Empire where emergency was the rule and death perversely routinized This book follows some of the nineteenth-century's most astute literary thinkers George Eliot Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins A C Swinburne H Rider Haggard and Robert Louis Stevenson among them as they wrestled with the sometimes sickening interplay between order and force and generated new formal techniques to account for fact that an Empire built on freedom had death coiled at its very heart In contrast to the progressive idealism we have inherited from the Victorians the writers at the core of Forms of Empire moved beyond embarrassment and denial in the face of modernity's uncanny relation to killing Instead they sought effects free indirect discourse lyric tension and the idea of literary character itself that might render thinkable the conceptual vertiges of liberal violence In the process they touched up to the dark core of our post-Victorian modernity Drawing on archival work literary analyses and a theoretical framework that troubles the distinction between historicist and formalist approaches Forms of Empire links the Victorian period to the present and articulates a forceful vision of why literary thinking matters now

Public Sociology Michael Burawoy, 2021-09-08 Michael Burawoy has helped to reshape the theory and practice of sociology across the Western world Public Sociology is his most thoroughgoing attempt to explore what a truly committed engaged sociology should look like in the twenty-first century Burawoy looks back on the defining moments of his intellectual journey exploring his pivotal early experiences as a researcher such as his fieldwork in a Zambian copper mine and a Chicago factory He recounts his time as a graduate and professor during the ideological ferment in sociology departments of the 1970s and explores how his experiences intersected with a changing political and intellectual world up to the present Recalling Max Weber Burawoy argues that sociology is much more than just a discipline it is a vocation to be practiced everywhere and by everyone
