Boating Life ,2001-03 Skiing ,2001-10 Functional Fitness Paul D'Arezzo, 2005 This timely book written by a physician is directed primarily at a population increasingly beset by muscle and joint pain disability and loss of function at earlier and earlier ages The book s premise is that there are things only we can do to help prevent much of the muscle and joint pain disability and loss of function commonly associated with aging We are often a little too quick to go to the medicine cabinet to seek orthopedic surgery or simply to blame our loss of function on aging As an aside much of looking old no matter what age you pick for that is in great part related to our posture and to how we move or don't move. Specifically the four things we need to do to prevent or at least forestall many of the changes with aging are to preserve and maintain our muscular strength, our flexibility, our posture, and to stay active. The book attempts to change the way we think about this important subject. It is written in a fun, easy-to-read style for the layperson with many illustrations and includes numerous short exercise menus for various problems and over fifty function exercises.

Cookbook for a New Europe Richard Segal, 2012-01-12 To serve society or humanity? It's been fourteen years since the basketball mad detective Fran O'Brien captured the urban bomber Lavi who has since moved to Spain and rehabilitated himself beyond recognition. Fran is fresh off a two-year sabbatical during which he tended to 11-year-old Ben, the family comedian, and 17-year-old Alice, with yes as much attitude as you'd expect. His estranged boss Karl has retired, and Fran must learn to deal with the new brass, no small task itself. His first assignment is to investigate an act of alleged political corruption which seems more wild goose chase than duck in a barrel, leading him to question his decision to return to work. After an extended family culinary expedition to Budapest, Fran's nine-to-five job takes him almost to Albany and to Central America where he must untangle the mother of all webs. His wife, local family doctor Darby, goes along for the ride, and oh, piña colodas to die for. For a detective and amateur gourmet chef like no other, Cookbook for a New Europe is a ride Fran certainly didn't expect. He's been fiercely focused for years, but a spate of unintended yet momentous events unfolds once he gives free rein to his emotions and his recipes.
