Screen Tastes Charlotte Brunsdon, 2005-07-26 Charlotte Brunsdon's key writings on film and television are brought together with new introductions which contextualise and update the arguments. The focus is on the tastes and pleasures of the female consumer as she is produced by popular film and television. British Books, 1904 English Studies Reinard Willem Zandvoort, 1920 The Publishers' Circular, 1837 The Evangelical Magazine and Missionary Chronicle, 1821

Islands and Captivity in Popular Culture Laura J. Getty, 2021-07-20 The choices that individuals make in moments of crisis can transform them. By focusing on fictional characters trapped on fictional islands, the book examines how individuals react when forced to make hard choices within the liminal space of a prison island. At stake is the perception of choice: do characters believe that they have the power to choose or do they think that they are at the mercy of fate? The results reveal certain patterns: psychological, historical, social, and political, that exist across a variety of popular public cultures and time periods. This book focuses on how the interplay between liminality and the Locus of Control theory creates dynamic sites of negotiated meaning. This psychological concept has never before been used for literary analysis. Offered here as an alternative to the defects of Freudian psychology, the Locus of Control theory has been proven reliable in thousands of studies, and the results have been found with few exceptions to be consistent in both women and men. That consistency is explored through close readings of islands found in popular culture books, films, and television shows, with suggestions for future research. Evangelical Magazine and Missionary Chronicle, 1821

Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 1994 The Churchman, 1903 The Cultural Politics of Analytic Philosophy Thomas L. Akehurst, 2011-10-20 The Cultural Politics of Analytic Philosophy examines three generations of analytic philosophers who, between them, founded the modern discipline of analytic philosophy in Britain. The book explores how philosophers such as Bertrand Russell, A. J. Ayer, Gilbert Ryle, and Isaiah Berlin believed in a link between German aggression in the twentieth century and the nineteenth-century philosophy of Hegel and Nietzsche. Thomas L. Akehurst thus identifies in this political critique of continental philosophy the origins of the hugely significant faultline between analytic and continental thought, an aspect of twentieth-century philosophy that is still poorly understood. The book also uncovers a tripartite alliance in British analytic philosophy between nation, political virtue, and philosophical method. In revealing this structure behind the assumptions of certain analytical thinkers, Akehurst challenges the conventional wisdom that sees analytic philosophy as a semi-detached, narrowly academic pursuit. On the contrary, this important book suggests that the analytic philosophers were espousing a national philosophy; one they believed operated in harmony with British thinking and the British values of liberty and tolerance. Intercultural Screen Adaptation Michael Stewart, 2020-03-27 Intercultural Screen Adaptation offers a wide-ranging examination of how film and television adaptations and non-adaptations interact with the cultural, social, and political environments of their national, transnational, and post-national contexts. With screen adaptations examined from across Britain Europe South America and Asia this book tests how examining the processes of adaptation across and within national frameworks challenges traditional debates around the concept of nation in film media and cultural studies With case studies of films such as Under the Skin 2013 and T2 Trainspotting 2017 as well as TV adaptations like War and Peace 2016 and Narcos 2015 2017 Intercultural Screen Adaptation offers readers an invigorating look at adaptations from a variety of critical perspectives incorporating the uses of landscape nostalgia and translation Bibliotheca Britannica Robert Watt,1824 Literary Gazette and Journal of Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, Etc William Jerdan,William Ring Workman,Frederick Arnold,John Morley,Charles Wycliffe Goodwin,1827 The London Literary Gazette and Journal of Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, Etc ,1825 Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects Royal Institute of British Architects,1916 Belle Assemblée ,1819 Publishers' Circular ,1837 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1895 University Wine Course Marian W.
