The Americans, 2005 McDougal Littell the Americans Gerald A. Danzer, 1999-07-23 Key Thinkers on Cities Regan Koch, Alan Latham, 2017-05-22

Key Thinkers on Cities provides an engaging introduction to the dynamic intellectual field of urban studies. It profiles the work of 40 innovative thinkers who represent the broad reach of contemporary urban scholarship and whose ideas have shaped the way cities around the world are understood, researched, debated, and acted upon. Providing a synoptic overview that spans a wide range of academic and professional disciplines, theoretical perspectives, and methodological approaches, the entry for each key thinker comprises a succinct introduction and overview, intellectual biography, and research focus. An explication of key ideas, contributions to urban studies, the book offers a fresh look at well-known thinkers who have been foundational to urban scholarship, including Jane Jacobs, Henri Lefebvre, Manuel Castells, and David Harvey. It also incorporates those who have helped to bring a concern for cities to more widespread audiences, such as Jan Gehl, Mike Davis, and Enrique Peñalosa. Notably, the book also includes a range of thinkers who have more recently begun to shape the study of cities through engagements with art, architecture, computer modelling, ethnography, public health, post-colonial theory, and more. With an introduction that provides a mapping of the current transdisciplinary field and individual entries by those currently involved in cutting-edge urban research in the Global North and South, this book promises to be an essential text for anyone interested in the study of cities and urban life. It will be of use to those in the fields of anthropology, economics, geography, sociology, and urban planning.

The New Handbook of Multisensory Processing Barry E. Stein, 2012-06-01

The major reference work for a rapidly advancing field, synthesizes central themes, reports on current findings, and offers a blueprint for future research. Scientists' attempts to understand the physiology underlying our apprehension of the physical world was long dominated by a focus on the individual senses. The 1980s saw the beginning of systematic efforts to examine interactions among different sensory modalities at the level of the single neuron. And by the end of the 1990s, a recognizable and multidisciplinary field of multisensory processes had emerged. More recently, studies involving both human and nonhuman subjects have focused on relationships among multisensory neuronal ensembles and their behavioral, perceptual, and cognitive correlates. The New Handbook of Multisensory Processing synthesizes the central themes in this rapidly developing area, reports on current findings, and offers a blueprint for future research. The contributions, all of them written for this volume by leading experts, reflect the evolution and current state of the field. This handbook does more than simply review the field. Each of the volume's eleven sections broadly surveys a major topic, and each begins with a substantive and thought-provoking commentary by the section editor that identifies the major issues being explored, describes their treatment in the chapters that follow, and sets these findings within the context of the existing body of knowledge. Together, the commentaries and chapters provide an invaluable guide to areas of general agreement, unresolved issues, and topics that remain to be explored in this fast-moving field.

American Purgatory Benjamin D.

Weber,2023-10-03 A groundbreaking look at how America exported mass incarceration around the globe from a rising young historian American Purgatory will forever change how we understand the rise of mass incarceration It will forever change how we understand this country Clint Smith bestselling author of How the Word Is Passed A Reckoning with the History of Slavery Across America In this explosive new book historian Benjamin Weber reveals how the story of American prisons is inextricably linked to the expansion of American power around the globe A vivid work of hidden history that spans the wars to subjugate Native Americans in the mid nineteenth century the conquest of the western territories and the creation of an American empire in Panama Puerto Rico and the Philippines American Purgatory reveals how prison imperialism the deliberate use of prisons to control restive subject populations is written into our national DNA extending through to our modern era of mass incarceration Weber also uncovers a surprisingly rich history of prison resistance from the Seminole Chief Osceola to Assata Shakur one that invites us to rethink the scope of America s long freedom struggle Weber s brilliantly documented text is supplemented by original maps highlighting the global geography of prison imperialism as well as illustrations of key figures in this history by the celebrated artist Ayo Scott For readers of Michelle Alexander s The New Jim Crow here is a bold new effort to tell the full story of prisons and incarceration at home and abroad as well as a powerful future vision of a world without prisons Engineering ,1902 Towards a Brighter Tomorrow Walter R. Allen,Erin Kimura-Walsh,Kimberly A. Griffin,2009-09-01 The book aims to develop a clearer understanding of the influence of social dynamics on the educational opportunities of high school students of color in the urban setting of California s Los Angeles area Specifically we examine how students backgrounds high school experiences and own agency shape their college preparation processes and postsecondary aspirations While some research has been done on high school students college choice process this book is unique in its broad and comparative approach It examines the experiences of students across 10 schools identifying broad themes that are illustrated through specific case studies This approach allows readers to understand the broader issues that face students from underserved backgrounds as they pursue college while illuminating how these issues uniquely manifest themselves in individual school contexts Inequality in Key Skills of City Youth Stephen Lamb,Russell W. Rumberger,2024-01-01 This groundbreaking research volume addresses the topic of educational inequality from a global perspective It includes 16 chapters from an international group of scholars who examine how well city school systems from around the world are preparing young people particularly poor and minority students with the skills they will need for further study work and life overall While skills in key domains such as science math language and civics have been center stage in international comparisons there has been growing recognition of the effects that education has on the development of broader sets of capabilities such as social and emotional skills also known as noncognitive or 21st century skills that can affect the success of students in school and beyond This volume aims to address the shortage of international data on the wide range of skills that students need to learn enabling researchers to compare the types and causes of
