The Dress Diary Kate Strasdin,2023-06-06 A revealing and unique portrait of Victorian life as told through the discovery of one woman s textile scrapbook In 1838 a young woman was given a diary on her wedding day Collecting snippets of fabric from a range of garments some her own others donated by family and friends she carefully annotated each one creating a unique record of their lives Her name was Mrs Anne Sykes Nearly two hundred years later the diary fell into the hands of Kate Strasdin a fashion historian and museum curator Using her expertise Strasdin spent the next six years unraveling the secrets contained within the album s pages and the lives of the people within Her findings are remarkable Piece by piece she charts Anne s journey from the mills of Lancashire to the port of Singapore before tracing her return to England in later years Fragments of cloth become windows into Victorian life pirates in Borneo the complicated etiquette of mourning poisonous dyes the British Empire in full swing rioting over working conditions and the terrible human cost of Britain s cotton industry This is life writing that celebrates ordinary people not the grandees of traditional written histories but the hidden figures the participants in everyday life Through the evidence of waistcoats ball gowns and mourning outfits Strasdin lays bare the whole of human experience in the most intimate of mediums the clothes we choose to wear

Crafting Textiles in the Digital Age Nithikul Nimkulrat,Faith Kane,Kerry Walton,2016-09-08 In an era of increasingly available digital resources many textile designers and makers find themselves at an interesting juncture between traditional craft processes and newer digital technologies Highly specialized craft design practitioners may now elect to make use of digital processes in their work but often choose not to abandon craft skills fundamental to their practice and aim to balance the complex connection between craft and digital processes The essays collected here consider this transition from the viewpoint of aesthetic opportunity arising in the textile designer s hands on experimentation with material and digital technologies available in the present Craft provides the foundations for thinking within the design and production of textiles and as such may provide some clues in the transition to creative and thoughtful use of current and future digital technologies Within the framework of current challenges relating to sustainable development globalization and economic constraints it is important to interrogate and question how we might go about using established and emerging technologies in textiles in a positive manner
