Phenomenology of Anxiety Stefano Micali,2022-03-30 This volume offers a thorough description of anxiety from a phenomenological perspective Building on Bakhtin s insights the author develops the method of phenomenological polyphony which can do justice to the essential ambiguity of anxiety In this polyphony the voices of Kierkegaard Husserl Freud

Blumenberg Heidegger Sartre Adorno Derrida and Levinas are particularly recognizable The book explores new perspectives on the complex relation between anxiety fear and trauma with reference to different disciplines from art history to cultural anthropology from psychopathology to theology from literature to political philosophy When is anxiety justified When does anxiety cease to function as an effective and reasonable signal preventing imminent threats and when does it become an invasive projection of our own ghosts This volume presents a deep philosophical inquiry into the affective phenomenon that can both protect us from danger and be a danger in itself Moreover the author explores the relevance of anxiety in the context of philosophical anthropology In various theoretical frameworks the difference between anxiety and fear serves as a criterion for distinguishing human beings from animals in particular Accordingly research on anxiety is crucial for defining human nature as such The analysis presented in this volume shows how an alteration of the dimensions of embodiment time consciousness and phantasy takes place in anxiety Furthermore the author elaborates on new categories for understanding of anxiety such as quasi intentional imaginative anticipation which eludes the traditional differentiation between perception and imagination The work culminates in a phenomenological analysis of five essential traits of anxiety 1 its quasi intentional imaginative anticipation 2 its negative inspiration 3 the recurrence of bodily manifestations 4 the interlocution with an alien power 5 its negative teleology

Whitewash and the New Aesthetic of the Protestant Reformation Victoria George, 2013-12-31 This book is a reconsideration of the practice of whitewashing church interiors during the Protestant Reformation in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries It is the first detailed study of its kind which challenges the view that whitewash was always only a cheap coat of paint Victoria George pulls together several histories of the colour white from the biblical period to the present and ideas about the colour white in philosophy theology art and architecture from antiquity to the present She links them to case studies of the ways in which reformers Huldrych Zwingli and John Calvin thought about colour in a careful analysis of the role of colour thinking in their theological writings The social meanings embodied in the word whitewash as it entered the printed media in the 17th century is explored as part of a chapter on the history of whitewashing itself The long term symbolic and aesthetic implications of the practice of whitewashing are examined in the larger context of material culture in terms of their value as a metaphor for both the Reformed Protestant and the Catholic in opposition to them and for the uses to which whitewash has been put over time George proposes that the practice was not only visually transformative but held importance for religious aesthetics as an agent of change and for an aesthetics of minimalism generally especially evident in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Victoria George received an MFA from the Royal College of Art London an MA from The Architectural Association and a Ph D from Cambridge She has taught religion and the arts at the University of Richmond in Virginia
