Willoughby, 2015-06-17 Excerpt from Notes on U S Government and Administration The necessity that American youths should be made acquainted not only with the leading events connected with the history of their country but also be taught something in regard to the nature and workings of the Government under which they live is now well recognized In the Grammar Schools 8th grades of Washington to meet such a want there has been introduced a course in history of political parties and forms of central and local government in the United States As a teacher in one of these schools one of the authors has found himself considerably handicapped by the impossibility of obtaining a text book covering the ground of the course prescribed and suitable either for his own use or for use by the scholars He has been obliged to collect information from various sources and give it to his class largely by dictation The only attempts which have been made to supply this want have been text books on Civil Government which have been merely expositions of the Constitution and in which no effort has been made to give what is still more important a description of the actual workings of the machine of government its divisions and organization Especially here in Washington in the very heart of government in the midst of its practical workings and surrounded by the great Departments and Congress and the Supreme Court is it important that the working features or administration of government should be known and understood These notes are intended as an aid to teacher and scholar and for use in a class the members of which are already familiar with the leading events and names in United States history They are a collection of notes on various subjects in United States history government and administration and give supplementary information which can be obtained only with great difficulty by most teachers and which cannot be obtained at all by the scholars It is intended that after finishing the study of the first four chapters the Constitution should be taken up and thoroughly learned and in connection with this chapters 5 6 7 8 and 9 each chapter to be studied as that clause in the Constitution is reached which relates to the matter treated of in that chapter thus showing the Constitutional provision and its practical working at the present time Thus in connection with Article III is to be studied that chapter entitled The Federal Judiciary etc etc About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
