Godard and the Essay Film Rick Warner, 2018-07-15 Godard and the Essay Film offers a history and analysis of the essay film one of the most significant forms of intellectual filmmaking since the end of World War II Warner incisively reconsiders the defining traits and legacies of this still evolving genre through a groundbreaking examination of the vast and formidable oeuvre of Jean Luc Godard The essay film has often been understood by scholars as an eccentric development within documentary but Warner shows how an essayistic process of thinking can materialize just as potently within narrative fiction films through self critical investigations into the aesthetic political and philosophical resources of the medium Studying examples by Godard and other directors such as Orson Welles Chris Marker Agnès Varda and Harun Farocki Warner elaborates a fresh account of essayistic reflection that turns on the imaginative constructive role of the viewer Through fine grained analyses this book contributes the most nuanced description yet of the relational interface between viewer and screen in the context of the essay film Shedding new light on Godard's work from the 1960s to the 2010s in film television video and digital stereoscopy Warner distills an understanding of essayistic cinema as a shared exercise of critical rumination and perceptual discovery

The Radical Faces of Godard and Bertolucci Yosefa Loshitzky, 1995 From the radical 1960s through the neo conservative 1980s and into the early 1990s the provocative cinematic careers of French director Jean Luc Godard and Italian director Bernardo Bertolucci have captured the imagination of filmgoers and critics alike Although their films differ greatly Godard produces highly cerebral and theoretical works while Bertolucci creates films with more spectacle and emotionalism their careers have sparked lively discussion and debate mostly centred around the notion of an Oedipal struggle between them

Van Gogh in Popular Culture Lynnette Porter, 2015-12-11 Vincent van

Gogh continues to fascinate more than a century after his death in 1890 Yet how much of what is commonly known about this world renowned artist is accurate Though he left thousands of works and a trove of letters the definitive Van Gogh remains elusive Was he a madman who painted his greatest pieces in a passionate fury or a lifelong student of art literature and science who carefully planned each composition Was he a loner dedicated only to his craft or an active collaborator with his contemporaries Why is he best known for self mutilation and The Starry Night This book has biographers scriptwriters lyricists actors museum curators and tour guides among others presenting diverse interpretations of his life and work creating a mythic persona that may in fact help us in the search for the real Van Gogh

Emotion and the Structure of Narrative Film Ed S. Tan, 2013-10-16 Introduced one hundred years ago film has since become part of our lives For the past century however the experience offered by fiction films has remained a mystery Questions such as why adult viewers cry and shiver and why they care at all about fictional characters while aware that they contemplate an entirely staged scene are still unresolved In addition it is unknown why spectators find some film experiences entertaining that have a clearly aversive nature outside the cinema These and other questions make the psychological status of emotions allegedly induced by the fiction film highly problematic Earlier attempts to answer these questions have been limited to a few genre studies In recent years film criticism and the theory of film structure have made use of psychoanalytic concepts which have proven insufficient in accounting for the diversity of film induced affect In contrast academic psychology during the century of its existence has made extensive study of emotional responses provoked by viewing fiction film but has taken the role of film as a natural stimulus completely for granted The present volume bridges the gap between critical theories of film on the one hand and recent psychological theory and research of human emotion on the other in an attempt to explain the emotions provoked by fiction film This book integrates insights on the narrative structure of fiction film including its themes plot structure and characters with recent knowledge on the cognitive processing of natural events and narrative and person information It develops a theoretical framework for systematically describing emotion in the film viewer The question whether or not film produces genuine emotion is answered by comparing affect in the viewer with emotion in the real world experienced by persons witnessing events that have personal significance to them Current understanding of the psychology of emotions provides the basis for identifying critical features of the fiction film that trigger the general emotion system Individual emotions are classified according to their position in the affect structure of a film a larger system of emotions produced by one particular film as a whole Along the way a series of problematic issues is dealt with notably the reality of the emotional stimulus in film the identification of the viewer with protagonists on screen and the necessity of the viewer's cooperation in arriving at a genuine emotion Finally it is argued that film produced emotions are genuine emotions in response to an artificial stimulus Film can be regarded as a fine tuned machine for a continuous stream of emotions that are entertaining after all The work paves the way for understanding and in principle predicting emotions in the film viewer using existing psychological instruments of investigation Dealing with the problems of film induced affect and rendering them accessible to formal modeling and experimental method serves a wider interest of understanding aesthetic emotion the feelings that man made products and especially works of art can evoke in the beholder

