NewsMax.com Vortex ,2001 Endgame for the Euro B. Lucarelli,2013-10-31 This text develops an original critical analysis of the origins and evolution of the euro and the current debt crisis that envelops the euro zone It provides a comprehensive critical historical narrative of the evolution of European Monetary Union EMU The history of the euro culminating in the Maastricht blueprint in 1992 reveals that this deeply flawed monetary edifice was informed by the prevailing neoliberal monetarist economic doctrines favoured by Germany The final blueprint witnessed the birth of an international currency which was devoid of a coherent sovereign power The author s critique is informed by post Keynesian theories of endogenous money Lucarelli provides an essential contribution to the critique of the existing economic theories that continue to inform the evolution of the euro In the absence of political union and a corresponding fiscal framework the survival of the euro remains problematic The imposition of harsh neoliberal austerity measures by the IMF EU ECB Troika on Europe s peripheral deficit countries threaten the very existence of the euro zone in its present form and have set in motion powerful centrifugal forces which could ultimately derail the entire post war European project Korean Endgame Selig S. Harrison,2009-02-10 Nearly half a century after the fighting stopped the 1953 Armistice has yet to be replaced with a peace treaty formally ending the Korean War While Russia and China withdrew the last of their forces in 1958 the United States maintains 37 000 troops in South Korea and is pledged to defend it with nuclear weapons In Korean Endgame Selig Harrison mounts the first authoritative challenge to this long standing U S policy Harrison shows why North Korea is not as many policymakers expect about to collapse And he explains why existing U S policies hamper North South reconciliation and reunification Assessing North Korean capabilities and the motivations that have led to its forward deployments he spells out the arms control concessions by North Korea South Korea and the United States necessary to ease the dangers of confrontation centering on reciprocal U S force redeployments and U S withdrawals in return for North Korean pullbacks from the thirty eighth parallel Similarly he proposes specific trade offs to forestall the North s development of nuclear weapons and missile delivery systems calling for the withdrawal of the U S nuclear umbrella in conjunction with agreements to denuclearize Korea embracing China Russia and Japan The long term goal of U S policy he argues should be the full disengagement of U S combat forces from Korea as part of regional agreements insulating the peninsula from all foreign conventional and nuclear forces A veteran journalist with decades of extensive firsthand knowledge of North Korea and long standing contacts with leaders in Washington Seoul and Pyongyang Harrison is perfectly placed to make these arguments Throughout he supports his analysis with revealing accounts of conversations with North Korean South Korean and U S leaders over thirty five years Combining probing scholarship with a seasoned reporter s on the ground experience and insights he has given us the definitive book on U S policy in Korea past present and future Moments for Nothing Gabriele Schwab,2023-10-24 Samuel Beckett s work has entranced generations of readers with its portrayal of the end times

Beckett's characters are preoccupied with death and the specters of cataclysm and extinction overshadow their barren bleak worlds. Yet somehow they endure experiencing surreal and often comic repetitions that seem at once to confront finitude and the infinite up to the limits of existence. Gabriele Schwab draws on decades of close engagement with Beckett to explore how his work speaks to our current existential anxieties and fears. Interweaving critical analysis with personal reflections, she shows how Beckett's writing provides unexpected resources for making sense of personal and planetary catastrophes. Moments for Nothing examines the ways Beckett's works have taken on new meaning in an era of crises: climate change, environmental devastation, and the COVID-19 pandemic that are defined by both paralyzing stasis and pervasive uncertainty. They also offer a bracing depiction of aging and the end of life, exploring loneliness, vulnerability, and decay. Beckett's particular vision of the apocalypse and his sense of persistence, Schwab argues, help us understand our times and even perhaps provide sanctuary and solace. Moments for Nothing features insightful close readings of iconic works such as Endgame, Happy Days, and the trilogy, as well as lesser-known writings, including the thirty-five second play Breath, which Schwab reconsiders in light of the pandemic.

British Imperialism in Qajar Iran H. Lyman Stebbins, 2016-12-18 In 1888 there were just four British consulates in the country; by 1921 there were twenty-three. H. Lyman Stebbins investigates the development and consequences of British imperialism in Iran in a time of international rivalry, revolution, and world war. While previous narratives of Anglo-Iranian relations have focused on the highest diplomatic circles in Tehran, London, Calcutta, and St. Petersburg, this book argues that British consuls and political agents made the vast southern borderlands of Iran the real centre of British power and influence during this period. Based on British consular archives from Bushihr, Shiraz, Sistan, and Muhammarah, this book reveals that Britain, India, and Iran were linked together by discourses of colonial knowledge and patterns of political, military, and economic control. It also contextualizes the emergence of Iranian nationalism as well as the failure and collapse of the Qajar state during the Iranian Constitutional Revolution and the First World War.

