The Routledge Companion to Criticality in Art, Architecture, and Design Chris Brishin, Myra Thiessen, 2018-10-03 The Routledge Companion to Criticality in Art Architecture and Design presents an in depth exploration of criticism and criticality in theory and practice across the disciplines of art architecture and design Professional criticism is a vital part of understanding the cultural significance of designed objects and environments that we engage with on a daily basis yet there is evidence to show that this practice is changing This edited volume investigates how practitioners researchers educators and professionals engage with think about and value the practice of critique With contributions from a multi disciplinary authorship from nine countries the UK USA Australia India Netherlands Switzerland South Africa Belgium and Denmark this companion provides a wide range of leading perspectives evaluating the landscape of criticality and how it is being shaped by technological and social advances Illustrated with over 60 black and white images and structured into five sections The Routledge Companion to Criticality in Art Architecture and Design is a comprehensive volume for researchers educators and students exploring the changing role of criticism through interdisciplinary perspectives

Knowledge and Text Production in an Age of Print: China, 900-1400, 2011-02-17 The essays in this volume seek to flesh out the diversity of Chinese textual production during the period spanning the tenth and fourteenth centuries when printing became a widely used technology By exploring the social and political relations that shaped the production and reproduction of printed texts the impact of intellectual and religious formations on book production the interaction between print and other media readership and the growth of collections the contributors offer the first comprehensive examination of the cultural history of book production in the first 500 years of the history of printing In an afterword historian of the early modern European book Ann Blair reflects on the volume s implications for the comparative study of the impact of printing

Proceedings of the Urban Signage Forum, April 22 and 23, 1976, Chicago, Illinois ,1977 New Selected Journals, 1939-1995 Stephen Spender, 2012-07-03 Private faces in public places Are wiser and nicer Than public faces in private places W H Auden dedication to Stephen Spender 1932 Stephen Spender wrote almost a million words of journal entries between his September Journal in 1939 and his death in 1995 In choosing from these voluminous journals for the new edition the editors have tried to provide a picture of the various lives Spender brought together in autobiographical form The earlier

1985 edition of the Journals was overseen by the author and it privileged his thoughts about poetry his own and other people's. The new edition includes the final ten years of Spender's life and provides access to the more intimate thoughts and feelings of the private man but equally documents his life as a public intellectual who played a part in shaping the European literary and intellectual culture of his age. As we look back on the dramatic events of the twentieth century we find that Spender was involved in many of them: the reconstruction of Germany and the construction of Europe as UNESCO's first Literary Councillor, the development of the cultural Cold War as editor of Encounter, the founding of Israel, the anti-Vietnam movement in America. The Journals provide a personal version of sixty turbulent years of the twentieth century, hovering between diary, autobiography and history. Architecture History, Theory and Preservation Arleen

Pabón-Charneco, 2020-11-29 Architecture History Theory and Preservation critically explores the historic development, theoretical underpinnings and conservation practices of architecture. Complete with 170 full color images, this volume presents architectural and urban examples from Prehistory to the Middle Ages, chronologically and thematically, examining contextual issues that provide each period with distinctive expressions. The special features, structural systems, materials and construction technologies are analyzed, as well as how the international community deals with the task of interpreting and preserving certain historic properties. This publication provides professors and students of architecture, art history, historic preservation and related fields with an integrated view of architecture using historical, theoretical and conservation perspectives. As an architect, architectural historian and preservationist herself, Dr. Pabón-Charneco weaves a field of relationships regarding each building, creating a silent yet empowering bridge between past and present. Computer

Ladies Only maps out the early culture of cinema stardom in India from its emergence in the silent era to the decade after Indian independence in the mid twentieth century Neepa Majumdar combines readings of specific films and stars with an analysis of the historical and cultural configurations that gave rise to distinctly Indian notions of celebrity She argues that discussions of early cinematic stardom in India must be placed in the context of the general legitimizing discourse of colonial improvement that marked other civic and cultural spheres as well and that vernacular modernist anxieties over the New Woman had limited resonance here Rather it was through emphatically nationalist discourses that Indian cinema found its model for modern female identities Considering questions of spectatorship gossip popularity and the dominance of a star based production system Majumdar details the rise of film stars such as Sulochana Fearless Nadia Lata Mangeshkar and Nargis