Time Regained Delia Ungureanu, 2021-10-07 Awarded the Tudor Vianu Prize for Literary and Cultural Theory by the National Museum of Romanian Literature Over the past 30 years the fields of world literature and world cinema have developed on parallel but largely separate tracks with little recognition of their underlying similarities and the ways that each can learn from the other Time Regained does not move from literature to cinema but exists simultaneously in both fields The 7 filmmakers selected here Andrei Tarkovsky Akira Kurosawa Martin Scorsese Ra l Ru z Wong Kar Wai Stephen Daldry and Paolo Sorrentino are themselves also writers or people with literary training and they produce a new type of world cinema thanks to their understanding of the world simultaneously through literature and film In the process their films produce new readings of literary texts that world literature studies wouldn't have been able to achieve with its own instruments Time Regained examines how filmmakers build on literature to reconfigure the world as a landscape of dreams and how they use film to reinvent the narrative techniques of the authors on whom they draw The selected filmmakers draw inspiration from French surrealists modernists Marcel Proust Virginia Woolf and Marguerite Yourcenar and predecessors such as Dante and Cao Xueqin In the process these filmmakers cross the borders between film and literature nation and world dream and reality Maurice Pialat Marja Warehime, 2013-07-19 One of the most gifted directors of the post New Wave Maurice Pialat is frequently compared to such legendary filmmakers as Jean Renoir and Robert Bresson A quintessentially realist filmmaker who like Bresson was also trained as a painter Pialat's particular form of realism influenced an entire generation of young filmmakers in the 1990s This volume is the first book length study of Pialat's cinema in English It provides an introduction to a complex and difficult director who saw himself as a marginal and marginalised filmmaker but whose films are deeply rooted in French society and culture Pialat was long considered the only major filmmaker to portray la France profonde the heart of France the people who as he put it take the subway Taken as a whole Pialat's work can be seen both as an oblique autobiography and the portrait of a fundamental institution the family over several generations

The Films of Akira Kurosawa Donald Richie, 1998 Film scholars and enthusiasts will welcome this new edition of Donald Richie's incomparable study last updated in 1984 The Method section filmography and bibliography contain new information and Richie has added chapters on Ran Dreams Rhapsody in August and Madadayo Kurosawa's films display an extraordinary breadth and an astonishing strength from the philosophic and sexual complexity of Rashomon to the moral dedication of Ikiru from the naked violence of Seven Samurai to the savage comedy of Yojimbo from the terror filled feudalism of Throne of Blood to the piercing wit of Sanjuro Running through all Kurosawa's work is a tough humane and profoundly ethical concern for the painful beautiful frequently ridiculous ambiguities of human life Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and postwar art to explore places devoid of human agents in the wake of violent encounters To see the scenery together with the crime elicits a double interrogation not merely of a physical site but also of its formation as an aesthetic artefact and ultimately of our own acts of looking and imagining Closely engaging with a vast array of works made by artists filmmakers and photographers each who has forged a distinct vantage point on the aftermath of crime and conflict the study selectively maps the afterlife of landscape in search of the political and ethical agency of the image By way of a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography brings landscape studies into close dialogue with contemporary theory by paying sustained attention to how the gesture of retracing past events facilitates new configurations of the present and future

Secularism, Theology and Islam Jennifer Elisa Veninga, 2014-03-27 Secularism Theology and Islam offers a uniquely theological analysis of the historic Danish cartoon crisis of 2005 2006 in which the publication of twelve images of the Prophet Muhammad in the Danish newspaper Jyllands Posten ignited violent global protests The crisis represents a politically culturally and religiously important event of the early 21st century and Jennifer Veninga explores the important question of why the cartoons were published in Denmark when they were and why this matters to the larger global community The book outlines three main interpretations of the affair as they were framed by international news media as an issue exclusively about freedom of speech as related to a clash of civilizations or exclusively as a matter of international politics Whilst these are important to note the author argues that the crisis was far more complex than any of these interpretations suggest and argues that an alternative methodology can be found in philosopher Charles Taylor's concept of the social imaginary which refers to the shared norms expectations images and narratives of a community or nation that inform many of its shared practices Describing the Danish social imaginary as a paradox of Christianity and secularism Veninga explains why the new presence of Islam has been perceived as such a threat to Danish identity The author also maintains that despite tendencies toward exclusion the Danish imaginary also supports a move toward authentic religious pluralism Understanding the Danish cartoon crisis is important for any community struggling with new religious diversity especially those with largely secular identities Furthermore the method used to examine the crisis provides a theological analytical framework applicable to a wide variety of contemporary social and political movements and issues