The Time Machine Hypothesis Damien Broderick, 2019-07-12 Every age has characteristic inventions that change the world. In the 19th century it was the steam engine and the train. For the 20th, electric and gasoline power, aircraft, nuclear weapons, even ventures into space. Today the planet is awash with electronic business chatter and virtual reality entertainment so brilliant that the division between real and simulated is hard to discern. But one new idea from the 19th century has failed so far to enter reality: time travel using machines to turn the time dimension into a two-way highway. Will it come true as foreseen in science fiction? Might we expect visits to and from the future sooner than from space? That is the Time Machine Hypothesis examined here by futurist Damien

Broderick an award winning writer and theorist of the genre of the future Broderick homes in on the topic through the lens of science as well as fiction exploring some fifty different time travel scenarios and conundrums found in the science fiction literature and film

Masters Theses in the Pure and Applied Sciences Wade H. Shafer, 2012-12-06 Masters Theses in the Pure and Applied Sciences was first conceived published and disseminated by the Center for Information and Numerical Data Analysis and Synthesis CINOAS at Purdue University in 1957 starting its coverage of theses with the academic year 1955 Beginning with Volume 13 the printing and dissemination phases of the activity were transferred to University Microfilms Xerox of Ann Arbor Michigan with the thought that such an arrangement would be more beneficial to the academic and general scientific and technical community After five years of this joint undertaking we had concluded that it was in the interest of all concerned if the printing and distribution of the volumes were handled by an international publishing house to assure improved service and broader dissemination Hence starting with Volume 18 Masters Theses in the Pure and Applied Sciences has been disseminated on a worldwide basis by Plenum Publishing Corporation of New York and in the same year the coverage was broadened to include Canadian universities All back issues can also be ordered from Plenum We have reported in Volume 33 thesis year 1988 a total of 13 273 theses titles from 23 Canadian and 1 85 United States universities We are sure that this broader base for these titles reported will greatly enhance the value of this important annual reference work While Volume 33 reports theses submitted in 1988 on occasion certain universities do report theses submitted in previous years but not reported at the time modeller Age of Betrayal Jack Beatty, 2008-04-08 Age of Betrayal is a brilliant reconsideration of America's first Gilded Age when war-born dreams of freedom and democracy died of their impossibility. Focusing on the alliance between government and railroads forged by bribes and campaign contributions, Jack Beatty details the corruption of American political culture that in the words of Rutherford B. Hayes transformed a government of the people by the people and for the people into a government by the corporations of the corporations and for the corporations. A passionate, gripping, scandalous and sorrowing history of the triumph of wealth over commonwealth. North Korea in the 21st Century J.E. Hoare, Susan Pares, 2021-11-15 North Korea is not easily accessible but boasts some of the most beautiful scenery in the Korean Peninsula and arguably in East Asia. Travel to and in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea is tightly controlled while political, economic, social and cultural life is played out in terms of a not readily understood philosophy known as juche. The country maintains a watchful and often defiant relationship with the rest of the world and insists on following its own standards and norms at all times. Nonetheless, North Korea is slowly adjusting to the great changes that have taken place since the collapse of the Soviet Union. One important expression of this softening of attitudes is its willingness to allow a greater number of foreigners to enter and live in the country. In the belief that it is better to try to understand than to routinely condemn, the authors have attempted to interpret what they observed around them during their almost two-year stay in the DPRK, setting up the first British Embassy in Pyongyang, the story of which is to be found in Part III of this book. The country's reputation as a difficult partner in world affairs could not be ignored but for them that was never the whole story. Here was a society operating certainly along very different lines but which in its essentials was recognizably Korean. The contents cover North Korean politics, the economy, the role of history, society, cultural values and visiting and living in the DPRK.

Postmodern/drama Stephen Watt, 1998. Scrutinizing the critical tendency to label texts or writers as postmodern, scholar Stephen Watt argues that reading post-modernly merely implies reading culture more broadly. In contemporary drama, Watt considers postmodernity less a question of genre or media than a mode of subjectivity shared by both playwright and audience. 6 illustrations. The Changing Language of Modern English Drama 1945-2005 K. Dorney, 2009-09-29. An account of language and drama between 1945 and 2005, synthesizing linguistic and dramatic knowledge in order to illuminate the ways in which anxieties and attitudes toward language manifest themselves in discourses on and around English theatre of the time and how these anxieties and attitudes reflect back through the theatre of this period.
