Query Processing in Database Systems W. Kim, D.S. Reiner, Don Batory, 2012-12-06 This book is an anthology of the results of research and development in database query processing during the past decade The relational model of data provided tremendous impetus for research into query processing Since a relational query does not specify access paths to the stored data the database management system DBMS must provide an intelligent query processing subsystem which will evaluate a number of potentially efficient strategies for processing the query and select the one that optimizes a given performance measure The degree of sophistication of this subsystem often called the optimizer critically affects the performance of the DBMS Research into query processing thus started has taken off in several directions during the past decade The emergence of research into distributed databases has enormously complicated the tasks of the optimizer In a distributed environment the database may be partitioned into horizontal or vertical fragments of relations Replicas of the fragments may be stored in different sites of a network and even migrate to other sites The measure of performance of a query in a distributed system must include the communication cost between sites To minimize communication costs for queries involving multiple relations across multiple sites optimizers may also have to consider semi join techniques

Computer Science Foundations Quiz Book S.R. Subramanya, This book is a self assessment book quiz book It has a vast collection of over 2 500 questions along with answers The questions have a wide range of difficulty levels They have been designed to test a good understanding of the fundamental aspects of the major core areas of Computer Science The topical coverage includes data representation digital design computer organization software operating systems data structures algorithms programming languages and compilers automata languages and computation database systems computer networks and computer security Continuous Media Databases Aidong Zhang, Abraham Silberschatz, Avi Silberschatz, Sharad Mehrotra, 2000-05-31 Continuous Media Databases brings together in one place important contributions and up to date research results in this fast moving area Continuous Media Databases serves as an excellent reference providing insight into some of the most challenging research issues in the field Biological and Medical Data Analysis José María Barreiro, Fernando Martín-Sánchez, Víctor Maojo, Ferran Sanz, 2004-12-21 This year the 5th International Symposium on Medical Data Analysis has experimented an apparently slight modification The word biological has been added to the title of the conferences The motivation for this shift goes beyond the wish to attract a different kind of professional It is linked to recent trends to produce a shift within various biomedical areas towards genomics based research and practice For instance medical informatics and bioinformatics are being linked in a synergic area denominated biomedical informatics Similarly patient care is being improved leading to concepts and areas such as molecular medicine genomic medicine or personalized healthcare The results from different genome projects the advances in systems biology and the integrative approaches to physiology would not be possible without new approaches in data and information processing Within this scenario novel methodologies and tools will be needed to link clinical and genomic information for instance for genetic clinical trials integrated data mining of genetic clinical records and clinical databases or gene expression studies among others Genomic medicine presents a series of challenges that need to be addressed by researchers and practitioners In this sense this ISBMDA conference aimed to become a place where researchers involved in biomedical research could meet and discuss For this conference the classical contents of former ISMDA conferences were updated to incorporate various issues from the biological fields Similarly to the incorporation of these new topics of the conference data analysts will face in this world of genomic medicine and related areas significant challenges in research education and practice

Proceedings of the European Computing Conference Nikos Mastorakis, Valeri Mladenov, Vassiliki T. Kontargyri, 2010-03-25 Software testing has been considered so important that organizations can assign teams only for testing activities Testing is an important activity to ensure software quality Tests are usually run several times to certify that code maintenance did not accidentally insert defects into working parts of the software In such situations test teams shall be able to estimate the required effort to execute test cases in its schedules and to request more resources or negotiate deadlines when necessary When regarding model based testing approaches that we use in our documented Integrated and Optimized Software Testing methodology IOSTP 1.4 a high number of test cases can be automatically generated As team resources are limited it may be not practical to execute all generated test cases Their complexity usually determines the effort required to execute them and it can be used for planning test resources and test suites Several software development estimation models have been proposed over the years However these models do not estimate the effort for executing a given test suite since their estimations are based on software development complexity instead of its test planning test case design and test execution complexity According to our reading of the literature e g 5 14 best practices in model based effort estimation include Local calibration or LC i e using local data to set two special tuning parameters Stratification i e given a database of past projects and a current project to be estimated restrict local calibration to just those records from similar projects

Database Systems for Advanced Applications ..., 1993 Modeling and Simulation, 1987 Advances in Concurrent Engineering Biren Prasad, 2000-07-10 Concurrency in Programming and Database Systems Arthur J. Bernstein, Philip M. Lewis, 1993 This book is intended for a senior level undergraduate or a graduate course in a computer science or engineering department The prerequisites for the book are general in nature A student should have the mathematical sophistication of a senior in computer science or engineering be comfortable with the techniques for constructing ordinary sequential programs and be familiar with practical issues relating to concurrency in the operating systems area This foundation can be supplied by the standard introductory level undergraduate mathematics and computer science courses together with an undergraduate course in operating systems We review much of this material in the first three chapters of the book Chapter 1 covers those aspects of an undergraduate operating systems course that are relevant while Chapters 2 and 3 contain an introduction to the mathematics of formal reasoning and develop the Hoare logic approach to reasoning about sequential programs In Chapter 3 we present methods for reasoning about abstract data types Later we use abstract data types as a structuring mechanism when we consider monitors remote procedure calls and databases Also in Chapter 3 we discuss coroutines which although sequential involve some of the same reasoning techniques as concurrent constructs Chapters 4 and 5 cover shared memory systems including critical sections semaphores and monitors Chapters 6 7 and 8 cover message passing systems including synchronous and asynchronous message passing virtual circuits and datagrams and remote procedure calls and rendezvous Chapter 9 discusses failures in centralized and distributed systems including failure atomicity and stable storage It also contains several distributed algorithms relevant to issues in the text including distributed synchronization the Byzantine Generals Problem and clock synchronization Chapters 10 11 and 12 discuss centralized and distributed transaction processing systems Topics include typed and untyped databases nested transactions replication and atomic commit protocols We develop the design theory of database concurrency control and failure atomicity We show how this theory can be used to obtain increased concurrency in object oriented databases where the database items are instances of abstract data types Distributed algorithms for leader election are also introduced because of their relationship to atomic commit protocols

Justification Methods for Computer Integrated Manufacturing Systems H. R. Parsaei, Thomas Ward, Waldemar Karwowski, 1990 Advanced automated manufacturing technology systems are perceived by many manufacturers to be the latest alternative to meet today s global market needs Higher productivity better quality and flexibility are just a few examples of the numerous benefits which can be achieved by implementing modern computer controlled manufacturing systems Many firms perceive Computer Integrated Manufacturing

CIM as one of the most promising paths to achieve manufacturing excellence A CIM project can not be successfully implemented unless it is supported by long term strategic planning and economic analysis of the required capital investment decisions This book treats planning as the first step in the justification process Papers explore both strategic planning for computer integrated manufacturing CIM and more detailed issues such as part tool grouping and machine loading The critical issue of planning for communications between various levels of computation and devices on the floor is reviewed Capacity planning and planning for assembly and quality control are also covered The important role of champions in justification is explored Advances in Database Technology EDBT '96 Mokrane Bouzeghoub, Georges Gardarin, 1996-03-18 This book presents the refereed proceedings of the Fifth International Conference on Extending Database Technology EDBT 96 held in Avignon France in March 1996 The 31 full revised papers included were selected from a total of 178 submissions also included are some industrial track papers contributed by partners of several ESPRIT projects The volume is organized in topical sections on data mining active databases design tools advanced DBMS optimization warehousing system issues temporal databases the web and hypermedia performance workflow management database design and parallel databases
