With respect to market failures, the government can use its power to tax, to collect the money necessary to pay for public goods and to subsidize the production of products that offer positive externalities. With respect to reducing risk, the government can use its power to coerce, to both threaten and then punish those engaging in fraud, extortion, and other unethical business practices as well as to enforce environmental, health, and safety regulations.

He famously observed, "The art of taxation consists in so plucking the goose as to obtain the largest possible amount of feathers with the smallest possible amount of hissing." How does his comment relate to special interests and the collective-action problem? LO2
