Unhelpful thinking styles

Predictions

I make negative predictions about what might happen in the future even though I have no way of knowing this.

Judgements

I make judgements about things even though there is no evidence or facts to back this up.

Catastrophising

I always think of the worst case scenario or think that something really bad is going to happen.

Perfectionist

I put a lot of pressure on myself to do well and set unrealistically high expectations for myself. I think everything has to be exactly right.

Negative glasses

When I have my negative glasses on, I only see the bad things that happen and I don't notice any of the good things.

Feelings

If I notice negative feelings in myself or my body and automatically think that it means something bad is happening or will happen.

Mental filter

I tend to take more notice of the negative things in a situation and down play the positive things.

Memories

Some things trigger my negative memories which makes me think something bad will happen again now.

Black & white thoughts

I usually think things are either really good or really bad and there is no in between.

Mind reading

I assume I know what other people are thinking and this is usually negative things about me.

Compare & despair

I notice positive things about other people but then compare myself negatively to them and think others are better than me.

I am very critical of myself and my abilities.

Benson, Sally S. Simpson, Melissa Rorie, Jay P. Kennedy, 2024-01-22 White Collar Crime An Opportunity Perspective analyzes white collar crime using the opportunity perspective which assumes that all crimes depend on offenders recognizing an opportunity to commit an offense The authors explicate the processes and situational conditions that facilitate opportunities for white collar crimes and the likelihood of being victimized by white collar crime In addition they offer potential policy solutions that will mitigate this persistent and widespread social problem while being realistic and balanced in their treatment of the difficulties of control With this fourth edition Benson and Simpson have enlisted the aid of two young white collar crime scholars Jay P Kennedy and Melissa Rorie who bring new areas of expertise to the book that enhance its analytical depth and coverage of both white collar crime and the opportunity perspective New up to date case studies are included along with examinations of recent investigations into white collar crime and its control These timely updates reaffirm that this rigorous yet accessible book will remain a core resource for undergraduate and early graduate courses on Assessing Teacher Effectiveness Jim Campbell, Leonidas Kyriakides, Daniel Muijs, Wendy Robinson, 2012-10-12 How can we really evaluate teacher effectiveness Systems of teacher appraisal and evaluation are being created across the world in order to monitor and assess teacher performance But do the models used really give a fair evaluation Based on international research the authors argue that teacher effectiveness is too narrowly conceptualised and methods of measuring it are not attuned to the real contexts in which teachers work They propose a model of differential teacher effectiveness which takes into account that teachers may be more effective with some categories of students than with others teachers may be more effective with some teaching contexts than others teachers may be more effective with some subjects or components than with others Building on and developing previous research on models of teacher effectiveness and current theories the authors open up possible new debates which will be of interest to academics and researchers working in this area throughout the world Perspectives on the Nature of Intellectual Styles Robert J.
