scheduled dates of 8-11 September 2020 organised by the University of Perugia Italy. The book includes 28 full papers and 13 short papers selected from a total of 78 submissions, the abstracts of 3 invited talks and 13 demonstration abstracts. The interdisciplinary nature of the field is reflected and contributions cover both theory and practice. Theoretical contributions include new formal models, the study of formal or computational properties of models, designs for implemented systems and experimental research. Practical papers include applications to medicine, law and criminal investigation, chatbots and online product reviews. The argument mining trend from previous COMMA s is continued while an emerging trend this year is the use of argumentation for explainable AI. The book provided an overview of the latest work on computational models of argument and will be of interest to all those working in the field. Handbook of the Library State University of Iowa.
