

Text-Dependent Questions

1

Key understanding: Identify the key understandings and insights you want students to learn from the text. (You may use this later to write an essential question.)

2

Build understanding of the meaning: Start with easier questions about what, where, why, and how, to help build understanding of the meaning of the passage.

Primary
Example

Retell the story using time sequence words such as first, next, then, & finally.

Elementary
Example

How does the main character change in the text?

3

Vocabulary and text structure: Craft questions about the most powerful academic words, and text structures (such as cause/effect, problem/solution, compare/contrast, sequence, etc.).

Primary
Example

How did the author help us understand what angle means?

Elementary
Example

What does the word postal mean in paragraph three? or Knowing the structure, what can we expect?

4

Author's purpose and point of view: Ask questions to draw the reader's attention to genre, author's purpose, point of view, and multiple perspectives.

Primary
Example

Who tells the story?

Elementary
Example

Whose point of view do we see? Whose point of view is not represented in the text? or Why does the author write this?

5

Inference questions: Challenge students to examine inferences on ideas or key details/arguments in the text.

Primary
Example

What caused the bird to fly away? Why do you think that?

Elementary
Example

What can we infer about what really happened to the main character? What evidence in the text supports your claim/ thinking?

6

Opinion and intertextual questions: Have students assert their opinions or make connections to other texts, and support their claims with evidence from the text.

Primary
Example

Is Ramona Q's family a loving family? What in the books makes you think that?

Elementary
Example

Think about both authors' attitudes towards conservation. Which author do you agree more with? Defend your thinking with evidence from the text.

Unlocking English Learners' Potential Diane Staehr Fenner, Sydney Snyder, 2017-05-16 A once in a generation text for assisting a new generation of students. Content teachers and ESOL teachers take special note if you're looking for a single resource to help your English learners meet the same challenging content standards as their English proficient peers, your search is complete. Just dip into this toolbox of strategies, examples, templates and activities from EL authorities Diane Staehr Fenner and Sydney Snyder. The best part? Unlocking English Learners' Potential supports teachers across all levels of experience. The question is not if English learners can succeed in today's more rigorous classrooms, but how. Unlocking English Learners' Potential is all about the how. How to scaffold ELs' instruction across content and grade levels. How to promote ELs' oral language development and academic language. How to help ELs analyze text through close reading and text dependent questions. How to build ELs' background knowledge. How to design and use formative assessment with ELs. Along the way, you'll build the collaboration, advocacy and leadership skills that we all need if we're to fully support our English learners. After all, any one of us with at least one student acquiring English is now a teacher of ELs. Schools are not intentionally equitable places for English learners to achieve, but they could be if the right system of support were put in
