Drayton, Meghan Pfister, 2012-10-12 Connected by a computer telecommunications network ninth graders from eight high schools scattered thousands of miles across Alaska work together building a robot submarine to gather samples from the floor of Prince William Sound This is high school science as some teachers and educational reformers today envision it centered on student projects that encourage learning by doing supported by modern technology enriched by collaboration among students and teachers both face to face and far apart This example is drawn from LabNet a three year effort funded by the National Science Foundation The project was conducted by Technical Education Research Centers TERC a nonprofit educational organization dedicated to improving mathematics and science education Eventually reaching 562 teachers in 37 states Puerto Rico and American Samoa LabNet had a direct impact on their classroom practice In a follow up evaluation the majority said they had assigned their students more projects and had used LabNet s telecommunications network to exchange project ideas with other teachers This book is the story of LabNet as told by its editors with 14 additional essays on science projects both theoretical and practical by LabNet teachers and TERC staff Effective Teacher Collaboration for English Language Learners Bogum Yoon, 2021-09-23 This volume explores the value of teacher collaboration in meeting the needs of diverse English language learners ELLs A range of research based chapters demonstrate examples of effective collaboration between English language specialists and content area teachers and offer recommendations for collaborative practice Foregrounding the ways in which teacher collaboration can better support the needs of ELLs in elementary middle and high school classrooms this volume provides evidence based insights and suggestions to underpin effective teacher collaboration across the curriculum Through case study examples readers can understand common challenges and pitfalls as well as best practices and how to apply teacher collaboration in real classroom settings Research studies in subject areas including mathematics science and English language arts provide a basis for practical evidence based recommendations to engender mutual trust teacher agency and the development of shared goals to enhance instruction for ELLs achievement This book provides educators with new insights from empirical studies and is vital reading for researchers scholars teachers and teacher educators who are aware of the importance of collaboration for student success Those involved in ESL bilingual and dual language programs may be particularly interested in this volume The Oxford Handbook of Hope Matthew W. Gallagher, Shane J. Lopez, 2018 Hope has long been a topic of interest for psychologists philosophers educators and physicians In the past few decades researchers from various disciplines and from around the world have studied how hope relates to superior academic performance improved outcomes in the workplace and improved psychological and physical health in individuals of all ages Edited by Matthew W Gallagher and the late Shane J Lopez The Oxford Handbook of Hope provides readers with a thorough and comprehensive update on the past 25 years of hope research while simultaneously providing an outline of what leading hope researchers believe the future of this line of research to be In this extraordinary volume Gallagher Lopez and their expert team of contributors discuss such topics as how best to define hope how hope is distinguished from related philosophical and psychological constructs what the current best practices are for measuring and quantifying hope interventions and strategies for promoting hope across a variety of settings the impact it has on physical and mental health and the ways in which hope promotes positive functioning Throughout its pages these experts review what is currently known about hope and identify the topics and questions that will help guide the next decade of research ahead

Closing the School Discipline Gap Daniel J. Losen, 2014-12-01 Educators remove over 3.45 million students from school annually for disciplinary reasons despite strong evidence that school suspension policies are harmful to students The research presented in this volume demonstrates that disciplinary policies and practices that schools control directly exacerbate today's profound inequities in educational opportunity and outcomes Part I explores how suspensions flow along the lines of race gender and disability status Part II examines potential remedies that show great promise including a district wide approach in Cleveland Ohio aimed at social and emotional learning strategies Closing the School Discipline Gap is a call for action that focuses on an area in which public schools can and should make powerful improvements in a relatively short period of time
