The Oxford Handbook of Ethics and Art James Harold, 2023 Art has not always had the same salience in philosophical discussions of ethics that many other elements of our lives have There are well defined areas of applied ethics corresponding to nature business health care war punishment animals and more but there is no recognized research program in applied ethics of the arts or art ethics Art often seems to belong to its own sphere of value separate from morality The first questions we ask about art are usually not about its moral rightness or virtue but about its beauty or originality However it is impossible to do any serious thinking about the arts without engaging in ethical questions

All Our Families Jennifer Natalya Fink, 2022-03-22 A provocation to reclaim our disability lineage in order to profoundly reimagine the possibilities for our relationship to disability kinship and carework Disability is often described as a tragedy a crisis or an aberration though 1 in 5 people worldwide have a disability Why is this common human experience rendered exceptional In All Our Families disability studies scholar Jennifer Natalya Fink argues that this originates in our families When we cut a disabled member out of the family story disability remains a trauma as opposed to a shared and ordinary experience This makes disability and its diagnosis traumatic and exceptional Weaving together stories of members of her own family with sociohistorical research Fink illustrates how the eradication of disabled people from family narratives is rooted in racist misogynistic and antisemitic sorting systems inherited from Nazis By examining the rhetoric of genetic testing she shows that a fear of disability begins before a child is even born and that a fear of disability is fundamentally a fear of care Fink analyzes our racist and sexist care systems exposing their inequities as a source of stigmatizing ableism Inspired by queer and critical race theory Fink calls for a lineage of disability a reclamation of disability as a history a culture and an identity Such a lineage offers a means of seeing disability in the context of a collective sense of belonging as cause for celebration and is a call for a radical reimagining of carework and kinship All Our Families challenges us to re lineate disability within the family as a means of repair toward a more inclusive and flexible structure of care and community