The New European Cinema Rosalind Galt,2006-03-21 New European Cinema offers a compelling response to the changing cultural shapes of Europe charting political aesthetic and historical developments through innovative readings of some of the most popular and influential European films of the 1990s Made around the time of the revolutions of 1989 but set in post World War II Europe these films grapple with the reunification of Germany the disintegration of the Balkans and a growing sense of historical loss and disenchantment felt across the continent They represent a period in which national borders became blurred and the events of the mid twentieth century began to be reinterpreted from a multinational European perspective Featuring in depth case studies of films from Italy Germany eastern Europe and Scandinavia Rosalind Galt reassesses the role that nostalgia melodrama and spectacle play in staging history She analyzes Giuseppe Tornatore's Cinema Paradiso Michael Radford's Il Postino Gabriele Salvatores's Mediterraneo Emir Kusturica's Underground and Lars von Trier's Zentropa and contrasts them with films of the immediate postwar era including the neorealist films of Roberto Rossellini and Vittorio De Sica socialist realist cinema in Yugoslavia Billy Wilder's A Foreign Affair and Carol Reed's The Third Man Going beyond the conventional focus on national cinemas and heritage Galt's transnational approach provides an account of how post Berlin Wall European cinema inventively rethought the identities ideologies image and popular memory of the continent By connecting these films to political and philosophical debates on the future of Europe as well as to contemporary critical and cultural theories Galt redraws the map of European cinema

Picture Freedom Jasmine Nichole Cobb,2015-04-03 In the decades leading up to the end of U S slavery many free Blacks sat for daguerreotypes decorated in fine garments to document their self possession People pictured in these early photographs used portraiture to seize control over representation of the free Black body and reimagine Black

visuality divorced from the cultural logics of slavery In Picture Freedom Jasmine Nichole Cobb analyzes the ways in which the circulation of various images prepared free Blacks and free Whites for the emancipation of formerly unfree people of African descent She traces the emergence of Black freedom as both an idea and as an image during the early nineteenth century Through an analysis of popular culture of the period including amateur portraiture racial caricatures joke books antislavery newspapers abolitionist materials runaway advertisements ladies magazines and scrapbooks as well as scenic wallpaper Cobb explores the earliest illustrations of free Blacks and reveals the complicated route through visual culture toward a vision of African American citizenship Picture Freedom reveals how these depictions contributed to public understandings of nationhood among both domestic eyes and the larger Atlantic world Thus Have I Seen Andy Rotman, 2009 This book offers a new approach to understanding Buddhist lay and monastic practice by recognizing the crucial role that visual practices played in Indian Buddhism in the early centuries of the Common Era In the genre of Indian Buddhist narratives known as avadana most lay religious practice consists not of reading praying or meditating but of visually engaging with certain kinds of objects The key for understanding the Buddhist conceptualization about the world and the ways it should be navigated is found in these stories in ways of seeing and the results of seeing Visions of the Human Tom Slevin, 2015-05-28 In what ways do the artistic avant garde s representations of the human body reflect the catastrophe of World War I The European modernists were inspired by developments in the nineteenth century yielding new forms of knowledge about the nature of reality and repositioning the human body as the new object of knowledge New visions of the human subject were created within this transformation However modernity s reactionary political climate for which World War I provided a catalyst transformed a once liberal ideal between humanity environment and technology into a tool of disciplinary rationalisation Visions of the Human considers the consequences of this historical moment for the twentieth and twenty first centuries It explores the ways in which the technologies of the self that inspired the avant garde were increasingly instrumentalised by conservative politics urbanism consumer capitalism and the society of the spectacle This is an engaging and powerful study which challenges prior ideas and explores new ways of thinking about modern visual culture
